

SM 3381

2

Beautiful Queen Of The Nile.

Lyric by JOHN L. GOLDEN.

Music by RAYMOND HUBBELL.

Moderato.

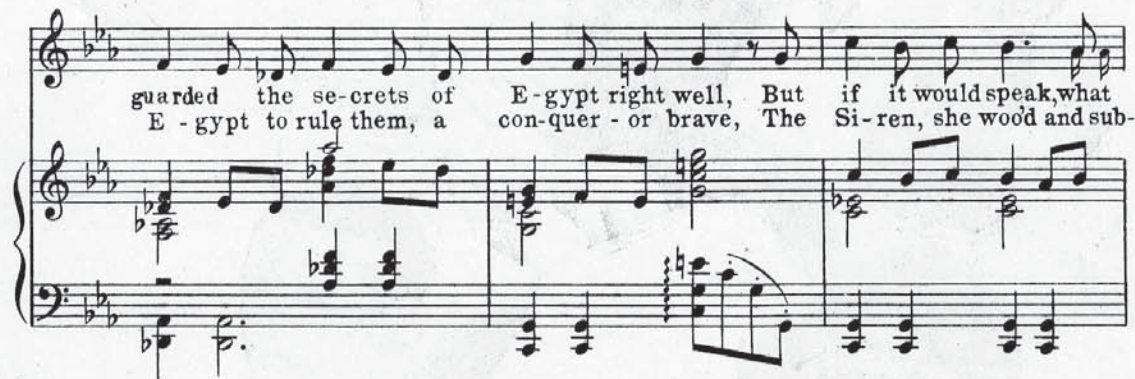

Piano.

The sphinx has been si-lent for thous-ands of years, And When An - to - ny came with his thous-ands of men To guarded the se-crets of E-gypt right well, But if it would speak, what E - gypt to rule them, a con-quer - or brave, The Si-ren, she wood and substo-ries of tears And tales of sweet love it could tell! For -dued him and then The con-quer - or soon was her slave. And 5549-4

Copyright MCMXVII by John L. Golden, Raymond Hubbell & R. H. Burnside, N.Y.
All Rights Reserved. International Copyright Secured.

here in its shad-ow a won-d'rous love came, A sol-dier and si-ren a he who had ruled o-ver Cae-sar him-self, For fair Cle-o-pat-ra was tent for their home, The queen of the Nile, Cle-o-pat-ra, her name And low-ly and mean, Gave up claim for fame, for pow-er or pelf, To

An-thon-y, brav-est of Rome.— He sued her and wooed her o'er love and be loved by his Queen. And swains of to-day sing the

Rit. *

des-ert and o-cean, And this was his song of de-votion.
same old love sto-ry That An-to-ny sang in his glo-ry.

rall.

4 Refrain.
Moderato.

Queen of the Nile, ————— You've made my

mf

life well worth while. —————

3

Some-how some way — Some time and some day — I'll pray that I'll win — your smile — For my crown I gave To be your own hum - ble slave

Here dear with you on this isle - My beau - ti - ful Queen -

1 of the Nile. Nile. 2

