DATES ANNOUNCED FOR ASMTA STUDY PROGRAM EVALUATIONS IN PIANO

Mrs. Kathryn Pooler, Chairman, State Accreditation Board, has announced that approximately 400 young pianists are currently enrolled in the Arizona Study Program for Piano. Those students from this total number who have been placed in Category A by their teachers will be evaluated in May. Students who have been assigned to Category B or Category C by their teachers will not be evaluated by the adjudicators appointed by the State Accreditation Board.

Students in Phoenix Area

Evaluation for students in the Phoenix area will be held on the campus of Arizona State University in Tempe on Saturday, May 19th. Professor James Anthony, The University of Arizona, Tucson will serve as the adjudicator.

Students in Tucson Area

Evaluation for students in the Tucson area will take place on Saturday, May 19th at The School of Music, The University of Arizona. Professor Arnold Bullock, Arizona State University, has been selected as the adjudicator.

Students in Yuma Area

Evaluation for the Western District will be held at the Studio of Mrs. Audrey Bart Brown in Yuma on Saturday, May 5th. Professor James Anthony, The University of Arizona, will serve as the adjudicator.

Other faculty members of the Universities in the area of piano will be selected if additional adjudicators are required for either the Phoenix or Tucson areas.

What Teachers Should Do:

Teachers who have students enrolled in the Arizona Study Program for Piano should meet the deadline established for each of the following:

1. By March 15th mail to Mrs. Kathryn Pooler, Chairman, State Accreditation Board, 2604 La Cienega Drive, Tucson, information about two important things:

- (a.) The year or the Study Program in which the student is enrolled (Piano I, Piano IV, etc.)
- (b.) The category in which the student has been placed by his teacher (Category A, B, or C).

2. Remember that only students placed in Category A will be evaluated in May. The very modest evaluation fee of $1.00 per student must be enclosed for those students listed in Category A. This evaluation fee which has been kept to a minimum is to be collected from each student but sent as a group at the time the list is mailed.

3. No special form is needed. Be sure the information sent includes the name and complete mailing address for each student listed as well as the name and address of the teacher.

4. Individual Study Sheets for each student should be forwarded to Mrs. Pooler as soon as the student has completed the study assignments in his category. In any case, study sheets must be completed and mailed not later than June 30th. As soon as these sheets are received certificates will be mailed to participating teachers for presentation to their students.

5. Requests for Theory Examination must be made for students in Category B and Category C. Students in Category A are required to take the theory exams as a part of their evaluation in May. Students in the other two Categories may take the written theory exams at the time of the State Evaluation in May if they elect to do so. A special badge will be given to each student who takes and passes the Theory Examination (see page 2 for information about the Theory Examination).

6. A complete schedule of appearances for the May Evaluation of Students in Category A will be prepared and mailed to each teacher taking part in the Arizona Study Program for Piano. This schedule will reach the teacher well in advance of the May dates.

7. Teachers who have questions about any phase of the study program in Piano or the May Evaluations should write directly to Mrs. Kathryn Pooler (Address given above). The Accreditation Board will also be most happy to receive any constructive suggestions for improving the Study Program in Piano.

CODE OF ETHICS

We, the members of the ARIZONA STATE MUSIC TEACHERS ASSOCIATION, having dedicated ourselves to the advancement of music and the growth of young musicians, recommend the following principles of ethical practice as standards of professional conduct.

1. Association members should maintain their studios on a strictly business basis by requiring that tuition be paid in advance; that no lessons be made up unless reasonable notice is given by the student with a good excuse, and that no deductions be made for missed lessons. These regulations should accompany all statements and other literature intended for patrons.

2. Under no circumstances should an Association member make direct or indirect solicitation of other teachers' students.

3. An Association member should not accept a student of another teacher until definite proof is given that the student has severed relations with his former teacher, and that his tuition has been paid in full.

4. An Association member should not announce in the press a new student as his own until the student has at least six months of lessons under his instruction, although such students may enter auditions.

5. A student of an Association member should not announce himself as a student of any teacher with whom he has studied less than six months unless the exact time is stated.

6. An Association member should maintain a dignified silence about the work of other teachers, unless that which he can say is good; thus exemplifying the Golden Rule.

Any unethical conduct shall be reported to the State Executive Board.

In 1961 the Arizona State Music Teachers Association established an Accreditation Plan for private music teachers. This Accreditation Plan sets up professional criteria which gives the public a basis for selecting teachers who can provide competent instruction. At the present time only teachers of piano are accredited, but accreditation will be expanded to cover other areas.

Accredited teachers have met comprehensive requirements both in the examination of their students and in their own preparation and education. Their students are enrolled in the Arizona Study Program which is an important phase of the over-all state accreditation plan. This Study Program outlines consecutive requirements for year by year music study, emphasizing continuing musical growth and development for the individual student. At the end of the teaching season each student is evaluated in terms of solo performance, technic and theory. The adjudicators for these evaluations are faculty members of the music departments of our state universities and colleges.

Many teachers use the Study Program for their students even though the teacher has not to date completed requirements for state accreditation. Both Parents and Teachers find that the planned work and required evaluations assure musical achievement for each pupil.

The Arizona Study Program

The Arizona Study Program in Piano is in its seventh year of providing an appropriate, consecutive, and comprehensive plan of music study for students who wish to use the piano as a medium of musical performance. ASMTA members may use the study program as a means of fulfilling one of the essential qualifications for recognition as an accredited teacher of piano. The Arizona Study Program in Piano and the state plan for accrediting private teachers are both under the supervision of the State Accreditation Board. Persons desiring information concerning either the Study Program or the Accreditation Plan should write directly to Mrs. Thomas McCurnin, 4256 East Whittier, Tucson, Arizona 85711.

