Noted Artist Visits Tempe

One of the finest treats afforded Tempe College this season was the art talk given by Dudley Crafts Watson of Illinois who was a guest of the Society of Fine Arts of Phoenix. Mr. Watson came to Tempe Tuesday afternoon, Jan. 18, and addressed a special assembly.

"We are all fellow art students," enthusiastically pronounced Mr. Watson. "Every master in Paris is a fellow worker with his students. Art teachers never grow up and artists never grow old."

"There is a practical and necessary demand for self expression. The principles of art control our ways of living and our happiness. Science, invention and machinery have created this demand."

"We are living in a brand-new age and the means and methods of gaining happiness that were suited to our parents will no longer please us. We have different diversions than those of the past generation. The magic and wonder of the radio fills many homes and has expanded them to include the whole world. The wonderful thing about radio is that it does not claim your whole attention. You can listen to it the same time you are doing something for yourselves. Because we must all do something that expresses the feeling within, there are Societies of Fine Arts, places for exhibits and craft schools."

"The great joy of life is not in being entertained by going to the theater and places of amusement. Yet thirty million people go to the movies each day. Thus that many hours of human effort are wasted daily. It did not take that long to build Roosevelt Dam. More deserts could be reclaimed and more beauty given to the world if people realized the true source of happiness, that comes in doing a thing and responding to the great urge within us."

"Machinery makes living, and the means of obtaining the necessities of life, easier, but at the same time it places a greater amount of leisure upon the people of today. You can get practically anything you need by putting the money on the counter. Increase in ease of living, however, has increased our responsibilities. Art is the answer as to how best to utilize our extra time."

"Poetry, Music, Painting, Architecture and Sculpture make up the five main branches of art. All others are a division of these. If these five are known to us we will know how not to waste ourselves and how best to utilize our leisure time. We have more material to build with and greater possibilities of different designs. This generation has yet to make its contribution of art and beauty to the world. That we are not an artistic nation is illustrated by the folding chairs and rural mail boxes which we turn out by the millions. We all want more lovely things about us and we can't like wasted effort and wasted material. Infinite variety is the secret of expression. It is a law of nature and a law of beauty that, like the branches of a tree, no two things are alike."

"You have some of the great artists of the country here in your own valley," Mr. Watson said, and mentioned Mrs. Evans' paintings and recommended that we get acquainted with the work of one of our own artists. "We can't live by seeking amusement. As things become more modern, and our work is done in half the time it now takes, we will have much time to do something. Now is the time to make up our minds and decide what we want to do. Say to yourself, 'I can be an artist if I want to.' You may never have found your talents but they are there underneath and are waiting to be drawn out."

"We can't get re-creation unless we are created anew—that is, unless we let out our hidden talents. If we just seek amusement then it may well be called 'wreck-creation.'"

"If you will teach yourself to know art, you will live beautifully, and gloriously; life will never be dull, and you will never grow old."

Eminent German Geographer Visits Tempe Teachers College

Dr. Bruno F. Dietrich, geographer for the University of Breslau, is this week honoring Tempe State Teachers College by his presence. He is the personal guest of Mr. Hoover of the Geography department.

Dr. Dietrich is on his second tour of the United States, having traveled some in the country last fall a year ago. At that time he visited the valley and the college and was so much interested that he planned to make a more extended stay in Arizona upon his return. He has come to be recognized in Germany as the specialist on the United States, having published a book of geographical sketches entitled "U. S. A., das Heutige Geischt," with sixteen sketch maps and sixty photographs. There is a chapter on the Salt River Valley, the Arizona desert, and the Roosevelt Dam, and some photos of these taken on his last visit.

Dr. Dietrich, in company with Mr. Hoover, is continuing the field studies begun then. On Saturday a visit was made to the new developments at the Horse (Continued on Page Two)

Jean Smith Elected Campus Queen

The annual election of Campus Queen was held in the Main Building last week and Miss Jean Smith was chosen as Tempe's favorite.

The Campus Queen is the honor the college confers upon the girl who, in the estimation of the college students, has done the most for the school. Miss Smith is well worthy of the honor, having served her class as president, and is now, as Editor in Chief of the Annual Staff, exerting her energies towards making the Annual a success. Besides holding these two responsible positions, Jean has done a great deal to help in her society work. A girl who can succeed with so much extra-curricular activities and still keep up her grades is indeed a Campus Queen.

Of the other candidates nominated were the misses Annice Frankenburg, Lucille Tantlinger, Evelyn Kjellgren, Ida Smith, and Wilma Peterson. All of these girls have done a lot of work in outside activities which help to make school more pleasant and interesting and they deserve special mention as true boosters of Tempe Teachers College.

Bishop Bolton Speaks In College Assembly

"In building the future of America you have a larger work than you dream of," declared Bishop Bolton of the Episcopal diocese of Utah, who addressed the college assembly on Monday, January 17.

"Teachers of youth are tremendous factors in the upbuilding of character in nations. School days are often trying days to the child but they are formative days. During the formative life the teacher has the greatest effect."

Bishop Bolton believes the teacher occupies one of the strategic points in the development of human life. "You must understand the bearing of the boys and girls who are given into your care," he said, "and you must know your responsibility."

"The biggest kind of teacher is he who is conscious that he is the instrument of the Infinite God," the bishop asserted. "Your denomination is of no importance. What matters is that you be honest, earnest Christian men and women."

The teacher should not express one side of a child's nature at the expense of another. Bishop Bolton illustrated this by an anecdote pertaining to the New Jersey robbery. All roads were guarded, except an old abandoned trail, that the robbers might not escape. On that very road the robbers made their getaway. So it is with the child. All paths must be guarded and closely watched. In the development of moral character and intellect, the teacher must not neglect the influences of the spirit which lead the soul up to the presence of God, and the permanent barriers of life. "Teachers neglect their duty who do not teach the sources of inspiration."

Red-Headed Teachers of Highest Intelligence

Special Certificates Are Issued to Those With Titian Locks; California Leads in Recognition of Merits

Red hair, in the case of a woman, means individuality. It also usually means strength of character, coupled with a certain pepperness that might be harshly termed irascibility.

Conceive in your mind a Titian-haired pedagogue, oak ferrule in hand, holding sway over a classroom, and you have what is coming to be a popular conception by school boards of intelligence-plus.

Out in California they boldly state that the red-haired teacher is the most intelligent and the most efficient of teachers. This deduction resulted from a survey under the direction of Will C. Wood, superintendent of education.

The test, in New Orleans, has not yet been given serious consideration, but Assistant Superintendent of Education Hynes was willing to discuss the matter somewhat. His work (Continued on Page 4.)

FACULTY NOTICE

All those who are interested in taking the University extension course in public finance from Dr. John Mez, meet in Mr. Burkhard's room a week from Thursday, Feb. 3, at 4 o'clock.

Dr. Mez, professor of economics at the University of Arizona, will give this course once a week on Thursday at 4 o'clock. It has not yet been definitely decided whether the course will be given here in Tempe or in Mesa. The entrance fee will be $10. (Continued on Page 4.)

College Day

Under the auspices of the Student Body, the Student Council, is planning a fitting and appropriate program commemorating the day on which the Tempe Normal School was elevated to the rank of a Teachers College. The present plans call for an all-day affair beginning promptly at 8 o'clock in the morning, when roll call will be taken in the assembly. Immediately following this, the entire body will journey to the "T" on the Butte, where a fitting ceremony will take place under the supervision of Arden Staples. When this part of the program is finished the aggregation will reconvene in the auditorium where a very interesting and entertaining program of speeches and music will be offered.

