Senior Follies To Be Presented May 12

What? The Senior Follies! Let's put it over, big. In fact it must, absolutely must, go over! There are several reasons why this is so.

The first, and biggest, reason is our Annual. This year's staff is putting out perhaps the best book ever published by any class of T. S. T. C. But that book costs money. Everyone knows that business is not in the best possible condition this year and that money is, to a greater or lesser degree, as scarce as hen's teeth. Consequently, advertising is hard to get and— To make a long story short, the Annual staff needs money if their work is not to be done for nothing. Our Follies will supply that money, IF YOU SUPPORT THEM. In plain English, BUY YOUR TICKETS NOW.

Second, for the sake of everyone who is now, or has been, working to make this program a success, do your bit. It isn't much for each one of you, but it's a lot to them. Who wants to work for nothing? Of course, you say, they get the fun of being in it; but did we hear many people clamoring for a share of that fun? No! It's work, real work, and it's UP TO YOU to show your appreciation by being there.

When we ask support for our Follies we are talking, not to the Senior class, but to the school. The Senior Follies belongs, not to the Seniors, but to the whole school. Therein lies the third reason we are choking down your unsuspecting necks. We hope that our First Annual Follies will be the foundation on which succeeding classes may build and improve until our Follies may be better than anything the University can offer.

Don't get the impression that our Follies is no good, because it is. It is a Tempe product—author, director, chorus director, cast, everything and everybody, from beginning to end. That's no reason why it isn't good. Who knows—home talent is often best, after all.

So. We need the money, you need the entertainment; why not get together? When you've got what we want and we've got what you want everyone should be happy. We are, if you'll do your part. BUY A TICKET.

Four H Club Fair Is Great Success

Last week the 4-H Club Fair, sponsored by Tempe State Teachers College and directed by Mr. Ostrander and his student assistants, with their training school children assistants, proved to the valley that agriculture was one of the big subjects in the curriculum.

Here many people of the Salt River Valley met and saw the work of the schools in the fields of agriculture. Many were impressed with the work their children had done and were convinced that all the pupils need efficient guiding to reveal undreamed-of talent.

BULLDOGS LOSE INFORMAL CONFERENCE TRACK MEET

The last track meet of the season was held at the Phoenix Indian School Saturday, April 30. Tempe lost by a number of points, being nosed out of most of their strong events by Gila, represented by Mr. Mortenson. The most outstanding member of our team during the meet was "Chick" Vihel, who took first in the 440-yard run and second in the half mile.

This has been the most successful track season at Tempe for several years and we hope that they will continue to improve next year. "Power to you, Tractors!"

Strong Language on Weak Coffee
Guest (after asking for tenth cup of coffee)—Please, ma'am, may I have another cup of coffee?

Hostess—Certainly, Mr. Tank. I see you like coffee quite well.
Guest—Yes, I do. If I didn't I wouldn't drink so much water to get a little.

STUDENTS CHOSEN TO REPRESENT T. S. T. C.

A council appointed by Ida Smith met with Miss Burky last Tuesday and, after much deliberation, decided that the following girls should be sent to Asilomar, California, in June as delegates to the Y. W. C. A.: Grace Chilton, undergraduate representative.

Marie Burum, world fellowship chairman.
Emma Loe Meischer, program chairman.

Miss Burky will go with these girls and also Rachel Bogart, president, who was chosen some time ago as "Stuck Up."

We expect these girls to bring back something worth while to T. S. T. C.

California Educator Addresses Assembly

"Education is what remains after one has forgotten everything he has learned," stated Dr. Brooks of Pomona College, in his talk before the college assembly Friday, April 22. "Education is the capacity to use what we have learned," he continued.

"Democracy has given America a new idealism in education," believes Dr. Brooks. "No civilization can be secure unless it discovers the moral foundation. There is an established law which can not be broken in the physical world, which can not be changed. We must discover what it is. No man ever lived who succeeded in breaking the moral law. He broke himself against it," earnestly remarked Dr. Brooks.

"Freedom demands responsibility or else it becomes bondage once more," said Dr. Brooks, when speaking of the modern trend to be free. "Any State or Nation must rest upon freedom. Turn aside from Plato, if you will; substitute another idealism, but justify your freedom with sound thinking. Freedom comes through discipline to be and to do your very best," he added.