The names of teachers participating in the Study Program in Piano for the 1967-68 teaching season as well as those teachers accredited by the Arizona State Music Teachers Association are indicated appropriately on the following pages.

CODE OF ETHICS

We, the members of the ARIZONA STATE MUSIC TEACHERS ASSOCIATION, having dedicated ourselves to the advancement of music and the growth of young musicians, recommend the following principles of ethical practice as standards of professional conduct.

1. Association members should maintain their studios on a strictly business basis by requiring that tuition be paid in advance; that no lessons be made up unless reasonable notice is given by the student with a good excuse, and that no deductions be made for missed lessons. These regulations should accompany all statements and other literature intended for patrons.

2. Under no circumstances should an Association member make direct or indirect solicitation of other teachers' students.

3. An Association member should not accept a student of another teacher until definite proof is given that the student has severed relations with his former teacher, and that his tuition has been paid in full.

4. An Association member should not announce in the press a new student as his own until the student has at least six months of lessons under his instruction, although such students may enter auditions.

5. A student of an Association member should not announce himself as a student of any teacher with whom he has studied less than six months unless the exact time is stated.

6. An Association member should maintain a dignified silence about the work of other teachers, unless that which he can say is good; thus exemplifying the Golden Rule.

Any unethical conduct shall be reported to the State Executive Board.

1977 DIRECTORY of NATIONALLY CERTIFIED TEACHERS

FOREWORD

The teachers listed in these pages have fulfilled the MTNA requirements for National Certification. They are recognized by MTNA for their competence as musicians and teachers. In order to maintain their status as Nationally Certified teachers they are required to upgrade their teaching competency every five years through study, teacher and/or student performance, involvement in MTNA and its programs and in other ways.

The National Certification Board in compiling this list wishes to recognize the teachers who work to attain certification and improve their professional status.

We anticipate that this publication will be of value to prospective students of music who desire assistance in securing a qualified teacher.

THE ARIZONA STUDY PROGRAM

The Arizona Study Program in Piano is in its sixteenth year of providing an appropriate, consecutive, and comprehensive plan of music study for students who wish to use the piano as a medium of musical performance. ASMTA members may use the Study Program as a means of fulfilling one of the essential qualifications of recognition as an accredited teacher of piano. The Arizona Study Program in Piano and the state plan for accrediting private teachers are both under the supervision of the State Accreditation Board. Persons desiring information concerning either the Study Program or the Accreditation Plan should write directly to Janice McCurnin, 4256 East Whittier, Tucson, 85711.

STATE ACCREDITATION BOARD

The State Accreditation Board administers the teacher accreditation plan in the various branches of music. It is comprised of college and university music faculty members and studio music teachers who have completed all requirements in the State Accreditation Plan and have been granted accreditation. The Study Program is an important part of the Accreditation Plan because it offers comprehensive study activities annually for students and in-service educational opportunities in the form of workshops, auditions, and professional meetings for teachers. Members of the State Accreditation Board are listed below:

CHAIRPERSON

Janice McCurnin, Independent Teacher Tucson

MEMBERS

Class of 1978

Dr. James R. Anthony
Beth Hanley
Lorna Schultz, Central District Chairperson

Class of 1979

Dr. Billie Erlings
Gloria Ritt, Southern District Chairperson

CODE OF ETHICS

We, the members of the ARIZONA STATE MUSIC TEACHERS ASSOCIATION, having dedicated ourselves to the advancement of music and the growth of young musicians, recommend the following principles of ethical practice as standards of professional conduct:

1. Under no circumstances should an Association member make direct or indirect solicitation of other teachers' students.
2. An Association member should not accept a student of another teacher until definite proof is given that the student has severed relations with his former teacher and that his tuition has been paid in full.
3. An Association member should not announce in the press a new student as his own until the student has at least six months of lessons under his instruction, although such students may enter auditions.
4. A student of an Association member should not announce himself as a student of any teacher with whom he has studied less than six months unless the exact time is stated.
5. An Association member should maintain a dignified silence about the work of other teachers unless that which he can say is good; thus exemplifying the Golden Rule.

Any unethical conduct shall be reported to the State Executive Board.

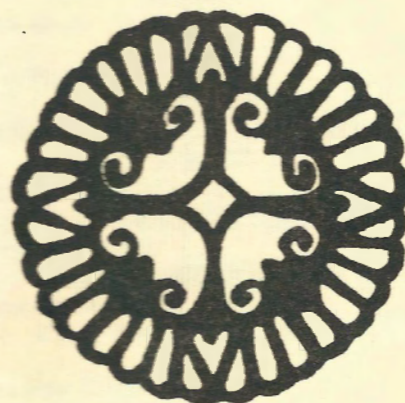

Association members should maintain their studios on a strictly business basis by requiring that tuition be paid in advance, that no lessons be made up unless reasonable notice is given by the student with a good excuse, and that no deductions be made for missed lessons. These regulations should accompany all statements and other literature intended for patrons.

POLICY

AUDITIONS

1. The ASMTA Vice President will be Collegiate Audition Chairperson. High School, Composition, and Baldwin Chairpersons will be appointed by the President.
2. Auditions must be held prior to the State Convention so that winners may participate in the Convention Recital.
3. High School State winners must pass a theory test at the Divisional level.
4. Any student may enter state auditions if he/she has studied with the ASMTA member who enters him/her for at least six months immediately prior to the auditions.
5. A student who withdraws from the auditions must notify the chairperson 24 hours in advance.
6. Each State student winner will receive financial assistance for transportation to Divisional Auditions which are held out of state.
7. No funds will be provided for accompanists or second pianists at state level. Teachers may not accompany their own students. Accompanists and second pianists will be provided at the Division Auditions if music is sent to the Division Audition Chairperson at least two weeks in advance.
8. Only persons who are competent and knowledgeable in their field will be asked to judge.

