1. The ear con-duc-tor is a king, when on his rail-road train, He swings his lan-tern
2. In pa-lace cars we take our ease, and read the dai-ly news, If friends should of-fer to and fro to stop and start a-gain; He wakes the sleep-ers one and all, and tick-ets they must show, Or fine ci-gars, I'm sure we'd not re-fuse; And la-dies, too, will sweet-ly smile when we col-lect the fare, We put the price in - to his hands or off the car they go;... Pull the rope, the bell does ring, the "pass" them free and nev - er think, the com - pa - ny will care;... "Dead-heads" nev - er both - er us, or brakes-man shouts the news, "Ten min - utes for re - freshments," at Peek - skill or Co - hoes; Yon - kers, Troy and try to "beat" their way, We sig - nal to the brakesman if they don't quickly pay; "Punch the tick - ets

Al - ba - ny— a - gain you hear the bell, But where we'll land be - fore we're thro' its migh - ty hard to tell, keep the cash," this mot - to bear in mind, By do - ing this we'll soon be - come the own - ers of the line.

CHORUS.

The lo - co - mo - tive whis - tle blows, the wheels go round and round, ... All a - board or you'll get left, just hear that aw - ful sound, It means the boil - er's full of steam, it's got a migh - ty pow'r, We'll soon be speed - ing at the rate of six - ty miles an hour. - The lo - co - mo - tive whis - tle blows, the wheels go round and round,..... All a - board or you'll get left, just hear that aw - ful sound; It means the boil - er's