After the entertainment in the assembly is concluded, a recess will be taken until two o'clock, when we will gather on the Athletic Field for an afternoon of games and stunts, under the direction of Merrell Hatch. This will last until about four o'clock when adjournment will be taken until five. We are planning on a basket dinner to be given on the lawn directly to the north of the main building between the hours of five and six. Arrangements are being made to have one of the leading bands of the valley furnish music for the hour of refreshments.

The crowning of the Campus Queen under the direction of the Normal Senior Class will be staged at six o'clock. The premier event of the day will be the offering of Shakespeare's "As You Like It," by a cast of over twenty young people of the campus, under the direction of Miss Messer. When we mention her name you are assured of a successful performance, as she has established a very enviable reputation as a director of plays upon our campus as well as (Continued on Page 4.)

Flagstaff Wins the First Game

PHOENIX, Ariz., Jan. 13.—For the first time in the history of the schools, the Lumberjacks, from Northern Arizona Teachers College, Flagstaff, defeated the Bulldogs 31 to 22 in basketball. The game was played at the Phoenix High School gymnasium before a large crowd.

The Flagstaff crew displayed a brand of basketball that is not seen until the "peak" of the season, while the Bulldogs showed all the signs of early season playing and not being used to playing together. At times the Bulldogs showed some real team play, but lack of sufficient practice this season and not having played together before kept them from maintaining these flashes. In this game they showed a decided improvement over the game the week before with the Phoenix Junior College.

BULLDOGS LOSE TO WILDCATS

In the first two games of a four-game series the Wildcats defeated the Bulldogs last Friday and Saturday nights.

The first game, Friday night, started off with the Bulldogs leading 5 to 0. The Wildcats soon came up with them and the rest of the half was a hard-fought battle with the Wildcats leading, when the whistle blew, by a score of 9 to 7.

The second half opened with both teams playing hard, fast ball with little scoring to begin with. Then the Wildcats began to creep away from their opponents. Griffith and Smith did most of the scoring for the Bulldogs. The score was: U. of A., 29; T. S. T. C., 18.

The game was played before one of the largest crowds ever to witness a basket ball game in Arizona.

The second game, Saturday night, was played to an empty house, on account of the quarantine which made necessary the locking of the doors of the gymnasium. The Bulldogs also took the lead in this game and held it for the first half. The half ended 16-15 in favor of Tempe.

The last half started off with rough playing, so rough that before the end of the game three of the Wildcats were removed from the game by the personal foul route. Although they lost three men, they continued to sink enough long shots from the center of the court to win the game, 32 to 25.

Phoenix Junior College Wins Tennis Tournament

On Saturday, January 22nd, the Tennis team of the College began the tournament against the Phoenix Junior College. Due to the condition of the courts, which were wet from a light shower of the early morning, the boys' matches were postponed until the following Tuesday.

On Saturday afternoon the following matches were played:

Girls' First Singles—Alice Barber, Tempe, defeated Lenore Hellworth, Phoenix, 6-1, 6-4.

Girls' Second Singles—Jean Taylor, Tempe, defeated Carol Argeny, Phoenix, 6-0, 6-2.

Girls' Doubles—Dorothy Sorrels and Bena Perz, Tempe, defeated Loretta Cole and Ethel Twitchell, Phoenix, 7-5, 6-10.

Mixed Doubles—Franklin McRae and Carol Argeny, Phoenix, defeated Robert Stroud and Dorothy Sorrels, Tempe, 6-3, 6-2.

This placed Tempe in the lead with three matches won of the four played.

On Tuesday afternoon the tournament was completed. Carr, Tempe, lost to McRae, Phoenix, 6-2, 6-0.

Winder, Tempe, lost to Hepworth, Phoenix, 6-4, 6-3.

In the Men's doubles Winder and Stroud, Tempe, were defeated by McRae and Hidecker, Phoenix, 6-2, 6-4.

The ability to come from behind and take the last three matches gave Phoenix Junior College the tournament. All Tempe players are to be commended. They were (Continued on Page Two)

TEACHING REQUIREMENTS

Many Normal Seniors have wondered and pondered over their grade in teaching. It is something to think about, but the following is a list of requirements one of our most eminent educators of Arizona has given as essential to success in the teaching profession: VITALITY, the ability to work with enthusiasm, energy, and optimism, and hold in reserve enough strength to care for emergencies; PERSONALITY, defined as degree of culture and refinement, poise, and the impression produced upon others; INTELLIGENCE, mental acumen and capacity for growth and vision; INFLUENCE, both social and moral. Under influence he states that much of a teacher's success depends upon his attitude toward the community, his ability to understand children and to influence their lives in the right way. A teacher should show a decided PROFESSIONAL SPIRIT and ABILITY. If one is to succeed in teaching he must have a favorable attitude towards the profession. There is nothing "simplified" about teaching as a life work. PROFESSIONAL LEADERSHIP is the attitude one takes towards his fellow teachers. One "sour" teacher can do more to disrupt the morale of a teaching force than any other one thing.

The discussion, when summed up is, "We want teachers with CHARACTER."

GET A NEW START

Now that we can breathe without wondering if we have forgotten something, it might be well to get a new start on our studies. It's so much easier to keep up every day than it is to cram in a lot in the last week or two, yet we all let things slide once in a while. With the organizations and special meetings that always take up our time, we should plan a study schedule and keep pretty closely to it. Otherwise the study periods are likely to be neglected for the apparently more pressing outside activities of the campus.

THINK IT OVER

Be slow to make a promise but when you make it, make it good.

Always keep your face towards the sun and the shadows will all fall behind you.

I shall pass through this world but once. Any good thing, therefore, that I can do, or any kindness I can show to any human being, let me do it now. Let me not defer it nor neglect it, for I shall not pass this way again.

STUDENT COUNCIL RESOLUTIONS

The adoption of the resolutions which were brought up by the Student Council and overwhelmingly adopted by the students, portrays the real spirit of Tempe Teachers College. The students and faculty are to be congratulated upon their good judgment and forethought in backing these resolutions. Now that we have a guide, let us all carry them out to the letter.

DR. DIETRICH

It is quite an opportunity for the students of Tempe to hear a man like Dr. Dietrich speak to them. He is a man who has made an international reputation as a Geographer and is well worth hearing. Tonight he will speak in the auditorium. All the public is invited and every student should take advantage of this opportunity to hear him.

WELCOME, NEW STUDENTS!

The beginning of the semester is the beginning of many new acquaintances. We hope the new students will enjoy the work and pleasure alike in Tempe State Teachers College.

Eminent German Geographer

Mesa Dam as guests of the Water Users Association. Tuesday was spent on the Pima Indian Reservation. On Thursday some time will be spent in the foothill region of Superstition Mountain and the Goldfield Mountains. A more extended trip is planned for Friday afternoon and the week-end which will include the Thompson Desert Arboretum, the copper mining industry and especially the mines and smelters at Miami, the Pinal Mountains and the Apache Indian Reservation.