Dr. Brooks believes that to be stable, any civilization must rest on personality. In four generalities he summed up the type of person who can make a new civilization:

1. Intellectually straight: This is an extremely difficult process and involves an honest discipline of our capacities. No man is intellectually straight who does not face facts. It never does any harm to believe the truth.

2. Morally sound: No man does his duty until he reaches the point where he would rather do it than anything else. To be morally sound, you should discover the moral law as it is written in your own being.

3. Socially just: To be socially just demands clarity of mind, discipline of moral nature. To do right is to live with a genuine regard for all people in your life.

4. Spiritually alive: Faith is the courage of a great adventure in behalf of your ideals. Faith is the light on the hill tops that leads you on when you know your own path leads through darkness. To be spiritually alive is to be alive on top, responsive to the highest we can know. It is the difference in spirits which lifts your chin, puts your courage in your soul and makes you venture out toward your ideals.

Dr. Brooks has supreme confidence in the attitude toward life. As the three factors that will make a new civilization, he gives the faith of Jesus, the spirit of science, and the spirit of democracy.

A GIRL!!

Just because Cecil E. is in love is no reason why he should enter the girls' change room at Tempe Beach.

Grocer—Little boy, what can I do for you?

Harvey Tyson—Mamma sent me to get change for a dollar bill and told me she'd give you the dollar tomorrow.

Kindergarten Department Organizes "Froebel Club"

The kindergarten department was organized on this campus in 1915.

Since that time 63 students have been graduated from this department. Many additional students have taken kindergarten subjects as electives and have shown a great interest in the work.

There is now on the campus a formal organization known as the "Froebel Club," whose purpose is to sponsor a big get-together reunion of the kindergarten graduates of this department and all kindergartners near us in service, to give one assembly program during the year, to make the kindergarten and its work better known and appreciated, and to bring before its members inspirational and educational speakers.

The club was organized on Feb. 14, 1927, and was unanimously approved by the faculty March 8. A constitution was drawn up and adopted on March 14. This provides for a scholarship standard paralleling that of other campus societies.

The members of this club are Freshmen and Normal Seniors studying the special kindergarten course. There are twenty-two in the present membership. As yet we have no honorary members.

The officers are as follows: President—Benny Lou Reedy; Vice President and Educational Program Chairman—Helen Nash; Secretary-Treasurer—Alice Knowles; Publicity Manager—Margaret Jones; Social Program Committee—Alice Ryan and Dorothy Smith.

The organization and success of the club are due, to a great extent, to the efforts of Miss Benny Lou Reedy and Miss Clara S. Brown, our monitor. Although we are a new organization in Tempe and in Arizona, we expect to accomplish what we set out to do and also have many good times.

Royal Acclaim Given "Pollyanna"

"Pollyanna," the Freshman class play, given in the T. S. T. C. auditorium Thursday, April 28, was one of the best liked productions that has been given this year and as such received much favorable comment.

Emma Warren, as Pollyanna Whittier, won and held the hearts of the audience completely on her first appearance as the little girl in the red and white checked gingham dress. Throughout the play, Emma displayed much dramatic ability, proving that she is a very promising young actress. The three Ladies Aiders, Merle Kartchner, Mary Hickox, and Katherine Willwebber, starred in the first act, presenting an appropriate setting for the entrance of Miss Pollyanna. The gossip and sour-grape sarcasm of the three was very amusing. Sophie Johannsen in the role of Miss Polly Harrington, the aunt of Pollyanna was one of the strongest characters in the play. This part was very difficult to interpret because Aunt Polly had to be represented as a cold, aristocratic woman, yet everyone had to love her. Miss Johannsen received much praise for her fine characterization. Dilworth Baird, borrowed for the occasion, took the part of Jimmy Bean, an orphan of twelve years. Later when Jimmy grew up and returned home from college, Charles Gilmore appeared in the part. Arthur Mercer, as John Pendleton Esquire, was perfectly at home in his bachelor surroundings until the glad girl entered his domain. Mercer learned Pollyanna's glad game quickly and is now going about the campus teaching it to whoever wishes to learn. Virgil Daniel, equipped with side burns and such necessary accessories, was none other than "Bleeker," Pendleton's man. Daniel enjoyed the part of butler so much it is reported he is trying to get a position as butler during the summer vacation. Wallace DeWitt as Dr. Chilton added a bit of romance to the play by rekindling a love affair of twenty years' standing, with Aunt Polly Harrington.

