Foreword

Crime in Arizona is the result of a combined effort by our state's law enforcement agencies to collect and organize data relating to the problem of crime which we face.

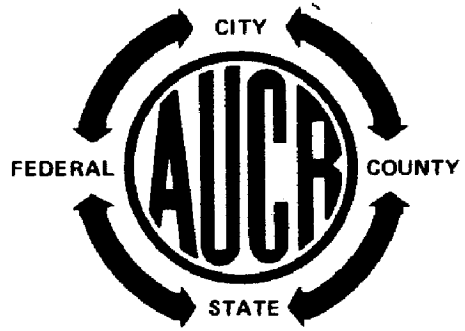

The purpose of the publication is to expose the nature and extent of crime in Arizona, to guide the criminal justice system in its efforts to combat crime and to prompt the citizen action that is necessary if we are to prevent and control crime in our society.

Crime is a social disease. It affects everyone. All of society is concerned with its control.

To provide an effective defense against crime it is vital that every citizen unites with law enforcement authorities. To flourish, crime needs the apathy of the community. If apathy is replaced with hostility to crime, that ability to flourish is greatly reduced.

We hope this publication will help arouse that hostility to crime in the Arizona community.

The Arizona Uniform Crime Reporting System

INTRODUCTION

The third year of publication of the AUCR Report adds a further dimension to crime reporting in Arizona. The capability of delineating three years of crime statistics will aid the user in defining crime rates and making analyses and comparisons.

The AUCR Unit is in a continual process of refining and adding more meaningful information to assist the users in their fight against crime.

HISTORY OF ARIZONA UNIFORM CRIME REPORTING

The AUCR Unit first began receiving quantitative crime statistics from Arizona police agencies during January 1975. By the close of the calendar year 1977, 78 out of a possible 86 (90.7%) Arizona police agencies were contributing to the AUCR program. An accurate estimate of the exact influence which the missing reports from the 8 nonreporting agencies have on this statistical publication is difficult to assess. These nonreporting agencies represent a combined census population of 22,529 or less than 1 percent of the total population.

The evaluation of the significance of the crime statistical resource must be made by the local community institutions, organizations and police agencies of the state. These segments of society can determine the worth of the AUCR system by their applied use of the resource in deterring, reducing and preventing community crime. Only then can this system assume that it has begun to meet its stated intent.

INTENT OF THE SYSTEM

The intent of the Arizona Uniform Crime Reporting (AUCR) System is to supply Arizona communities, agencies, institutions and organizations with a resource of quantitative crime statistics which they can use, efficiently and effectively, to deter, reduce and prevent crime.

OBJECTIVES OF THE SYSTEM

The scope of this system shall be to produce a reliable set of state quantitative crime statistics which measure the extent, fluctuation and distribution of serious crime in Arizona.

The extent of the conditions and performance of the AUCR Unit, Department of Public Safety, shall be limited to the intent set forth by Statute (ARS 41-1750), and as defined in the Governor's Executive Order 68-3, dated November 15, 1968.

LIMITATIONS OF THE PUBLICATION

The statistics listed in this publication are the most accurate data currently available.

The interpretation of crime statistics frequently results in a controversy as to the accuracy of the comparison and how these statistics were compiled. We ask that great care be taken in analysis and interpretation.

The following factors have a major influence on the statistics presented in this publication.

1. Crime figures presented in this publication are police statistics as distinguished from judicial or penal statistics.
2. Actual crimes represent violations of Arizona statutes.
3. Some police jurisdictions overlap.
4. Crime rates, as used in the AUCR program, are based on census-fixed residential populations of police jurisdictions.
5. Arizona Indians living on reservations are not counted in AUCR population figures, although they are included in the state's population figures.
6. Some juveniles are informally handled which affects the accuracy of the reported juvenile offenses.

20. Suspicion (not reported in Arizona)
21. Curfew and Loitering Law Violations
22. Runaways

PROCEDURES AND METHODS

Each contributing agency is responsible for compiling its own reports. To aid in this endeavor, the Arizona UCR supplemental guide manual is supplied to all contributors. This manual outlines reporting procedures in detail and is complete with examples and illustrations. Additionally, the AUCR Field Representatives provide instruction and clarification as required. Each agency is supplied with a complete set of forms yearly. These forms are used by the agencies when they submit their reports to the AUCR system.

PORTRAIT AND PROFILE OF ARIZONA

Arizona, with 113,909 square miles, is the sixth largest state in the United States. Much of this area is owned by the Federal Government in the form of Indian reservations, National Parks, and National Forests. Arizona is 69% federally owned; 27% of that federal ownership is in the form of Indian reservations. The state owns 13%, leaving 18% to private ownership.