THE ARIZONA STUDY PROGRAM

The Arizona Study Program in Piano is in its seven-teenth year of providing an appropriate, consecutive, and comprehensive plan of music study for students who wish to use the piano as a medium of musical performance. ASMTA members may use the Study Program as a means of fulfilling one of the essential qualifications of recognition as an accredited teacher of piano. The Arizona Study Program in Piano and the state plan for accrediting private teachers are both under the supervision of the State Accreditation Board. Persons desiring information concerning either the Study Program or the Accreditation Plan should write directly to Janice McCurnin, 4256 East Whittier, Tucson, 85711.

STATE ACCREDITATION BOARD

The State Accreditation Board administers the teacher accreditation plan in the various branches of music. It is comprised of college and university music faculty members and studio music teachers who have completed all requirements in the State Accreditation Plan and have been granted accreditation. The study Program is an important part of the Accreditation Plan because it offers comprehensive study activities annually for students and in-service educational opportunities in the form of workshops, auditions, and professional meetings for teachers. Members of the State Accreditation Board are listed below:

CODE OF ETHICS

We, the members of the ARIZONA STATE MUSIC TEACHERS ASSOCIATION, having dedicated ourselves to the advancement of music and the growth of young musicians, recommend the following principles of ethical practice as standards of professional conduct:

1. Under no circumstances should an Association member make direct or indirect solicitation of other teachers' students.
2. An Association member should not accept a student of another teacher until definite proof is given that the student has severed relations with his former teacher and that tuition has been paid in full.
3. An Association member should not announce a new student of his own until the student has at least six months of lessons under his instructions.
4. A student of an Association member should not announce himself as a student of any teacher with whom he has studied less than six months unless the exact time is stated.
5. An Association member should maintain a dignified silence about the work of other teachers unless that which he can say is good; thus exemplifying the Golden Rule.

Any unethical conduct shall be reported to the State Executive Board.

Association members should maintain their studios on a strictly business basis by requiring that tuition be paid in advance, that no lessons be made up unless reasonable notice is given by the student with a good excuse, and that no deductions be made for missed lessons. These regulations should accompany all statements and other literature intended for patrons.