The theme of the play, "Pollyanna," is that in everything something can be found to be glad about, no matter how dire the catastrophe may appear. "Pollyanna's" bright, cheery way of looking on the happy side of life was called the "glad game."

Much credit is due to Marie Nordstrom for her valuable aid in handling the make-up work. The students also wish to thank the business men of Tempe for their co-operation in handling the play tickets.

The production cast consisted of Lawrence Terrill, flunky; Claude Michea, property manager; Pearl Saylor, costumes; Charles Gilmore, business, and Mrs. K. B. Meyers, director. The success of "Pollyanna" was due largely to the excellent coaching of Mrs. Meyers.

Y. W. C. A. Cabinet for Next Year Announced

Did we enjoy the camping trip to Rosemary Lodge? Ask one of us. After supper Friday night, a new version of the opera, "Carmen," was given. The music, acting and costumes were very modern.

Saturday morning and afternoon we spent working on next year's program. Saturday night we had a camp fire. Each old member read a verse that pertained to her special work. This was followed by songs and folk dancing.

Sunday morning church services were held in the shade of the rocks on the hill. Miss Burky gave us new ideas and things to think about. Speaking of the eats! Well, we surely proved that all of the Y. W. girls can cook. Rosemary Lodge is well built and equipped and a wonderful view of the Salt River possible from there. Everyone would have enjoyed staying longer, but studying had to be done.

Tempe Teachers Win Two From Flagstaff

DELTA THETAS PRESENT "VANISHING PRINCESS"

Last Monday the Delta Theta Society presented "The Vanishing Princess" to the student body. It was a play by John Golden which was set in a novelty shop about Christmas.

The cast of characters were: Miss Cindy—Winona Bryan; Matinka—Alberta Bealey; Mr. I. Say—Louise Goodwin; King—Sophie Gerst; Property Manager—Audrey Pierce; Costume Manager—Elizabeth Carter; Stage Manager—Geneva Burrows; Lighting Manager—Kathryn Stidham; Program—Galen Sapp; Director—Marion Messer.

"Y" Cabinet's Camping Trip

The new cabinet girls for next year have been chosen and are already hard at work. We feel that these girls will carry on "Y" work to higher fields than we have been able to reach this year. The fine spirit of enthusiasm, loyalty and sincerity proves their interest in the "Y."

We are indeed proud to say that Miss Burky will be with us again next year. The "Y" girls feel that "Y" work would be impossible without the helping hand of our beloved secretary. The cabinet of 1928 is as follows:

President—Rachel Bogart; Vice President—Leona Howell; Secretary—Nellie Mastin; Treasurer—Alice Knowles; Undergraduate Representative—Grace Chilton; Social Chairman—Margaret O'Connor; World Fellowship—Marie Burum; Publicity—Ilene Joyce; Finance—Nellie Graham; Program—Emma Lou Meischer; Social Service—Geneva Burroughs; Rooms—Elizabeth Adams; Sunday Wake-Up—Katherine Willwebber; Conference—Elsie McGraw.

Industrial Club Holds Initiation

Last Wednesday night, April 27, the Industrial Club held its weekly meeting and initiated into its membership Harlan Russell, Jesse Hayes and Robert Stroud. A very interesting initiation was planned by the committee and furnished much amusement for the members present. The liberality and promptness of the candidates in their Mississippi flood relief donations was very impressive.

The club has a number of interesting problems planned for the remainder of the year, chief of which is the labeling of the different species of trees and plants on the campus. Trips to various industrial plants in the valley will be taken from time to time.

Mr. Clark and Mr. Fairbanks, monitors of the club, made very interesting and stimulating talks on the benefits that are to be derived from an organization of this kind. Membership is open to any male student in the school interested in Industrial Arts subjects and with customary grades that other campus societies require. After the meeting a bountiful tray of food was heartily partaken of amidst jokes and laughter of the evening's events.