Arizona has two principal geographical locations containing a dense conglomerate of people - the city of Tucson with 306,500 people, and Phoenix, the capital city, with a population of 682,200. More than 43 percent of the 2,296,270 people who live in Arizona, live in these two cities.

One of the unique characteristics of Arizona is its temperate climate. This factor has contributed to the state's rapid population and economic growth. The population median age is 29.1 years, while the median age for the United States is 27.7 years. The state's population density is 20 persons per square mile, with a total population of 2,296,270. This figure includes the Indians living on the reservations within the state.

With reference to the economic aspects of the state, manufacturing produces more income for Arizonans than any other facet of our economy. Mining is the second largest industry, agricultural production third, and tourism fourth.

These factors should be considered when reviewing the statistical information presented in this publication.

The following population distribution grouping factor has some influence on the volume and type of crime displayed in this Annual Report.

The cities, towns and counties within the state have been divided into seven (7) groups according to population size. The seventh group (ungrouped) is provided for identification of volume and type of crime (Part I crimes) to account for total offenses. The following is the grouping explanation.

GROUP NR.

- 1 Over 250,000 population. There are only two (2) cities that fall within this group.
- 2 100,001 to 250,000 population. There are four (4) cities and counties that fall within this group.
- 3 50,001 to 100,000 population. There are three (3) cities and counties that fall within this group.
- 4 25,001 to 50,000 population. There are nine (9) cities and counties that fall within this group.
- 5 10,001 to 25,000 population. There are eight (8) cities, towns, or counties that fall within this group.
- 6 10,000 or less population. There are forty-five (45) cities, towns, or counties that fall within this group.
- 7 Ungrouped. There are seven (7) reporting agencies that by definition do not have measurable population. For purposes of this report, they are combined for the crimes by population distribution.

The following is a population group and Justice Planning Region listing of law enforcement agencies submitting crime data to the Uniform Crime Reporting Unit, Arizona Department of Public Safety.

Criminal Homicide

ANALYSIS

In 1977, Arizona agencies reported 215 criminal homicides, an increase of 24.3 percent over 1976. The month of January had the highest frequency of murders, with 29. There were 176,346 index crimes reported and the crime of murder made up .1 percent of these offenses, and 1.9 percent of the 11,232 violent crimes.