Dr. Dietrich is author of several books on geographical subjects and numerous pamphlets, articles for scientific journals and maps. His most important work is perhaps the "Handbuch of Geographie, Vol. 1," with Professor Dr. Gradmann as co-author. Earlier he wrote three small books entitled "Morphologie der Rhoen," "Klimatologie der Rhoen" and "Wirtschaft Geographie der Rhoen." His earlier published studies were mostly in "Morphologie" or Physiography. Later his interests turned chiefly to Economic Geography and his later published articles and maps have been chiefly geographical studies of Silesian problems. He has also written a "Compendium of Economic and Commercial Geography for the Business Man." He has almost completed a larger volume on Economic Geography.

After leaving Germany on Dec. 10, Dr. Dietrich spent New Year's Eve in New York City and then proceeded to Havana, Cuba, stopping en route at Washington, Baltimore, Jacksonville and Miami, Fla. While in Washington he was received by the German and Cuban Ambassadors and delivered an address at the Georgetown University. From Cuba he went to New Orleans, visiting Tulane University, and thence came directly to Tempe and Phoenix.

From here he will go to California, stopping at El Centro to study the Imperial Valley and the Salton Sea, thence to Los Angeles, San Francisco and the University of California. He will return east via Northern Arizona in order that he may visit the Grand Canyon and some of the pueblo Indians. The other chief points on his itinerary are St. Louis, Chicago, Milwaukee and Madison, Pittsburgh and Washington. He has been engaged for a guest professorship at Clark University for about a month and a half and will lecture there daily, beginning about March 15, on "Natural Conditions of Central Europe" and "The Main Roads of World Trade and Commerce." In the East he will give lectures also at Georgetown University and the Wharton School of Commerce in the University of Pennsylvania. He is expected to be back in Breslau to resume regular work on May 16.

Dr. Dietrich is planning a series of trips to the United States and may return within a year. He plans to visit Arizona again upon his return. He says he is interested in Arizona for the following reasons:

1. It has a most wonderful irrigation project.
2. From the standpoint of geographic grandeur of landscape not to be seen in other countries.
3. Great spaces—pure and real nature.
4. The prospect of a constantly changing natural landscape into a cultural landscape.
5. The problem of the American Indian.
6. The rich copper mine field.
7. The morphologic development of the buttes.

Dr. Dietrich arranged to talk to the Geographic Society this evening, but the Society has arranged to give the student body, faculty and general public the privilege of hearing his lecture, as announced elsewhere in The Collegian.

World Fellowship

"Scratch a man and you will find a tiger. Civilization is only skin-deep. Nothing more than a thin veneer separates modern society from barbarism. You can't change human nature."

Some such response as this is given to the person who appeals for the substitution of unselfishness, cooperation, love and sacrifice in the place of covetousness, competition, hatred and violence in human affairs.

Race hatred is falsely attributed to instinctive aversion. Children of different races are not born with enmity toward each other. They mingle freely. They do not reveal antipathy—until they are taught to do so by their elders. That is to say, racial hatred is a social inheritance, not a biological legacy. In many countries race hatred is almost entirely absent. The materialism of our day is likewise falsely attributed to the collecting or hoarding instinct. Human beings are not compelled by their biological equipment to spend their lives in a mad scramble for things. Food and raiment and shelter, of course, are required. But these essentials could be provided by a few hours daily labor if society were properly organized. Other civilizations than our own have placed greater emphasis upon art, music, literature and religion than upon comforts and luxuries. Even today there are important groups who are motivated by other than material or financial incentives. The desires of men can be changed by new stimuli.

There is no hope of building a decent world without vastly more faith in man. We must not only reveal the falsity and menace of the low estimate of human nature, we must base our actions and institutions on the assumption that man is potentially God-like, with the ability to grow and worthy to be trusted. We must also be prepared to take the consequences of this procedure. Faith and love do not win their victories without patience and suffering. Helping mankind on to more abundant life is dangerous business. The faint-hearted and those of little faith drop by the wayside. The wisdom of Jesus is revealed in his warnings against fear and in his emphasis upon the necessity of faith—faith in God, in man, in the efficacy of love and sacrifice. There is sufficient latent goodness in human nature to build the family of God on earth. If we would release this potential nobility we must have faith in man.

FELLOWSHIP COMMITTEE STARTS CLUB

Have you noticed a small gathering of girls in the "Y" rooms every other Tuesday at 12:30? Do you want to know what it is all about?

A few weeks ago, the world fellowship committee of the Y. W. C. A. decided to live up to its name, so it invited the colored girls of the college for a tea and friendly chat. The girls all had a good time and wished to form a club with the purpose of furthering the feeling of world fellowship and to discuss things of general interest; to do or make little things, and in short to spend a purposeful yet jolly half hour. Anyone is invited to the meetings.

Pearl Turner was elected president, Mozelle Mack secretary, Sara Garrett Treasurer, Madeline Cook "scribe" and McFraddie Robinson, fellowship representative. Others who answer to roll call are Lena Cook, Novella Taylor and Katherine Garrett.

up against strong opposition and every game was hotly contested. The spirit of our college was symbolized in the Girls' Doubles, when, with the score in games 5-2 against them, Sorrels and Perz opened up a brand of tennis which won the next eleven games and took ten sets and the match.

A return tournament will be played with Junior College here, Saturday, February 5th.

'As You Like It' to Be Given on College Day

The dramatic personae for the Shakespearean play, "As You Like It," to be given College Day, is made up of the students representing the ability and talent of our school.

Gladys Miles, who takes the part of Rosalind, has had a good deal of experience on the stage, and in fact has played this part once before. Miss Miles made a very charming Rosalind and her breezy manner enables her to play the part of a young man with wit and cleverness.

Virgil Pyle, whose ability we all know, plays opposite Gladys Miles as the dashing young hero, Orlando.

Beatrice Felton, the sweet Celia, is the companion and cousin of Rosalind. Miss Felton will take this part and lend a charm and atmosphere to the play that only she is capable of doing.

We all know Dorothy Sorrels, and anyone who has read the play knows who Touchstone is. Just remember this little note, anything "Dot" attempts is bound to be a success.

Wilbur Sutter, or Charles, the wrestler, will "knock 'em all for a row"—at least he is to be the strong boy in the play.

Others to take part are John Barry, Leonard Clements, Harry Culbert, Wallace de Witt, Claud Michea, Robert Stroud, Miss Johansen, Leldon Windes, Kathleen Kite, Marian Doyle, Marybelle Mercer, Clara Peterson, Evelyn Kjellgren, Maria Nordstrom, Catherine Willwebber, Emma Warren, Genevieve d'Arcy and Ernest Simpkins.

In the Limelight

JOE SMITH

Do you know Joe Smith? If you don't you ought to get acquainted with him. He's really quite a remarkable chap, and oh, yes, Joe is captain of Tempe's basket ball team and president of the Junior class this year.

Back a certain number of years ago (Joe wouldn't divulge the exact number to the interviewer) was born a son, Joe, to the family of Smith in the town of Globe, Arizona. The rejoicing was great, following the son all through his life, even unto the time he came to T. S. T. C. to play on the football team. He made such a good job of tearing up the field that they put him on the team and he's stuck there ever since. Not even a better player could tear him loose 'cause they don't make better ones here in Arizona, or anywhere else.

Joe graduated from Globe High School in '24 and confessed that one of the things he always anticipated with great joy was beating Miami High each year. While there, Joe played one year of basket ball and three of baseball but no football.