JUST A LITTLE MISTAKE

Deb promised Beulah that he would call for her after church service. Arriving before the sermon was ended, he decided to wait inside and find out what it was all about. Just as he stole in the door the minister shouted:

"Are you looking for salvation?"
Somewhat rattled by his strange surroundings, Deb blurted out:
"No, sir; I-I'm looking for Beulah McCreeary."

Steve—How do you study when Sutter is typewriting?
Barney, Oh, that's easy; I read a chapter between clicks.

The Tempe Bulldogs beat Flagstaff twice in as many days to take a firm hold on the informal junior college championship.

In the first game, which resulted in a score of 6 to 1, Prather kept Flagstaff's few hits well scattered. Barney made a wonderful one-hand stab at a hot drive down third base line. The game was fast and there was little doubt as to who would win it after the first couple of innings.

Terrell pitched the second game and held Flagstaff to nine goose eggs while his teammates were marking up eight tallies. He allowed but six hits and fanned five batters. Smith and Pomeroy both got circuit clouts with one man on. These two blows accounted for half of Tempe's runs. The few fans who witnessed the first game were given their time's worth, and the larger crowd on the second day was not disappointed. Tomorrow the team plays the Lumberjacks at Flagstaff. Let's give them our mental support toward clinching without possible dispute the informal junior college championship of the State. Following are the box scores for the two games.

EDITORIAL

The recent edition of The Collegian should suggest several things for thinking people to think about.

In the first place, perhaps this was not in the paper: The college societies must stand for scholarship and not popularity if they are to be an important factor in any college life.

Part two: Why should one person be allowed to hold more than one important student activity position? Are the number of capable students limited to such a marked extent?

Number three: Censored by editor. T. N. T. If the writer of this article will consult the parties concerned, I think the answer will be more fairly answered. V. W. M.

A NEEDED RULE

As the school year draws to a close, we look back over our year's experience and ask ourselves: "How did we do it?"

Every night in the week there are meetings of some kind. Some nights two clubs, committees, or other groups meet at the same time.

AN ANSWER NEEDED

The above article brings to bear several conditions which are very vital and indeed true. Many students do have a great deal to do with outside activities.

It might be well to add here that although The Collegian is a student paper, it is not a medium for furthering squabbles or misunderstandings between members of the student body.

THE FROEBEL CLUB

Among the new organizations on the campus, the Froebel Club stands out as being of great use to its members.

Through the Froebel Club the teachers will be able to keep up with new problems and methods used in this department.

THE PROVERBIAL "THREE WEEKS"

The old phrase of "Three Weeks to Go" is just about here. If there are any who wait for the last three weeks before the quarter or semester ends, it is time they were getting in line.

reading, projects, and other collateral material, is indeed a wise and far-sighted student.

World Fellowship

BITS FROM ASILOMAR DIVISION BULLETIN

The Asilomar Division is uniquely fortunate in having as its summer meeting place the Asilomar Conference Grounds, which are owned by the National Board of the Y. W. C. A.

The outstanding task which faces the women of the Student Movement this year is the framing of a new national purpose.

It is, therefore, the duty of each President to make sure that some group, either the cabinet or a special Purpose Commission, gives its most searching thought to this question.

THE CONFERENCE CHAIRMAN

There is no more difficult or important position in the region than that of Asilomar Conference Chairman.

Above all, we ask for a person of whom we can say, "She has great certainties in her life."

Griseida Kuhlman, University of California at Los Angeles, has been chosen as the Asilomar Conference Chairman.

WHAT LAST YEAR'S REPRESENTATIVE SAYS ABOUT ASILOMAR

Katharine Stevens: "I was impressed last year by the lack of race prejudice. Asilomar was the stimulating factor which made our world fellowship chairman establish and organize a colored girls club on our campus."

SHOULD YOU FEEL INCLINED TO CENSURE

Should you feel inclined to censure faults you may in others view. Ask your own heart, ere you venture, if that has not failings too.

Let not friendly vows be broken. Rather strive a friend to gain; Many a word in anger spoken Finds its passage home again.

Do not, then, in idle pleasure, Trifle with a brother's fame; Guard it as a valued treasure, Sacred as your own good name.