1981-82 DIRECTORY of NATIONALLY CERTIFIED TEACHERS

FOREWORD

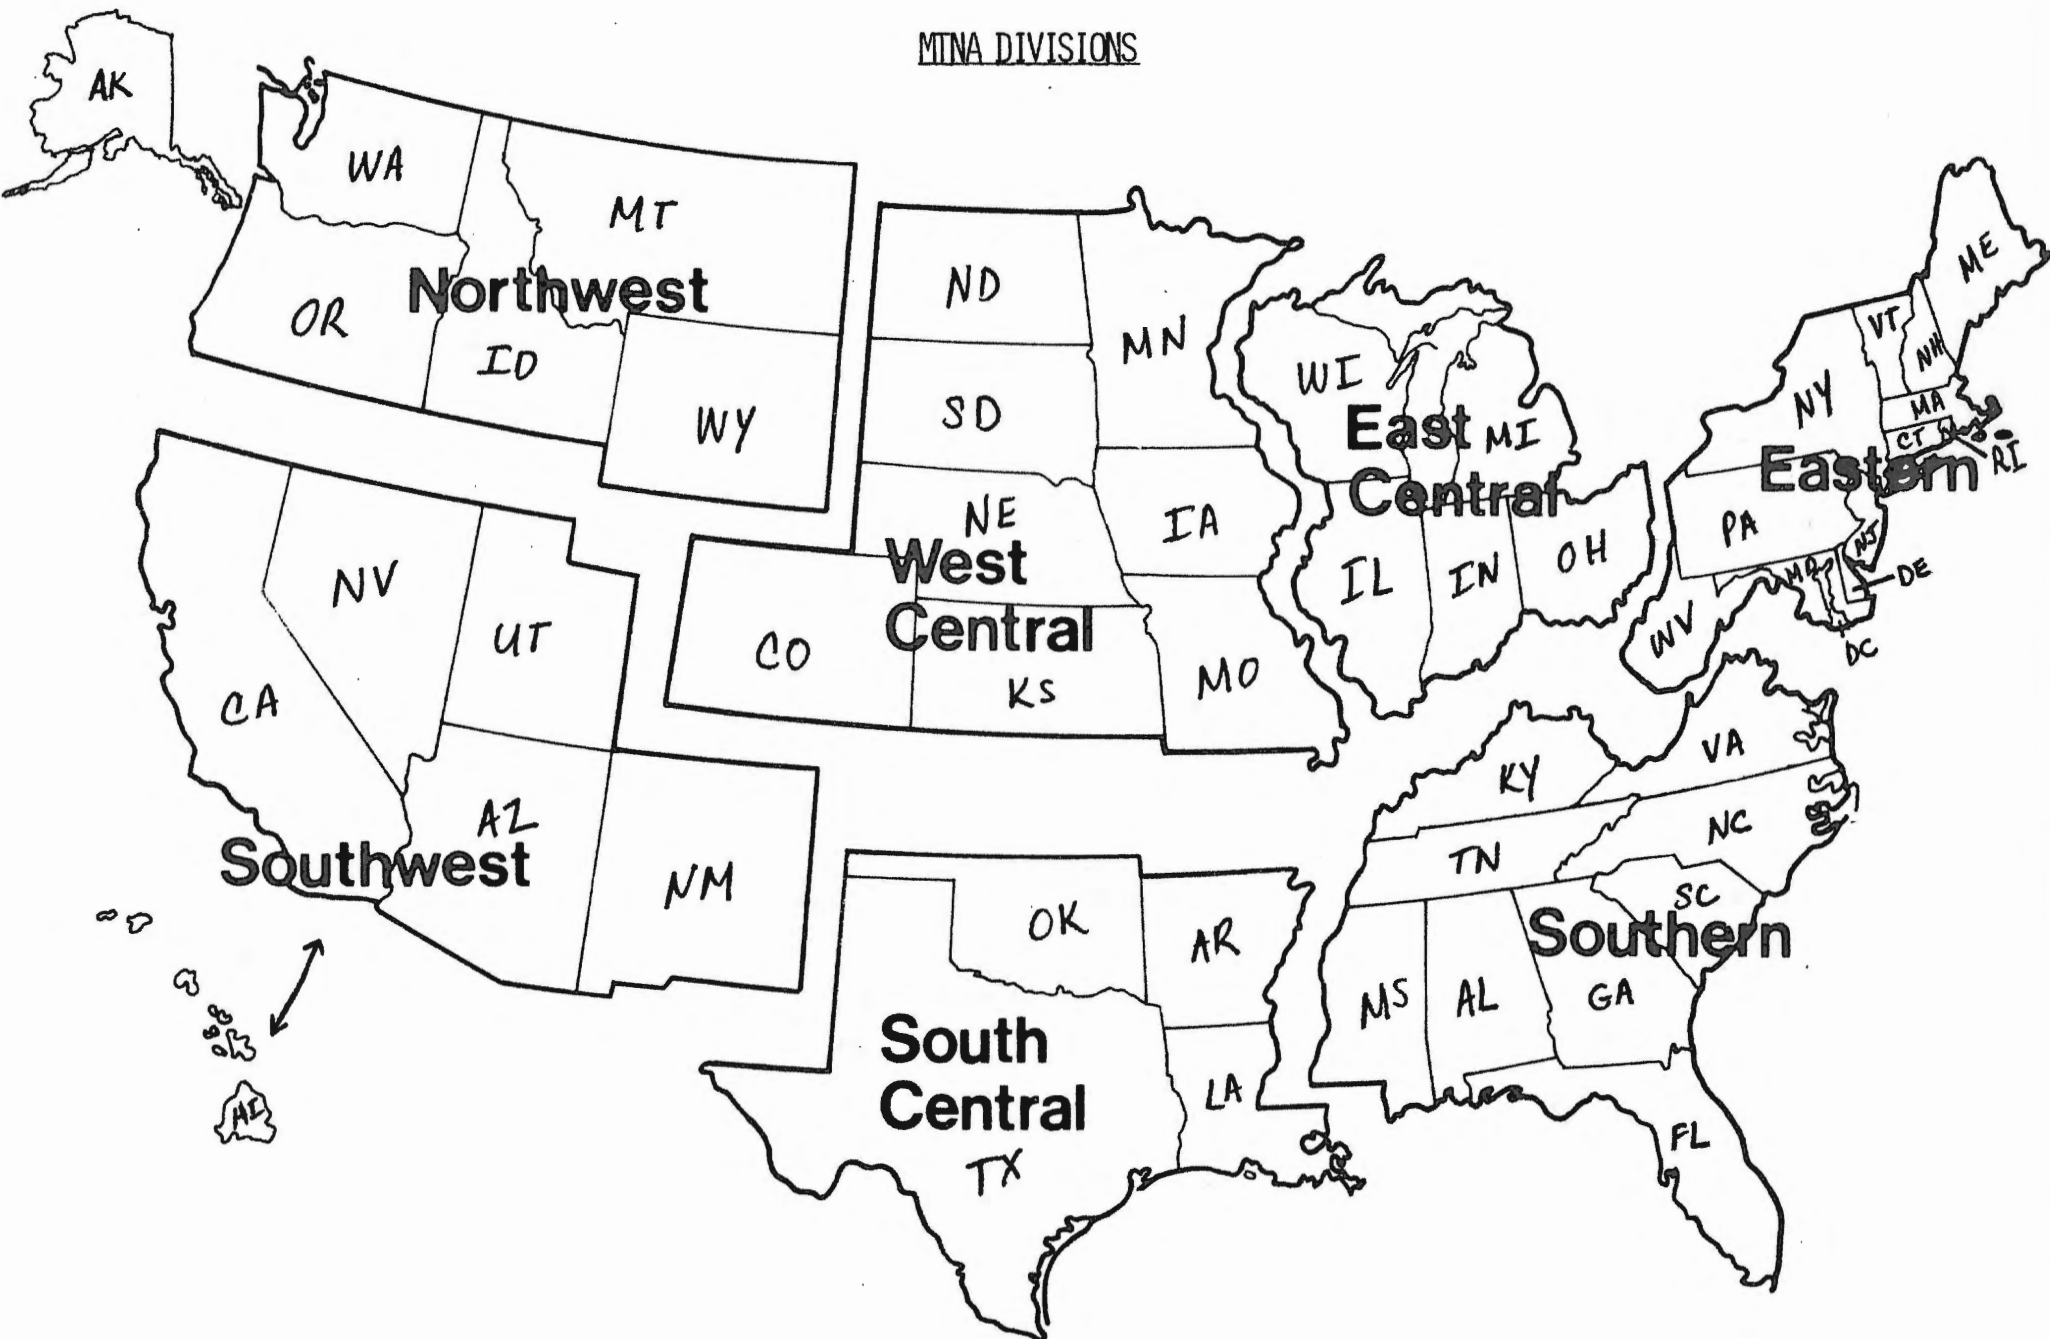

The teachers listed in these pages have fulfilled the MTNA requirements for National Certification. They are recognized by MTNA for their competence as musicians and teachers. In order to maintain their status as Nationally Certified teachers they are required to upgrade their teaching competency every five years through study, teacher and/or student performance, involvement in MTNA and its programs and in other ways.

The National Certification Board in compiling this list wishes to recognize the teachers who work to attain certification and improve their professional status.