But Joe wasn't always a dashing, tearing, hit 'em, smash 'em athlete. As a little "shaver" he had much sickness—"just seemed to catch ever'thin" that came along." Of course he still does to some extent, meaning when a worthy opponent attempts to pass the goal line.

History is Joe's favorite academic subject. He plans to teach a few years and then go back to his studies. His "hobby" you know already—the three kinds of ball, base, basket and foot.

If you ask any of his old friends about him they invariably say: "Joe? Yeh, he's a mighty good fellow, not so much of a radical as he used to be thought." Wonder why Joe has suddenly become more serious? Does anybody know?

Clara McDearman: "I often have attacks of the blues. I am only 18 too. Where can I go and always be sure of finding happiness there?"

Rachel M.: "To the dictionary, my dear."

JUNIOR HIGH NEWS

Flowers Made by Art Class

The pupils of the special art class of the eighth grade have been making felt flowers. They sold them and many of the girls have made quite a sum of money.—Georgia Mae Ramsey.

The Ball Game

The first team of the Junior High School had a game of speed ball with Osborn, January 18. It was a very exciting game. But, of course, no one can beat the Junior High boys. The score was 14-3 in our favor. The Junior High girls joined in the yell.—Alice Vanderwalker.

The Speedball Game

Last Thursday, January 13, the second team the Junior High School had a game with the Eighth Street School. We played on their grounds. We had a hard time beating them, but we did. The score was 12 to 2.—Henry Soza.

Pep Club

A Pep Club is being organized by the Junior High girls. All who wish to join please give your names to me.—Ethel Manley.

Game With Grammar School

Thursday, January 20, first and second teams of Junior High played first and second teams of Grammar school. The first game was 10 to 5 in our favor and second game was 10 to 3 in our favor. The game was kept away.—Florence Gillett.

Art Lecture

The Junior High School was much pleased to have the pleasure of listening to Mr. Watson, an art lecturer of Chicago, on Tuesday, January 18, in the college auditorium. Mr. Watson chose a subject which was indeed very interesting.—Henrietta Roberts.

Speedball Game with Alma

The Tempe States Teachers College Junior High School suffered a defeat at speedball from Alma Grammar School with a score of 18 to 6. The game was played on January 14, at Tempe.—Crawford Hardin.

Social Science Democracy Club
 On January 14 the Social Science Democracy Club of the eighth grade 11 o'clock class had current events. Crawford Hardin gave a book report on "Call of the Wild." The members all enjoyed it.—Allene Roberts.

Junior High Notes

The Eighth Grade has been very busy this last week with examinations and athletic. They are trying to do their best and follow the adage, "Work while you work and play while you play; That's the way to be happy and gay."—Henrietta Roberts.

Jokes

Pat and Mike were working by a quarry and Pat fell in. Mike ran to the edge and said: "Pat! Pat! if you be dead, spake!"

Pat answered from the bottom of the quarry: "No, Mike; I'm not dead—just knocked spachless."—William Payne.

JOLLY REHEADS HOLD ANNUAL INITIATION PICNIC

Last Monday night a regular gang of Jolly Redheads went out on the annual initiation picnic at the four bays.

The Jolly Redheads is an organization composed of members with Titian locks and amiable dispositions. Mr. Irish is the monitor and Mr. Krause and Mr. McCreary are honorary members.

The older members are Mrs. Krause, Mr. McCreary, Winifred Marshall, Ida Smith and Lucille Tantlinger.

After a very hilarious initiation characteristic of a group of red-headed people, the following girls were made full-fledged members of the organization: Johanna Reagan, Thelma Layton, Elsie Owens, Katherine Burgham, Marjorie Barr and Miss Messer.

Food is always an important feature of a picnic, and you can easily guess that it was delicious at this one, especially with Mr. Krause along. The menu consisted of fried steak and bacon, sandwiches, fruit salad, coffee, ice cream, cake and fruit.

The Jolly Redheads will hold their regular meeting on the third Monday of each month, and special meetings whenever it is necessary.

Why Study?

"The more you study the more you know
 And the more you know the more you forget
 The more you forget the less you know
 So why study?
 The less you know the less you forget
 And the less you forget the more you know
 So why study?"

Monday, January 24.—This, as you are no doubt aware, is the beginning of a new semester; one more lap to be run in our college career. So, in this my diary, shall i endeavor to turn over a new leaf, and give you such rare tidbits of literary delicacies as were never set before the ravenous appetite of the public befoe.

Tuesday, Jan. 25.—I am a gentleman of leisure today, a man about town, as it were. Such behavior irks me sorely; would that I were in the mood to get to work. But alas; the urge is not strong enough to pull me out of the stagnancy of mental inertia.

Wednesday, Jan. 26.—Among the intricacies and ensnaring entanglements of such stupid things as economics and school management, I am indeed a lost soul. Perchance, by June, I may see the light, but for the present, I am groping in darkness.

Training School News

Sixth Grade Program

The sixth grade of the Training School gave a very beautiful program representing life in the lowland countries of Europe.

Each scene showed a different phase of life. The class impressed the audience with the ease and freedom with which they took their parts. The following is a summary of the scenes:

SCENES FROM HOLLAND

A. Dutch Flower Farm—Dutch Bulb Grower, Ella Starley; "Rosy Dutch Frau," Muriel Williams; "Little Dutch Maid," Wanda Hardin; American farmer, William Harris; American florist, Wilson Wardlow; American gardener, Eleanor Banks; story teller, Arthur Clark.

B.—A Dutch Farm—Dutch farmer, Stanford Allen; Dutch frau, Gertrude Wachs; sons, Phil Cowan and Woodrow Wardlow; Arizona farmer, Robert Parry.

C.—Dutch Cheese Market—Merchant, Charles Burkhardt; buyers, Day Gordon and Golden White; weigher, Richard Brubaker; American wholesale dealer, Robert Payne.

D.—A Dutch Family at Home—Father, Jack Liles; mother, Sue Minton; grandfather, Dixon Martin; grandmother, Kathryn Messenger; elder daughter, Hazel Martin; little daughter, Lura Bell White; son, Marvin Bowman.

E.—Dutch School—Teacher, Dorothy Ludwig; pupils, Gertrude Wachs, Ruth Gardner, Curtin Ingram, Maurice Pyle, Jack Liles.

SCENES FROM BELGIUM

A.—Belgian Lace Making—Teacher, Aileen Youngs; lace makers, Edith Smith, Jean Frances Clary and Leona Martin.

B.—Belgian Milk Delivery—Dog, Big Boy; milk boys, Donald Thompson and Ralph Ashby; housewives, Cecil Ethington, Carrie Ethington and Leoble Martin; reader, Dilworth Baird.

DANISH SCENE

A.—Danish Children at Play—1. Mountain March; 2. Crested Hen; 3. The Ace of Diamonds.

Visitor—(first trip to Washington, D. C.) "Why are the streets named A B C, etc?"

Old Timer—(calmly)—"So that the senators can learn their ABC's readily."

Why are so many average students "C" sick?

NORTH HALL NEWS

Among the new entrants for this semester North Hall has three: Alice Clark, Margaret Drake and Marie Sample.

Mrs. Patton of Globe visited her daughter, Dorothy, over the week-end.