Do not form opinions blindly; Hastiness to trouble tends; Those of whom we thought unkindly Oft become our warmest friends.

"That which we persist in doing becomes easy to do, Not that the nature of the thing itself has changed, But that our power to do has increased."

METAPHORS

What is a metaphor? A place for cows to graze in. Some people are like blizzards. Cold? Not at all. They blow a lot, but they're all wet.

Some others are like French pastry. Got a lot of dough? Wrong again, Cyril. Not so hot, but fresh and crusty.

Why are the boys that rush through the halls similar to fish? You say they ARE fish? You're wrong, Benny. No, Adeline. We can't say they're all wet, because we said that in the first one.

Why is running errands for teachers like riding on a Ferris-wheel? Haw-haw! Daphne says, "Cause you're always up in the air." That's wrong. The answer is: "Because you go around a lot, but never get any place."

What do teachers like better than bawling a student out? Eating pie? No. Bawling two students out. —Hastings, Neb.

The C. R. Guess What?

Now I am going to write. We are the C. R. C.'s. The which? No, I don't mean the— Yes, wait a minute. Now I am all stuck up and I'll have to begin again.

Now, fellow students, if you will let me borrow your ears I'll tell you all about Knowles, Burgham, Ryan, Harris and Farrell on the Hiking Club camping trip.

It never rains but what it pours, and of course the cold cream decided to take a jaunt and away it went down the hill, with "Kay" and "Al" in close pursuit.

It would not be hard work, my dear, I'd not ask that of you. Just come on down this road with me.

THE BLOT ON THE 'SCUTCHEON WHO? THREE GUESSES

I'll never forget her. She was pretty, petite, popular. She believed in gathering eye rosebuds while ye may; and, take it from me, she set the open season for rosebuds.

I have never been so bitterly disappointed. I have never been so passionately angry in all my life. I have never before been so deeply humiliated.

The Glad Game

Pollyanna came into the school last week and since then she has been teaching everyone her "glad game."

Joe Smith says he is glad because Yuma is such a small town. In that way Katherine will not be able to step out so much on him this summer.

Katherine says she is glad because she knows none of the Globe girls like Joe.

Brute Sutter—yes, he's glad too. He says he is glad Genevieve has left school because now he has only two girls to worry about.

Wallace DeWitt says he is glad that he is bashful because if he was not the girls would all want to vamp him.

Mary Lee says she is glad that Wesley is so true.

Hatch says he is not getting a school and is glad because he can then come back next year to see Janie.

Janie is glad too, because two pals are in love with her. That way she will cause no trouble.

Johnnie Riggs is the most glad—can you blame him—he has a blanket in the "God knows when chest"—and didn't have to buy it.

Chick Vihel says it's hard to be glad when vacation comes because it means Ida will leave. But he's glad Clifton is not any farther away from Jerome.

Mabel Mason is glad that she is so small—she does not get so much sunshine on her and can keep cooler.

England has lots to be glad for. Why, he's glad that the girl he met in the Beach dressing room doesn't know him.

Bob Simpson is glad that he is good looking for he knows now that the girls all like him.

Pat Woods—sure, she is glad, too. She knows she will get at least a D in teaching.

Monkey Windes is also glad because he has at last found a girl that loves him.

Oh, yes, the faculty is glad with the rest of us.

Mr. Holladay is glad the boys are studying, for now he will not have to give so many D's.

Miss Murphy is glad that summer is coming because she is tired of working so hard.

Mr. McCreary is glad with the rest of those who play the glad game. He is glad and thinks everyone should be glad because vacation is just five weeks away.

"Collegiate Capers" To Be Presented by Seniors on May 12

"Collegiate Capers," an original play written by Archie Thompson, will be presented by the Senior class Thursday, May 12, in the College auditorium. The play is a live-wire story of college life, full of pep and spice.

Those chosen to make up the cast are Marjorie Cox, Edwin Riggs, Eddie Carr, Dora Rosenblatt, Josephine Williamson, Floyd Wardlow, Carl Teeter, Alton Riggs, Johnny Tyson and Virgil Pyle. Evelyn Kjellgren will direct the production. She is being assisted by Dora Rosenblatt as music director and Virginia Kershaw, chorus director.