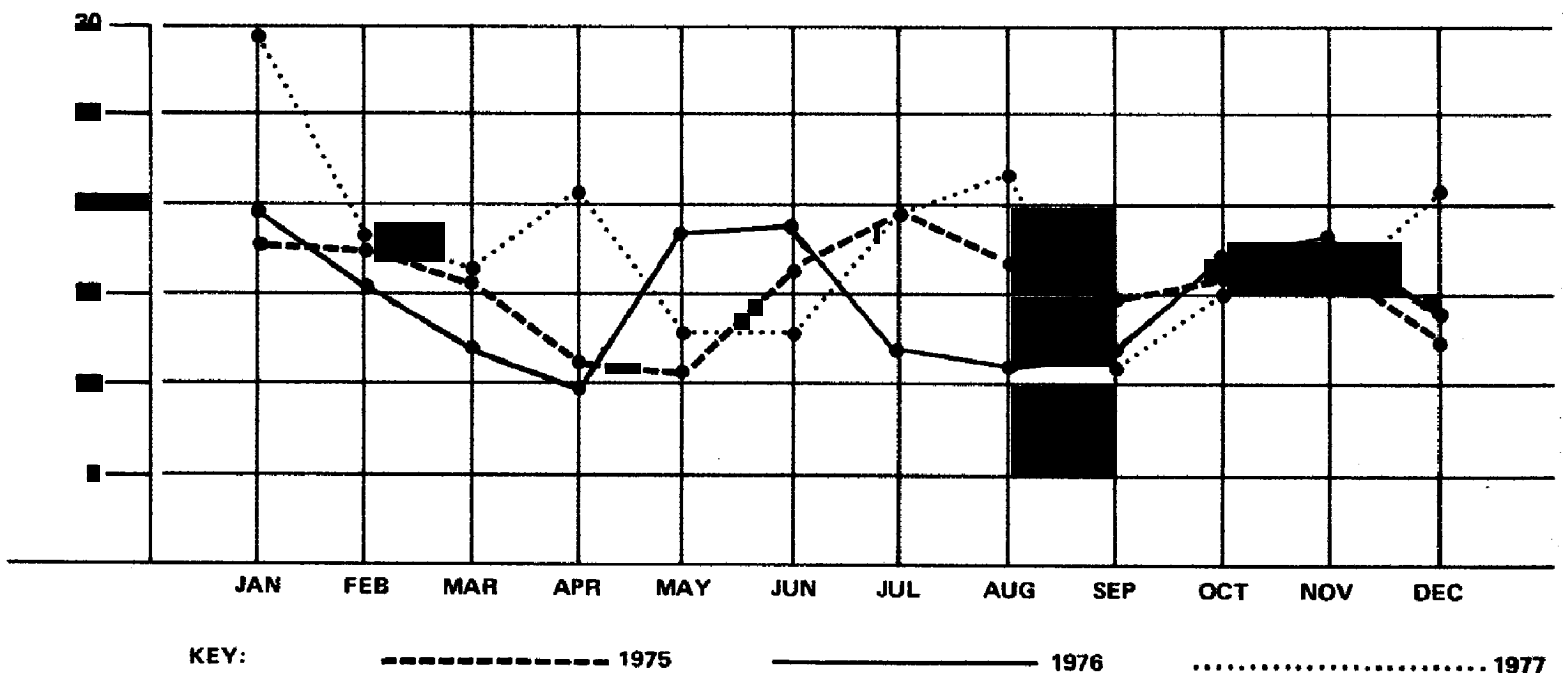

There were .09 murders for every 1,000 Arizona residents. The weapon most often used to commit these murders was the firearm, which was used to commit 59.1 percent of the murders. Information was gathered on the type of firearm, and it was shown that 76.4 percent of the firearms were handguns. Cutting or stabbing instruments were used to commit 16.3 percent of the murders. Other weapons (blunt objects, poisons, explosives, arson, drowning, etc.) were used in the commission of 18.1 percent of the homicides. All other murders were committed through the use of personal weapons such as hands, fists, feet, etc. These amounted to 6.5 percent.

Relevant to the 215 actual offenses of criminal homicide, 178 or 82.8 percent of these offenses were cleared by arrest or exceptional means.

Rape

ANALYSIS

Forcible rape and attempts to commit forcible rape accounted for 781 of Arizona's actual 176,346 index crimes reported in 1977. Of this number, 561 were actual forcible rapes, and 220 were attempts to commit forcible rape. There were 11,232 violent crimes in 1977 and the offense of rape made up 7 percent of those crimes.

There were 417 cases of rape cleared by arrest or exceptional means. This accounted for 53.4 percent of the actual offenses. Juveniles accounted for 12.5 percent of the clearances.

Aggravated Assault

ANALYSIS

There were 7,081 aggravated assaults in the state in 1977 - 3.0 assaults for every 1,000 Arizonans. The largest number of these assaults were committed in the month of November, with 697. Personal weapons, such as hands, fists and feet etc., predominated as the weapon most frequently used to commit an aggravated assault. These types of personal weapons were used to carry out 32.3 percent of the aggravated assaults.

Firearms were used in 23.1 percent of the assaults, knife or cutting instruments in 19.0 percent, and the remaining 25.6 percent were committed with the use of other dangerous weapons such as clubs, tire irons, etc. The aggravated assaults accounted for 4.0 percent of the index crimes and 63.0 percent of the violent crimes.

During 1977, 4,437 or 62.7 percent of the 7,081 actual offenses of assault were cleared by either arrest or exceptional means.

Glossary of Terms

QUANTITATIVE CRIME STATISTICS — The use of numbers to measure and express a mathematical quantity. This phrase implies results expressed in numbers rather than descriptive phrases.

CRIME ANALYSIS — Statements relating to type and nature of crimes and rates of occurrence and distribution in Arizona, but not comparisons of agencies or causes.

CRIME RATE — A figure which represents the number of crimes committed known to the police for each 1,000 population.

CRIME INDEX — Or Index Crimes, refers to the seven major crimes or Part I crimes, which are: Homicide and Nonnegligent Manslaughter, Rape, Robbery, Aggravated Assault, Burglary, Larceny-Theft, and Motor Vehicle Theft. Note: The "Other Assaults" - simple, not aggravated, are not Part I, or Index Crimes, but are collected on the Return A for quality control purposes, and to give a complete picture of total assault activity.

PERCENT OF DISTRIBUTION — The numeric value expressed in percent of the total number of occurrences.

CLEARANCE BY ARREST — The perpetrator of an offense has been apprehended.

CLEARANCE BY EXCEPTIONAL MEANS — The person(s) who committed the offense has been identified; there is sufficient information to support an arrest, charge and prosecution; his whereabouts are known; and for some reason beyond police control he cannot be arrested.

PART I OFFENSE — Any of the crimes on Form A. These crimes occur most frequently in the United States and subsequently generate the most interest. These crimes are Homicide, Rape, Assault, Robbery, Burglary, Larceny-Theft and Motor Vehicle Theft.