Saturday night an original and interesting feed took place in the room of Clarissa Lambert and Johnny Tyson. The reception committee, the dainty place cards and the enjoyable eats were no small part of the evening's entertainment. Mrs. Patton of Globe, Mrs. Westerfield of Globe, Sunny McDearmon, Marge Cox, Frances Billman, Mamie Stevens, Elsie McGraw, Faire Virgin, Evelyn Smith, Wilma Brooks, Marie Nordstrom, Janie Westerfield, Myrtle Kinsman, Dot Patton, Margaret Wood, Sophie Gerst, Johnny Tyson, Clarissa Lambert, and last, but not least, came Alice Barber and Dot Smith, who were late because the alarm clock failed to do its duty. However, they made up for their tardiness by rendering a harmonious duet.

The officers for the second semester are the following:
 President.....Evelyn Kjellgren
 Vice President.....Mary Thomasson
 Secretary-Treasurer.....Johnny Tyson
 The members of the executive council elected were Myrtle Kinsman, Macarena Haddad, Bertha Mae Richards, Nellie Graham, Alice Knowles, and Eleanor Sears.

MATTHEWS HALL

Exams are over! That's the best news that we know. Crawling out of bed at the wee small hours of three and four is over for a while at least.

Miss "Jo" Williamson spent the week-end at her home in Globe. "Jo" has been having trouble with her eyes and we hope the trip home has proved a help.

It wouldn't seem natural for Marian and "Jo" both to leave for the week-end, so Marian stayed over for the first time this year. It is not necessary to tell Marian how glad we were to have her, our actions spoke for us.

In a Hurry?

What do you think of a girl who tumbles down the stairs to save the trouble of walking down them? Some would say, "I knew it, these young people are living faster every day." But we moderns so approve of the new method that we just let her slide. I'll admit that we were somewhat taken aback at first, but when she finally stopped bumping along she looked around and viewed us as calmly as if it were an every-day affair. Our fears were dismissed. As to who the young lady is—"you'd be surprised."

Visits and Visitors

Ida Smith, Verna Martin and Margaret Jones spent the week-end with friends in Phoenix, and of course report a lovely time.

We are glad to welcome to our hall Misses Geneva Sellers, Ellora McLaughlin and Arena Carlisle, and we hope that they will like our hall as well as we do.

Miss Virginia Amberg of Prescott, former house president of Matthews Hall, was the guest of Misses Irene Wade and Annabelle Jones Sunday.

Miss Pearl Blair, of Casa Grande, who graduated at midyear, was another Matthews Hall visitor. We miss Pearl but hope she is happy with her new life.

Mr. Tom Daly, of Jerome, motored to Tempe last week-end and was the guest of Genevieve d'Arcy.

SOUTH HALL NEWS

Yes, we're growing, 'n' pretty rapidly too. We now have four new girls added to our family and we are very happy to have them with us. Mary Heacock from Santa Ana, Calif., has returned to our campus again. Mary was with us last year and we all welcome her back. Lake Howell comes to us from Snyder, Texas, and Agnes Smith and Mary Oglesby hail from Phoenix.

Since we have a big family it takes a few house officers to steer the family's affairs so Pattie Avery is now our main executive. Fernie Parker is vice president, and the person who records the family budget and correspondence is contained in Ethel Williams.

We've had some visitors, including the ever-welcome Lily Harp and her mother and Mary Carlos.

The closing of the semester brought the loss of two of our old members. Fernie Penniger is now teaching at Young, Arizona. Florence Kerby, the life of our abode, has left us. We'll miss you, Kerby, especially when we gather around the family piano where you were wont to sit and make it warble many a peppy tune. Here's hoping you may return frequently.

Mary Alice Bell was the week-end visitor of Ethel Williams. Mary was given a good exposure to our activities, including the sleeping porch formalities. When Sunday morn came three lassies concocted some patent chocolate, toasted some of the most appetizing toast plus the addition of lots of butter, assimilated these after eating grapefruit and when each had topped this off they ate cinnamon ovals. Being so well fed hardly agreed with our energetic activities, but after a varied program, Mary, Bernice Thomson and Ethel Williams decided to defeat the foe so a combined battle on the dishes began, and thus ends the story of the breakfast.

Lyle Butler and Merle Kartchner became inoculated with the germ of frivolity so the result was a grand feed Sunday night. Of course the main issue was the eats and from the menu you just couldn't keep your mouth from watering. There were sandwiches of all sizes, shapes and flavors, chocolate, fruit cake, jelly, nuts and candy. After the group, which included Thelma Layton, Johanna Smith, Camilla Lunt, Merle Kartchner and Lyle, devoured the dainty repast, Camilla and Merle proceeded to give their stunts. With the addition of heterogeneous costumes from various members of the hall they went through antics characteristic of any high priced comedienne. Regardless of a few minor accidents, everything went splendidly and the group retired just full to the brim, but oh, so happy!

EAST HALL NEWS

House Meeting

A house meeting such as we had last Monday night is always of interest and much excitement was evidenced in this one. The first part of the evening's program was given over to election of officers. The following were re-elected:

President.....Marguerite Ryan
 Vice President.....Virginia Reed
 Secretary-Treasurer.....Mabel Mason

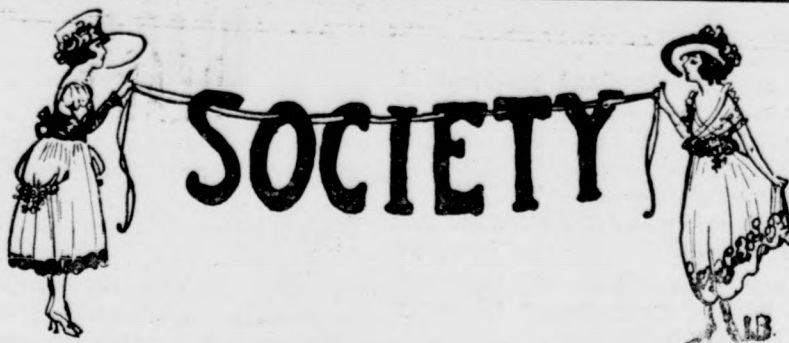

The remainder of the time was spent in the "usual" way discussing such weighty problems as—oh, well you know them well enough and familiar indeed are we with them. Maybe some day we will all—yes, everyone included—learn how to conduct ourselves in the right and proper way.

Birthday Feeds

One of the loveliest affairs of the last week was the birthday feed given in honor of Lilly Stewart, Bess Downing and Harriet Brown, with May Evans and Harriet Whitwell acting as hostesses. Lower Senior was indeed a place of gaiety and—shall we say?—revelry. Anyway, the success of Lower Senior feeds is proverbial and as a result it is unnecessary to mention "all" that was devoured. Those present were Gladys Woodhams, Aileen Wright, Thelma Alexander, Corinne Griffith, Harriet Whitwell, May Evans and the honored guests.

So many birthdays this week! Catherine McFadden's was celebrated in the form of a handkerchief shower. After the preliminary greetings, etc., games of truth, rummy and bridge were enjoyed. And most important, of course, the eats, which consisted of pimiento and ham sandwiches, hot tamales, popcorn, candy, chocolate, cooies and cake. The invited guests included Mary Hickox, Dorothy Cochran, Alice Ryan, Alice Knowles, Hazel Roberts, Elizabeth Fisher, Katherine Farrell, Kathleen Burgham, Lena Bono and Catherine McFadden.

