Parlando

1. I know a lovely cross-eyed girl With freckles on her cheeks,
   Though millions never make me proud, The simplest cats I buy;

2. My nose is red, her eyes are green, She stutters when she speaks, Squab and lobster I could have, I choose a round steak fry;

living man, how-ever gay, Would care to lead my girl a-stray; I too-ly lend to ev'-ry friend, For that's an eas-y way to spend, But to know that she'll be true al-way.

whole world loves a lov-er,- love the rich and haugh-ty
So do I! So do I! It
So do I! So do I!

So Do I -3
don't care a rap for the heart-free chap But a-dores the mush-y guy-the hate to be killed by a street car guy, By an au-to let me die!
The with world is cold as ice, I'm told, It don't feed no one pie;

But the kings and queens I might hob-nob But yet I pass 'em by, For love-sick gink makes it wink, I think-

I belong to the com-mon mob,

So do I!
So do I!
So do I!
So do I!
So do I!
So do I!
So do I!
So do I!