PART II CRIMES — All crimes other than Part I offenses. We do not report Part II crimes unless an arrest is made.

JUVENILE — A person under the age of 18 years.

ADULT — A person 18 years of age or older.

OFFENSES KNOWN — Those offenses that come to the attention of the police by report or investigation.

UNFOUNDED — A reported offense that is found to be false or baseless as the end result of police investigation. (Not the findings of the courts.)

ACTUAL OFFENSE — Those known or reported offenses that actually occurred.

AUCR PROCESS:

Classify - Finding the proper offense category from the available facts.

Score - Counting and recording the number of offenses committed during the commission of an unlawful set of events.

Return or Report - The required forms, from A through F that are submitted by the individual agencies each month, and forms G and H, submitted annually. The entire collection of forms submitted is referred to as the Monthly Return. (See sample forms, Appendix D)

Verify or Verification - The process that the Monthly Return goes through to ascertain the accuracy of the contributed information. This verification is performed by UCR personnel on the state level.

Monthly Facsimile Printout - Reproduces agency input by form. Used to authenticate the accuracy of computer input.

AUCR PERSONNEL:

Field Representative - The designation of civilian personnel, who travel about the state making personal contact with the individual agencies. This person instructs UCR, verifies and acts as liaison between the state and federal government.

Clerk Verifier - This person verifies returns and acts in the facilitation of any administrative function within the UCR Unit.

Arizona Revised Statutes
(41-1750 Criminal Identification Section; duties)

A. There shall be a criminal identification section within the Department of Public Safety.

*B. The criminal identification section shall:

1. Procure and maintain records of photographs, descriptions, fingerprints, dispositions and such other information as may be pertinent to all persons who have been arrested for or convicted of a public offense within the state.

*2. Collect information concerning the number and nature of offenses known to have been committed in the state, of the legal steps taken in connection therewith, and such other information as shall be useful in the study of crime in the administration of justice.

3. Cooperate with the criminal identification bureaus in other states and with the appropriate agency of the federal government in the exchange of information pertinent to violators of the law. In addition, the criminal identification section shall provide for the rapid exchange of information concerning the commission of crime and the detection of violators of the law, between the law enforcement agencies of this state and its political subdivisions and the law enforcement agencies of other states and of the federal government.

4. Furnish assistance to peace officers throughout the state in crime scene investigations for the detection of latent fingerprints, and in the comparison thereof.

5. Provide information from its records to law enforcement agencies of the state or its political subdivisions upon request by the chief officer of such agency or his authorized representative. Such information shall be used only for purposes of law enforcement.

6. Provide information from its records to courts, prosecutors or correctional agencies of the state or its political subdivisions upon request by the chief officer of such agency or his authorized representative. Such information shall be used only for purposes of the criminal justice system.

7. Provide information from its records relating to convictions for public offenses to nonlaw enforcement agencies of the state or its political subdivisions upon request by the chief officer of such agency or his authorized representative, for the purpose of evaluating the fitness of prospective employees of such agency. Such information shall be used only for the purpose of such evaluation.

8. Provide information from its records relating to convictions for public offenses to licensing and regulatory agencies of the state or its political subdivisions upon request by the chief officer of such agency or his authorized representative, for the purpose of evaluating the fitness of prospective licensees. Such information shall be used only for the purpose of such evaluation.

9. Provide information from its records relating to arrests or convictions for public offenses to the subject of such information, or to his attorney at the request of the subject, and when accompanied by proper identification.

*C. The chief officers of law enforcement agencies of the state or its political subdivisions shall provide to the criminal identification section such information concerning crimes and persons arrested for or convicted of public offenses within the state as the chief of the criminal identification section, with the approval of the director, shall deem useful for the study or prevention of crime and for the administration of justice.

D. Any person who releases or procures the release of information held by the criminal identification section other than as provided by this section, or who uses such information for a purpose other than as provided by this section, is guilty of a misdemeanor.

E. The chief of the criminal identification section may, with the written approval of the director and in the manner prescribed by law, remove and destroy such records as he determines are no longer of value in the detection or prevention of crime.

*F. The chief of the criminal identification section, subject to the approval of the director, shall make and issue rules and regulations relating to the procurement and dissemination of information, in the manner prescribed by law.

G. All non-law enforcement agencies of the state or its political subdivisions may establish by rule, regulation or ordinance the need for fingerprint or background investigations for purposes of employment or licensing and may, thereafter, utilize the criminal identification section of the Department of Public Safety in accordance with subsection F. Added Laws 1968, Ch. 209, § 1, effective July 1, 1969, as amended Laws 1972, Ch. 39, § 1.

*Sections B.2., C, and F apply directly to UCR.