Room 3 marked the scene of a gay festive scene Saturday in honor of Bess Byerly's birthday. The eats were the best ever—hot tamales, buns, salad, sandwiches and tea, and let me tell you, everyone present reported the best time ever. The guest list included Esther Hodges, Helen (Continued on Page 4.)

PIERIAN

Formal initiation and election of officers, Tuesday night, January 18.
 President.....Irene Wade
 Vice President.....Zena Cumard
 Treasurer.....Mary Thomasson
 Secretary.....Jessie Jones
 Publicity Chairman.....

New members—Edith Bartell, Kathleen Burgham, Catherine McFadden, Mary Hickox, Dorothy Walker, Barbara Connelly, Frances Wheeler.

Old members—Bess Byerly, Mary Thomasson, Zena Cumard, Irene Wade, Jessie Jones, Louise Gibbs.

Bridge Luncheon

Old members of Pierian Society gave a bridge luncheon at La Casa Vieja, January 15, for the new members.

Those present were Irene Wade, Louise Gibbs, Zena Cumard, Jessie Jones, Bess Byerly, Mary Hickox, Catherine McFadden, Barbara Connelly, Edith Bartlett, Kathleen Burgham, Isabel Brogan, Frances Wheeler, and Miss Wilson.

PHILOMATHIAN

The Philomathians met in the "Y" rooms for a brief business meeting. Officers for the new semester were elected. Our president is Lucille Tantlinger. We all know Lucille so well and know she'll make a fine leader. Ione Hodges is vice president. Although new, she is made of the material that makes a success. Ann Leonard is secretary. We all love her with her peppy, cheery ways, and feel sure that the minutes of the forthcoming meetings will have a zest in them. Georgia Kay, the witty Freshman, will take care of our money. We hope she'll guard it and distribute it to its best advantage.

We are also proud to announce that the Philomathian Society has been elected to join the Drama League in connection with the University of Arizona. This honor has been given us in recognition of the work done last year in this line.

ZETETIC

Zetetics held a short, peppy meeting Tuesday night at which they elected new officers for the coming semester:

President.....Evelyn Kjellgren
 Vice President.....Lucille Walters
 Secretary.....Lillian Berg
 Treasurer.....Verna Martin

The remainder of the evening was spent discussing "The Lost Pleiad," and making plans for the assembly program.

DELTA THETA

The first important business of the Delta Theta Society for the new year was the election of officers for the second semester. This was done Tuesday evening, Jan. 18. The officers for the coming semester are:

President.....Dora Garrison
 Vice President.....Marie Burum
 Secretary-Treasurer.....Minnie Laird
 Reporter.....Kathryn Stidham

Formal initiation of the pledges was held in the Training School office following the Christmas vacation. Each new member contributed a number to the program, which consisted of comic songs, piano solos, vocal solos and readings. After the pledges had been put through their paces, delicious refreshments were served. The pledges initiated were: Marie Burum, Sophia Gerst, Winona Bryan, Beth Carter, Edith Burum, Geneva Burrows, Louise Goodwin, Sophia Johannsen and Ruth Hazen.

Casts for two new plans which will be given in the near future were announced at the last meeting. The society also voted to assist Miss Messer in the directing of the play, "As You Like It," which will be given College Day.

The Delta Thetas are very sorry to lose two of their members. Miss Carmelita Hardin has accepted a position to teach school at Nogales, while Lucille Pearson has accepted a position in the Mesa public schools. We all wish them the best of luck.

CLONIAN NOTES

The burning of the "C" on the butte was on of the last tasks the Clonian pledges had to perform. This has been an annual performance and is one of the traditions of the society.

After the "C" was burned the old members gave a dinner at La Casa Vieja in honor of the neophytes. Covers were laid for Mr. and Mrs. I. D. Payne, Miss Burky, Ida Smith, Josephine Williamson, Marion Freeman, Virginia Kershaw, Dorothy Lee Clark, Mamie Stevens, Ida Hayes, Eva Rhodes, May Evans, Virginia Hatch, Verena Miescher, Thelma Layton, Emma Lou Miescher, Ethel Dawson, Faire Virgin, Jessie Pomeroy, Nellie Graham and Gladys Woodhams.

Following a very interesting program given by the pledges, the formal initiation and pin service was given.

This evening will be another of the Clonian good times we will all treasure, certainly the pledges, who are Ida Hayes, Virginia Hatch, Eva Rhodes, Ethel Dawson, Emma Lou Miescher, Thelma Layton and Nellie Graham, for on this night they became full-fledged Clonians.

Our last meeting was just a short business meeting at which we elected officers for the new semester.

Marion Freeman will take Ida Smith's place as president, Dorothy Lee Clark will follow Marian Freeman as vice president, Gladys Woodhams will succeed Virginia Kershaw as secretary, and Josephine Williamson will take the office of treasurer, which has been so capably handled by Verena Miescher.

The new officers will be installed at the Clonian rendezvous next Tuesday. We feel that the retiring officers have done very commendable work and have given a great deal to their society. Theirs has been the job of getting the society started on its work for the year and although it will be given after the new semester begins, theirs has been the task of planning the society's assembly.

The new officers have before them the All-Society Dance and the camping trip as two of their special tasks, and as these girls have worked hard on committees and have helped to make the last year a success we feel that they are capable and will carry out their work with the same degree of success and come up to the same standards that have been attained by their predecessors.

CACTUS WALKING CLUB

The members of the C. W. C. met Tuesday and made plans for another of their popular and famous hikes.

During the meeting we also elected officers for the rest of the year. The officers are:

President.....Evelyn Kjellgren
 Vice President.....Dell Rollins
 Secretary-Treasurer.....Evelyn Smith

HOMESTEADERS

Last week was one of many occasions and events but none were more heartily enjoyed than the Homestead picnic. (Ask the girls.) We all "piled" in the truck and a couple of cars and left for the desert.

The hot "pups" and buns, mingled with other objects favorable to the digestive apparatus provide the necessary nourishments. Those who shared in the festivities were: Virgie Harris, Janie Westerfield, Eva Rhodes, Jo Williamson, Evelyn Smith, Ida Smith and Mrs. L. P. Cole, our "preceptress." The Homesteaders who were there were Jenner Hatch, Leonard Clements, Merrill Hatch, Dell Rollins, Billy Cole, and Verling Marshall.

PHI BETA EPSILON

The Phi Betas met on Jan. 11, at the home Sadie Goodwin. Mr. and Mrs. Holaday, Mrs. Wilkie and Miss Blair were all able to be with us and we planned many things for the future. (Continued on Page 4.)

DORMITORY NEWS

Grant, La Vern Gentner, Etta Nicol, Eunice and Leona Koch, Isabel Brogan, Ada Squire and Bess Byerly.

Lillie Setwart gave quite a delightful feed Thursday night at 9 o'clock. Sandwiches, cocoa, cake and candy were enjoyed by all "the gang," who stopped studying for exams long enough to partake of some "nourishment."

"Nough for feeds for the present. We surely are delighted to have Rita Ford back in our midst again and we hope she was as glad to see us as we were to see her. It does seem like old times for sure.

Visitors

Mrs. Burt of Douglas visited Winona Bryan last week-end.

Mrs. Rosa MacKay of Globe, a member of our present Legislature, was one of the callers at East Hall last week. Horror of horrors! She inspected our rooms, too. We're always delighted to have distinguished callers, too, but oh, my! wouldn't we be delighted to know when they are coming so we could "sorta" straighten up—you know? Not that our rooms aren't always in perfect order—nothing like that!