Miss Kershaw selected the following for her special chorus of dancers: Josephine Pancrazi, Bennie Lou Reedy, Lottie Brimhall, Zena Cumard, Evelyn Smith, Dorothy Lee Clark, Dorothy Aubrey, Frances Billman and Dora Rosenblatt.

The directors are working very strenuously and vigorously on costumes, stage settings and the dance numbers. It is the first time in five years that the Senior class has put on "The Senior Follies," and it is hoped to make this an annual event. Proceeds of the play will go to help finance this year's annual.

A CYCLONIC INTERFERENCE

The campus buzzed with excitement. Did you say EXCITEMENT? No, I said excitement. Oh, I thought you SAID excitement. Well, anyway, the campus buzzed with excitement. Why? Shame on you for two hours! Not to know the all-important subject of the day! Well, lend me your ears, and you shall be told. Matthews Hall—oh, gracious!—Matthews Hall was carried away by a cyclone last night. Yes, the splendid structure, the pearl of architecture, the marvel of stone and sleeping porches was swept off its foundations and borne bodily away in the arms of the gale. Were we girls in it? Oh, woe to me! woe to me! Of course they were, every one of them; know you not that it was after 7:30, and they were all STUDYING when the tragedy occurred? Yiss, they were carried away, all the little girls.

To get back and pick up the thread of my narrative—the campus buzzed with excitement. Where had the hall gone? What was the fate of the lovely maidens and their beloved house mother? Oh, who could say? We could only await results. Sed, sed—not heppy—sed. Oh, wip for them!

(Excuse, pliz, me, ladies and gentlemen. I haf to think up some way to get them outa this fix. Go get a drink of water.)

The campuz buzzed—with excitement. Everyone still awaited results. They got them. For suddenly, out of the blue, appeared a blot of color which grew larger and more distinct, till it took the form of a building; it drifted gently down and settled itself carefully on the ground in front of the amazed spectators: Matthews Hall, reposing calmly on its old foundations, as though it had not been on a weird journey through the clouds!

The audience gasped with one accord; all together—in unison—ensemble. The doors of the hall were flung open, and the crowd rushed in. Were the girls safe? Ah! They had started pouring from their rooms; looking amazed at the unexpected advent of the mob into their midst. The visitors started incoherently to explain:

"Cycl—"
"Disapp—"
"We thocher—"
"Hoccum?"
"Why—how—"

The girls started laughing. Such a disdainful ring in their mirth! Gracious!

"Oh, THAT!" they exclaimed, also with one accord, in unison, ensemble, etc. "Why should we get excited over a cyclone? Don't you know we're well-trained? We never let such a thing disturb us. Only one thing bothers us—"

"Yes? Yes?" clamored the crowd, breathlessly.

"Have we missed breakfast?" The crowd moaned softly. "Yes, and we had bacon and eggs." "Ah!" sighed the girls. "We knew that cyclone would interfere in some way!"

CURTAIN

(The campus no longer buzzed with excitement.)

Bally—Say, have you Lamb's Tales?

Mr. Cookson—Say, this is a library, not a butcher shop.

Mr. Felton—There will be no roll call today. Those absent will please give me their names at the end of the assembly.

DORMITORY NEWS

MEREDITH HALL

Well, folks, it won't be long now. It can't be. The time draweth nigh when we either depart with a sheepskin tucked under our arms, or maybe we won't have the sheepskin but we'll depart anyway. And that's that. All of Meredith Hall is in the same fix. We wonder who will carry on at the old corral when we are gone. New blood, of course, but surely none so good. That just couldn't be right.

You've heard a lot about us through these columns, mostly good, some mediocre, none bad. Perhaps we have acquired a reputation as rowdies or roughnecks. That we do not deserve. Publicity we scorn; yet, in order that no false impressions may be left, let us now take a few short columns to set forth some of our manly virtues. Not bragging, you understand—just a simple statement of facts.