We anticipate that this publication will be of value to prospective students of music who desire assistance in securing a qualified teacher.

THE ARIZONA STUDY PROGRAM

The Arizona Study Program in Piano is in its eighteenth year of providing an appropriate, consecutive, and comprehensive plan of music study for students who wish to use the piano as a medium of musical performance. ASMTA members may use the Study Program as a means of fulfilling one of the essential qualifications of recognition as an accredited teacher of piano. The Arizona Study Program in Piano and the state plan for accrediting private teachers are both under the supervision of the State Accreditation Board. Persons desiring information concerning either the Study Program or the Accreditation Plan should write directly to Janice McCurnin, 4256 East Whittier, Tucson, 85711.

STATE ACCREDITATION BOARD

The State Accreditation Board administers the teacher accreditation plan in the various branches of music. It is comprised of college and university music faculty members and studio music teachers who have completed all requirements in the State Accreditation Plan and have been granted accreditation. The study Program is an important part of the Accreditation Plan because it offers comprehensive study activities annually for students and in-service educational opportunities in the form of workshops, auditions, and professional meetings for teachers. 1982-83 DIRECTORY of NATIONALLY CERTIFIED TEACHERS

FOREWORD

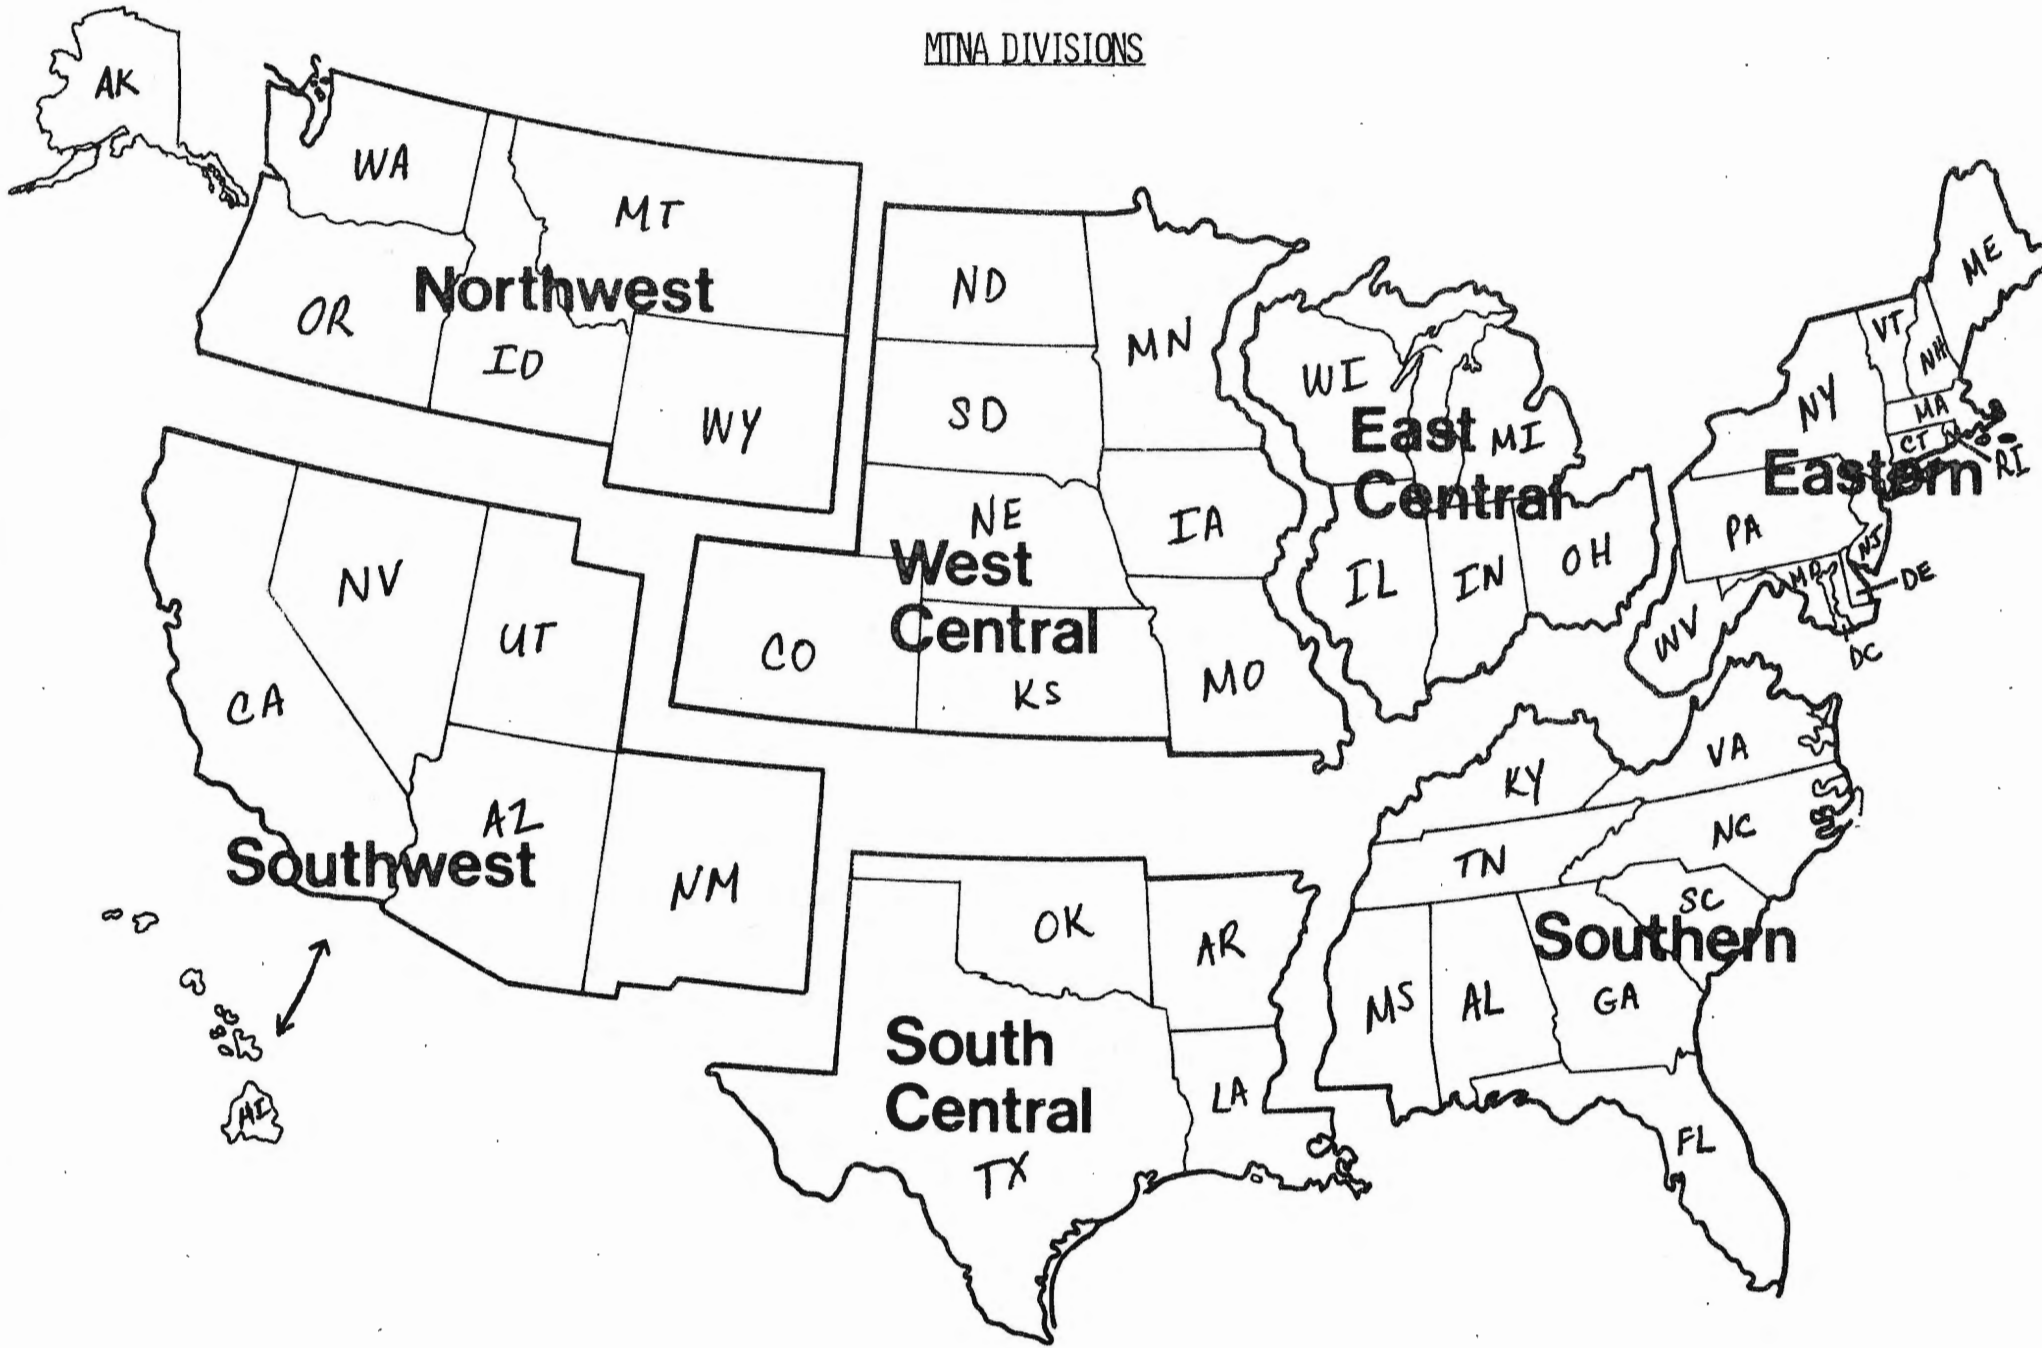