Marguerite Ryan and Rita Ford spent a most enjoyable week-end in Phoenix.

Janie Westerfield's mother visited her last week.

Supper at the River

Exams were over and everyone felt carefree, so a celebration took place at the river in the form of a supper. Never did bacon, eggs, buns, coffee and oranges taste so good as they did last Friday evening. The nice part of it was centers did not have to be passed up. The girls that enjoyed the feed were "Pat" Wood, "Winnie" Marshall, Lucille Walters, Ann Leonard and Jo Pharaoh.

What could be more delightful than the aroma of Campbell's Best and black coffee? Such smells were wafted from one of the rooms of our gang. Within, the sight that met your eyes would arouse the appetite of the most ardent dieter. Salad, a huge bowlful; sandwiches, pyramids of 'em; potato chips, olives, and other goodies—and the cake, the sort that melts in your mouth.

But that is not all, for Helen Roby remembered her own youthful failing of eating and sent food all the way to Tempe. Then didn't we feast—a banquet fit for a king! Soup, wafers, fruit salad, sandwiches, potato chips, olives, pickles, cheese crackers, ginger snaps and—oh, you know—just everything. Those fortunates attending were Kate Roby, Pat Woods, Lucille Walters, Ann Leonard, Jo Pharaoh, and Winnie Marshall.

Mrs. Burt of Douglas was a visitor to Winona Bryan this week.

BISHOP BOLTON

a one-act comedy, "Good Theater," by Christopher Marlowe, before Bishop Bolton's address. The cast consisted of Alla Wilkins as the "Girl"; Beatrice Filisetti, "First Usher"; Mildred Sutton, "Second Usher"; Evelyn Weaver, "Will," and Mildred Hall as "Frank." The scene of the play was a million-dollar theater on Broadway. William Shakespeare and Frank Bacon returned to visit the modern theater for one night. Miss Messer coached the play and Miss Alda Johnson gave a solo dance. Other members of the Timakaena Society are Florence Super, Edith Harris, Margaret Knudson, Ann Thompson, Dora Cardon, Hazel Farrow, Florence Hernon, and Mr. Ostrander, monitor. Miss Messer is an honorary member of the Timakaena.

elsewhere. The Student Council feels very fortunate in securing her services as our director. In all the faculty members approached, none were more loyal and willing to co-operate than she in making our program a success.

The closing event of the day will be the big dance on the tennis court, which is being directed by Lawrence Terrell and Archie Thompson. Everyone is cordially invited to this.

The president of the Student Council, John H. Barry, and all the members of the council beseech each and everyone of you to aid and assist us in making this a gala day in the history of T. S. T. C. This is your program and it is to your interest that it be successful.

"I'm getting into a pickle," said the worm as he bored his way into the cucumber.

SOCIETY

ture. Mildred was there with her violin, Ruth with her banjo and with Evelyn at the piano we had a great time singing Phi Beta songs.

We read the first act of a new play, "Six-Cylinder Love," and found it quite worth while.

Everyone was quite surprised when the clock pointed to 8:45, and the girls began serving hot chocolate and wafers. We were all glad that they didn't forget.

Last Tuesday night found all Phi Betas gathered in Alpha Hall, but only for a short business meeting. The study of our play was not taken up because of semester examinations but we will probably finish it soon.

The new officers for the coming semester were elected and they are as follows:

President.....Lottie Brimhall Vice President.....Idella Moer Secretary.....Kate Roby Treasurer.....Jean Taylor Reporter.....Margaret Carr

We are sure that they will prove themselves very efficient and help Phi Beta on towards her goal.

LAMBDA KAPPA

We all met at the fountain and hiked to the river. Here Miss Hayden joined us with the eats. Wood gathering aided our appetites. Business before pleasure, so we elected our new officers for the following semester. We are very proud of our new officers and know they will be very successful in all they do.

The new officers are as follows:

President.....Johnny Beth Tyson Vice President.....Alice Barber Secretary.....Marjorie Cox Treasurer.....Clarissa Lambert

The eats were then brought on and Miss Hayden had a surprise for us. She had brought tamales. We gathered around the fire and sang while Ruth played the banjo.

A meeting was held in East Hall parlor Jan. 17. This meeting was short because of the examinations. We are glad to have back with us Imogene Hoffman.

GEOGRAPHIC SOCIETY

Dr. Emma L. Merritt gave the Geographic Society a very interesting talk on the evening of Jan. 6, on life in Paris while a student of the University of Paris. Her talk differed greatly from the usual travelog type, in that she gave the inside life of the people, including such things as apartments, family marketing, home life and customs, student life and other intimate details. Dr. Merritt is an honorary member of the society. She has spent a number of weeks in Tempe as the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Hoover.

The last part of this meeting was given over to business and three new members were voted into the society. The new members are Eva Rhodes, Sophia Johannsen and Robert Stroud. Officers have been elected for next semester as follows:

President.....Alton Riggs Vice President.....Estelle Farnsworth Secretary-Treasurer.....Mrs. Krause Leonard Stewart has been appointed to succeed Katherine Stidham as chairman of the program committee.

The last meeting of the society before the holidays calls for mention. Mrs. Craig of Phoenix gave a real treat in an illustrated talk on Palestine, which was especially fitting for the holiday season. Later we were all surprised by a display of culinary ability by Bess Byerly, Lavern Gentner and Esther Hodges, which was the occasion for a pleasant social time. A very useful and attractive gift was also presented to Mr. Hoover, our monitor.

Tonight Dr. Bruno Dietrich, geographer at Breslau University, will be our special guest.

ALPHA NEWS

Miss Beck Leaves

With those horrible semester exams (especially the Introduction to Education one) came the disheartening news that Miss Beck, our beloved house mother, was leaving us. She procured that long desired B. E. and now she has gone to teach in Jerome. We are saddened because she has left us, but there is gladness in the thought that she is happy in her work. The sincerest wishes of the Alpha Hall girls go with Miss Beck, for she has made her own place in the hearts of all of us. May happiness and success be with her wherever she may go.

Mrs. Williams New House Mother Now here's some good news! It had to be an A-1 person who could fill Miss Beck's place, but we found her. Our new house mother is Mrs. Agnes Williams. Mrs. Williams began her illustrious career in the public eye of the college some nine years ago as editor of the Student, now the Collegian, and president of East Hall. We are glad that she is continuing it as our house mother. Mrs. Williams takes English and bad grades with the rest of us. She is fast on the way toward that said B. E., but we're happy that while on the way she'll be here to inspect and give us a C if we forget to empty our wastebaskets.

"Kitty" Leaves

Worse luck yet! Where has all the sunshine and laughter gone? Why don't we hear some one singing? Kitty has gone away. Didn't you know? Yes—Miss Kiebertz in the classroom but Kitty from Kaliforny on the campus, took that L. A. train on Saturday night with sails flying. She says that education is still good stuff but "education nearer home" is a better brand, so for the next semester that's the kind she'll use. Sorry as we are to lose her, we wish Kitty the best of luck in her new venture.

Sophie Jo and Ruth B. became busy as the proverbial bee and moved their belongings into Kitty Kiebertz's apartment last Saturday afternoon. Anyone to contest their action? Spik up neow.

Visitors

Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Sweet, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Nelson and Mrs. Esther Nelson were guests of Mrs. Williams Sunday afternoon. Mrs. Sweet and Mr. Nelson are former students of Tempe. Mr. Nelson used to live here when our hall was a boys' dormitory and he found a rather amusing surprise to know that girls live here now.

Last Sunday afternoon Mr. Wayland Barnett took his sister, Alice, over to see the Arizona Temple. She enjoyed her trip so much that she made up her mind to go again at the first opportunity. This Sunday Miss Helen Denniston took Alice and her roommate, Gertrude Hoffart, over to Msa and Chandler and other points of interest in the valley. The trip was made in Miss Denniston's car.

A girl from Indiana has joined the ranks of the Alpha girls. No, we don't know if she is a relative of Tarkington's "Gentleman from Indiana," but we do know that we are glad to welcome Miss Olive Goodykoontz into our Hall.

KALAKAGATHIA NEWS

A poster box was presented to the society last Tuesday evening by Mr. Fairbanks. The box, which is to be placed at the Main Building for the weekly poster announcing meetings and social events, is in the shape of a flame rising from crossed logs. This lovely gift will always remind the K. K. A.'s of Mr. Fairbanks, who is an honorary member of the society.

We are indeed sorry to lose one of our members, Wilma Peterson, who has stopped school this past week. Wilma has been so active in campus activities that it is with regret that we see her go.

The new officers for the second semester are: President.....Estella Farnsworth Vice President.....Evelyn Smith Secretary-Treasurer.....Ferne Parker

Industrial Arts Club Organized

Last week the men of the Industrial Arts Department met and organized what is to be known as the Industrial Club. This club was organized for the purpose of promoting interest along industrial lines and should prove to be one of the leading organizations of the campus. It is open to those men interested in industrial arts such as farming, all kinds of building, manufacturing, mechanical arts, etc.

A member will be appointed from time to time to give a talk on some line of industry. In this way each member is sure to derive something useful for himself as also will the others hearing his talk. Along with this, trips are to be taken around the valley, visiting various industries. The club is considering taking a trip to Miami between now and the end of school and going through the various branches of the Inspiration Copper Company. This will prove of great educational value to those interested in the mining industry.

Mr. Fairbanks and Mr. Clark, of the Industrial Arts Department, are monitors of the club. Lloyd Ledford was elected president and Frank Horne secretary and treasurer. Leonard Clements gave the first service talk on "The Concentration of Copper Ore" last night.

DEAR K.

Dear K.—Please give me the results in the final bouts of Friday night, Jan. 21.

BILL G.

Answer—Kauzey and Goddard were able to get a draw by terrific fighting. Kid Windes, the Australian bantamweight champion, was floored in the seventh round. He won the praise of the crowd, however, for being as game as he was.

Dear K.—Can you inform me as to how many members there are in the "Sack" Club at present?

L. W.

Answer.—Up to Friday night there were twenty members in the club. Three new candidates, Leonard Clements, Clifford Prather and Doyle Harbison, applied for membership over the week-end. They were initiated Monday morning in front of the main building.

Dear K.—To settle an argument, will you please tell us whether boys wear long underwear in winter?

V. M. and I. S.

Answer.—Biologically speaking from a temperamental standpoint, and considering all circumstances from an unbiased point of view, I would say that this practice varies with the latitude, altitude and nearness to large bodies of water. For further information consult the sales department of Montgomery Ward & Co., and "Papa."

Dear K.—When is a horse a musician?

M. W.

Answer.—When he has his cornet.

Dear K.—How was the "card" in the Arts Building arena the other day?

L. W.

Answer.—I heard that some of the boys are in the enunciation process of a kill eeze but I'm not sure that some one was not floored for the count.

Dear K.—I am just a green freshman, having entered this wonderful institution of learning this semester. The girls in the dormitory are always talking about "Mother Minnie." Would you please tell me which dormitory she is preceptress over?

FRESHIE.

Answer.—Yes my dear. "Mother Minnie" is preceptress of Farm Hall. Her chickens are much easier to handle than the others on the campus as they go to bed when it gets dark and get up without a rising bell.

Dear K.—Miss Bittman has put me on my "honor" to behave in the hall. What shall I do?

A. G.

Answer.—Watch your step. Your foundation is very weak.

Dear K.—I would like to know what a snowbird is.

I. P.

Answer.—A snowbird is a dope fiend who sniffs a white powder off his fingers. It is not the ordinary white sparrow that you are thinking of.

Dear K.—Why are some women like strong liquor?

L. C.

Answer.—They are both intoxicating.

Dear K.—Why did Pete bring a gate home with him last night?

L. C.

Answer.—Pete is the new repairman on the campus. The gate will be fixed and replaced at North.

Dear K.—I am going on a picnic in the near future. Can you give me one of the latest holds?

E. S.

Answer.—The half-nelson is a very common hold but for difficult opponents use the stranglehold, which is just a sure grip around the neck.

Dear K.—What books are we to buy for School Management?

NEARLY BROKE.

Answer.—The list can be found under the name of School Management in the Readers Guide.

Dear K.—Can you give me some favorite last words?

ANSWER.—I can't swim a stroke.

LITERARY SPEAKING So she went into the garden to cut a cabbage leaf to make an apple pie. And the great she-bear was walking down the street and poked her head in the shop.

"What-no soap?" Then he died. And she very impudently married the barber

And there was present at the wedding All the Hobbilbies And all the Joblillies And the Great Panjandrum Himself With the little round button on the top;

And they all played catch-as-catch-can Till the gunpowder ran out of their boots, So it did. E. L. M.

"Is the family upstairs, Scotch?" "No—why?" "They're raising such a commotion because the baby swallowed a penny."

RED-HEADED TEACHERS

takes him to different schools every day during the session, and he comes into contact with virtually all of the teachers.

"I cannot say that I have observed any difference, but that may be because I looked for none," said Mr. Hynes. "But there are quite a number of auburn-haired teachers in the public schools, and a somewhat liberal sprinkling of principals with hair of the same shade. While I would not say instructors thus adorned possess a degree of mentality higher than the others, still they are far from being below grade."

John B. Conniff, in charge of certification for Louisiana teachers, has a plan to provide a special certificate for red-haired teachers. As Mr. Conniff explained it, this certificate renders the holder eligible to teach anything, anywhere, any time, here or hereafter.

"To harmonize adequately with the comprehensiveness, superior attainment, and dignity of the teacher of 'Titan coiffure,' the certificate is inscribed in the stately, scholarly, classical tongue of ancient Rome," said Mr. Conniff.

The form of the certificate is Class X-A, the highest. It is titled "Red Certificate." The certificate states it is issued to the holder "in evidence of red hair and manifests the highest intelligence, and to him or her is accorded authority by which he or she may teach everything, everywhere, whether in heaven, or on earth, under the earth, in purgatory, or even in Avernus itself."

The movement that is said to be gathering force in all sections of the country to recognize the superior ability believed lodged with the red-heads, still is somewhat dormant in New Orleans. Superintendent Bauer may wait until the opening of schools, when he can make first-hand observations before lending his voice to the discussion.

Pete M.: "Didn't you get this joke from Judge?"

Mable M.: "Well, I'll always take my fun where I find it."

College Girl: "Mary is so old-fashioned she even used the word 'Petticoat!'"

Another Gold Digger: "Oh well, maybe that was just a 'slip.'"

BOYS! What could be better than those good old hamburgers and a cup of red hot coffee?