The teachers listed in these pages have fulfilled the MTNA requirements for National Certification. They are recognized by MTNA for their competence as musicians and teachers. In order to maintain their status as Nationally Certified teachers they are required to upgrade their teaching competency every five years through study, teacher and/or student performance, involvement in MTNA and its programs and in other ways.

The National Certification Board in compiling this list wishes to recognize the teachers who work to attain certification and improve their professional status.

We anticipate that this publication will be of value to prospective students of music who desire assistance in securing a qualified teacher.

THE ARIZONA STUDY PROGRAM

The Arizona Study Program is in its twenty-second year of providing an appropriate, consecutive, and comprehensive plan of music study. Persons desiring information concerning either the Study Program or the Certification Plan should write directly to Janice McCurnin, 4256 East Whittier, Tucson, 85711.

CODE OF ETHICS

We, the members of the ARIZONA STATE MUSIC TEACHERS ASSOCIATION, having dedicated ourselves to the advancement of music and the growth of young musicians, recommend the following principles of ethical practice as standards of professional conduct:

1. An Association member should not announce a new student of his own until the student has at least six months of lessons under his instructions.
2. A student of an Association member should not announce himself as a student of any teacher with whom he has studied less than six months unless the exact time is stated.
3. An Association member should maintain a dignified silence about the work of other teachers unless that which he can say is good; thus exemplifying the Golden Rule.

Any unethical conduct shall be reported to the State Executive Board.

Association members should maintain their studios on a strictly business basis by requiring that tuition be paid in advance, that no lessons be made up unless reasonable notice is given by the student with a good excuse, and that no deductions be made for missed lessons. These regulations should accompany all statements and other literature intended for patrons.

Help...

from Baldwin and Washburn

Invariably when we sell a new Baldwin piano (and sometimes even when we don't) we get asked for a list of qualified, professional teachers. Some of you have all the students you can handle, but if you could use more, please register with us and we will be happy to see that your name is passed on to those people who are seeking instruction. This arrangement will help us serve our customers better and should increase your client list as well.

By the way, if you're ever asked about a good place to rent a piano think of us. We rent quality pianos, mostly Baldwins, the kind you would want your students to use. And they are very competitively priced.

As in years past, stop by any Washburn location beginning in September and we'll be happy to give you a "Visible Week" appointment book. You can see at a glance what your entire weekly schedule is. It's free and there's no obligation. We look forward to working with you.

"For composing, for playing, the Baldwin piano is the perfect accompanist for me."

Burt Bacharach

"Baldwin . . . its vast sonority, its sensitivity to the most subtle shadings of color, and its magnificent mechanical action, are the greatest pleasure and joy to me at all times . . . a piano that will set forth my playing exactly as I conceive it."

Jorge Bolet

"Aside from its beautiful tone, the thing that I like best about the Baldwin Piano is its fantastically responsive action."

George Shearing

"By now the Baldwin Piano has become an integral part of my life, as personal and responsive as my own orchestra."

Leonard Bernstein

Over 200 pop and concert artists say Baldwin is best (and they aren't even paid to say it!)

Together,
we just might create
another world-class pianist

Right now, she's still locked in combat with the chromatic scale. But that's today. For the rest of her life she may practice many hours a day. And when she isn't practicing, perhaps she'll be performing.

We know the quality of her musical instrument goes hand in hand with the quality of instruction she receives. That's why Allen Piano & Organ Company wholeheartedly supports the ASMTA.

We take both the teacher and student seriously. With our quality instruments and your professional instruction, working together, we just might create another world-class pianist.

ARIZONA PROFESSIONAL CERTIFICATION PLAN

The Arizona State Music Teachers
Association, in co-operation with the Music Teachers National Association, offers a program of professional certification to qualified teachers. This program is designed to provide opportunities for direction, growth and development, as well as recognition for the independent teacher.
The Certification plan is under the direction of the State Board, listed below.

THE ARIZONA STUDY PROGRAM

The Arizona Study Program is in its twenty-fifth year of providing an appropriate, consecutive, and comprehensive plan of music study. ASMTA members may use the Study Program as a means of fulfilling one of the essential qualifications of recognition as a certified teacher. The Study Program, as an important part of the Certification Plan, offers study guidelines and annual evaluations for students and in-service educational professional meetings for interested teachers. The Arizona Study Program is under the supervision of the State Board, listed below.

ARIZONA STUDY PROGRAM AND CERTIFICATION BOARD 1986-87

This State Board administers the Arizona Study Program and the teacher Certification Plan in the various branches of music. It is comprised of college and university music faculty members and studio music teachers who have completed all requirements in the State Certification Plan and have been granted certification.
Membership is by appointment only.

CODE OF ETHICS

We, the members of the ARIZONA STATE MUSIC TEACHERS ASSOCIATION, having dedicated ourselves to the advancement of music and the growth of young musicians, recommend the following principles of ethical practice as standards of professional conduct:

1. An Association member should not announce a new student of his own until the student has at least six months of lessons under his instruction.
2. A student of an Association member should not announce himself as a student of any teacher with whom he has studied less than six months unless the exact time is stated.
3. An Association member should maintain a dignified silence about the work of other teachers unless that which he can say is good, thus exemplifying the Golden Rule.

Any unethical conduct shall be reported to the State Executive Board.

Association members should maintain their studios on a strictly business basis by requiring that tuition be paid in advance, that no lessons be made up unless reasonable notice is given by the student with a good excuse, and that no deductions be made for missed lessons. These regulations should accompany all statements and other literature intended for patrons.

Together,
we just might create
another world-class pianist

Right now, she's still locked in combat with the chromatic scale. But that's today. For the rest of her life she may practice many hours a day. And when she isn't practicing, perhaps she'll be performing.

We know the quality of her musical instrument goes hand in hand with the quality of instruction she receives. That's why Allen Piano & Organ Company wholeheartedly supports the ASMTA.

We take both the teacher and student seriously. With our quality instruments and your professional instruction, working together, we just might create another world-class pianist.

CODE OF ETHICS

We, the members of the ARIZONA STATE MUSIC TEACHERS ASSOCIATION, having dedicated ourselves to the advancement of music and the growth of young musicians, recommend the following principles of ethical practice as standards of professional conduct:

1. An Association member should not announce a new student of his own until the student has at least six months of lessons under his instruction.
2. A student of an Association member should not announce himself as a student of any teacher with whom he has studied less than six months unless the exact time is stated.
3. An Association member should maintain a dignified silence about the work of other teachers unless that which he can say is good, thus exemplifying the Golden Rule.

Any unethical conduct shall be reported to the State Executive Board.

Association members should maintain their studios on a business basis.

- tuition paid in advance
- no lessons made up without reasonable notice and appropriate excuse
- no deductions for missed lessons
- concise studio policy

These regulations should accompany all statements and other literature intended for parents.

ARIZONA STUDY PROGRAM AND CERTIFICATION BOARD

This State Board administers the Arizona Study Program and the teacher Certification Plan in the various branches of music. It is comprised of college and university music faculty members and studio music teachers who have completed all requirements in the State Certification Plan and have been granted certification. The Study Program, as an important part of the Certification Plan, offers study activities annually for students and in-service educational professional meetings for teachers.

THE ARIZONA STUDY PROGRAM

The Arizona Study Program is in its twenty-seventh year of providing an appropriate, consecutive, and comprehensive plan of music study. ASMTA members may use the Study Program as a means of fulfilling one of the essential qualifications of recognition as a certified teacher. The Arizona Study Program and the state plan for certifying private teachers are both under the supervision of the State Board, listed below.

CODE OF ETHICS

We, the members of the ARIZONA STATE MUSIC TEACHERS ASSOCIATION, having dedicated ourselves to the advancement of music and the growth of young musicians, recommend the following principles of ethical practice as standards of professional conduct:

1. An Association member should not announce a new student of their own until the student has at least six months of lessons under their instruction.
2. A student of an Association member should not announce himself as a student of any teacher with whom he has studied less than six months unless the exact time is stated.
3. An Association member should maintain a dignified silence about the work of other teachers unless that which he can say is good, thus exemplifying the Golden Rule.

Any unethical conduct shall be reported to the State Executive Board.

Association members should maintain their studio on a business basis.

- tuition paid in advance
- no lessons made up without reasonable notice and appropriate excuse
- no deductions for missed lessons
- concise studio policy

These regulations should accompany all statements and other literature intended for parents.

ARIZONA STUDY PROGRAM AND CERTIFICATION

The State Committees administer the ~~Arizona~~ Study Program and the Teacher Certification Plan in the various branches of music. It's comprised of college and university ~~music~~ faculty members and studio music teachers who have completed all requirements in the State Certification Plan and have been granted certification. The Study Program, an important part of the Certification Plan, offers annual study activities for students and in-service, educational, professional meetings for teachers.

CERTIFICATION

CHAIRMAN Carolyn Steppe

THE ARIZONA STUDY PROGRAM

The ~~Arizona~~ Study Program is in its twenty-eighth year of providing an appropriate, consecutive and comprehensive plan of music study. ASMTA members may use the Program as a means of fulfilling one of the essential qualifications of recognition as a certified teacher. The Arizona Study Program and the Certification Plan are both under the supervision of the State Committees.

CODE OF ETHICS

We, the members of the ARIZONA STATE MUSIC TEACHERS ASSOCIATION, having dedicated ourselves to the advancement of music and the growth of young musicians, recommend the following principles of ethical practice as standards of professional conduct:

1. An Association member should not announce a new student of their own until the student has at least six months of lessons under their instruction.
2. A student of an Association member should not announce himself as a student of any teacher with whom he has studied less than six months unless the exact time is stated.
3. An Association member should maintain a dignified silence about the work of other teachers unless that which he can say is good, thus exemplifying the Golden Rule.

Any unethical conduct shall be reported to the State Executive Board.

Association members should maintain their studio on a business basis.

- tuition paid in advance
- no lessons made up without reasonable notice and appropriate excuse
- no deductions for missed lessons
- concise studio policy

These regulations should accompany all statements and other literature intended for parents.

Together, we just might create another world-class pianist

Right now, she's still locked in combat with the chromatic scale. But that's today. For the rest of her life she may practice many hours a day. And when she isn't practicing, perhaps she'll be performing.

We know the quality of her musical instrument goes hand in hand with the quality of instruction she receives. That's why Allen Piano & Organ Company wholeheartedly supports the ASMTA.

We take both the teacher and student seriously. With our quality instruments and your professional instruction, working together, we just might create another world-class pianist.

Together,
we just might create
another world-class pianist

Right now, she's still locked in combat with the chromatic scale. But that's today. For the rest of her life she may practice many hours a day. And when she isn't practicing, perhaps she'll be performing.

We know the quality of her musical instrument goes hand in hand with the quality of instruction she receives. That's why Allen Piano & Organ Company wholeheartedly supports the ASMTA.

We take both the teacher and student seriously. With our quality instruments and your professional instruction, working together, we just might create another world-class pianist.

1993 MTNA DIRECTORY OF

NATIONALLY CERTIFIED TEACHERS OF MUSIC IN ARIZONA

This directory is published and distributed by Music Teachers National Association and its affiliate, Arizona State Music Teachers Association, to assist students and parents, teachers and employers in locating MTNA nationally certified music teachers in Arizona. Names and addresses of all MTNA nationally certified members are listed alphabetically by city. Following each name is the teacher's address (which may be a home address or studio address), instrument or area of specialization, and an abbreviation for the type of MTNA certificate held by the teacher: Associate (A), Professional (P), Master Teacher (M) or College Faculty (F). For more information about MTNA and the significance of the various national certificates, please read the attached sheet on Choosing a Music Teacher. You may reach a local representative by calling:

The sound investment you can play with.

Most people purchase a Steinway® piano for its incomparable sound. Its intuitively responsive touch. And because only Steinway pianos are good enough to be chosen by 95% of the world's performing concert pianists. Of course, some people also purchase Steinway for its investment value. According to Forbes, in the past ten years, the retail value of a Steinway concert grand has appreciated nearly 200%.*

In terms of resale appreciation, a Steinway piano outperforms even a Mercedes Benz.

If this kind of music appreciation interests you, ask us for more information. You'll discover why no sound portfolio should be without this one-of-a-kind investment.

Arizona State Music Teachers Association

Janice McCurnin-Beatrice Searles

Honored Teacher Award

This award was created in 1991 to recognize teachers from around the state who “over the years” have contributed their time and talents to their district and state organizations. These teachers have been dedicated to maintaining a high level of professionalism in all that they do and have shown a willingness to help and encourage other teachers in their organization. These “Honored Teachers” have had their students participate in the Arizona State Study Program, State Auditions, Honors Recitals, as well as various District events.