Never have I had the pleasure of associating with more lovable, or kind, or affectionate little playmates than has been my lot at Meredith Hall. If someone gets peeved, he's sure to be over it next week, maybe; and if he throws a shoe brush or an alarm clock, be thankful it isn't a looking glass, or a razor, or a monkey wrench. If some one puts salt, or sand, or macaroni in your bed, why, it's just one of their playful little pranks. Ignore it; if you don't it may develop into something less delightful.

I know that when I get out of here it'll be so peaceful I'll get paralyzed from not having to kick anyone out and that I'll forget how to talk because I won't have anyone to cuss out.

So be it; adios, poor unsuspecting victims of my ranting phrases.

WHAT'S NEXT?

Black ones, green ones, red ones—yes, they even come like rainbows. An aviator would think Tempe was a pansy field overgrown in pretty flowers.

Haven't you noticed them? Say, every girl is trying to see who can get the largest one. What? You haven't noticed the overgrown sky-pieces the feminine sex has been sporting? If not, then the heat has surely got you down.

Oh, I'll admit that they are pretty and help to camouflage many a modern flapper; but think of the poor sheik who has to take his two queens for a ride in a roadster. He will need an extension on the top or take it. Perhaps it will help to keep distance between lovers. Also they will be very useful when April showers come. Then, too, the girls can use them for lean-to tents on their camping trips.

Wouldn't it be hard on the faculty to have to take attendance with a room full of such hats?

And boys, be careful who you whistle at if she is in front of you, because even the grandmas are wearing 'em.

Well, if they help in the combat of freckles and will add to that school girl complexion we are for them, are we not, boys?

WALLACE DE WITT WINS IN ORATORY

In the oratorical contest on the question of world peace, Wallace DeWitt placed first over the other Tempe contestants.

Mr. DeWitt went to Phoenix, where he represented T. S. T. C. against the other institutions of higher learning in the State. Here he placed third against a field of five contestants.

This contest is open to all college students and is held every year. It is hoped that next year Tempe Teachers College will again be represented. Any student interested in oratory or the subject of peace will find the work interesting and well worth his time, as there is a first prize of $60 and a second prize of $40.

GIVES MUSICAL CONCERT

Miss Hudson, teacher of music in the Gilbert High School, gave a selection of vocal numbers in the college assembly Monday, April 25. Miss Hudson's program included some songs in French and one in Italian. She was enthusiastically applauded and gave several encore numbers. Miss Gertrude Greenhill accompanied at the piano. Meetings of the classes were then held in their respective places.

BOOK STORE NOTICE

From now until the end of the school year the college book store will be open once a week only, from 12:30 to 2 on Wednesdays. Merrill Windsor is still in charge.

LAMBDA KAPPA
Our regular meeting was held in East Hall parlor last week. Miss Alice Barber entertained the society with the opera "Carmen." After this she played several selections from the opera. We enjoyed lemonade and cookies during the evening.

Miss Mary Benson, one of our new members, was present at the meeting and we all enjoyed having her present.

The last meeting was held on East Hall porch and Johnnie Tyson presented "Hansel and Gretel." The K. K. A.'s have invited us on a swimming party and I know we will have a great time.

CLIONIAN NEWS

Nobody hurt and a good time reported from all. The camping trip is over and outside of a few cases of sunburn, none of them serious, we came through fine, all of us happy and ready to go to Methods on Monday morning. That is something the Juniors miss.

Eva Rhodes gave the opera, "Tales of Hoffman," at the last meeting. As the programs are planned we expect to have Aida, Traviata and Lohengrin this year. The rest of the meetings will be taken up by a trip to our Rendezvous, an evening at the swimming pool and the annual farewell banquet.

Next meeting we plan to have a beach supper at the pool. We will go down around 5 and enjoy a swim before supper. Then we will have a beach supper at the pool. We will have supper and a program around the camp fire.

As the close of school draws near we are beginning to realize just what it is going to mean to leave our society sisters. There is a closer feeling and we are ready to see that the tea for the alumni shall be as nice as we can make it. Next year we hope to be coming back at this time to see those we will soon be leaving.

LOS HIDALGOS DEL DESIERTO
The expression "nothing stirring" can not be applied to Los Hidalgos nowadays. We are all stirring around keeping the old olla boiling hard, getting ready for our annual assembly program.

At our last meeting three new members, Annie Herbolich, Ethel Dawson and Mary Hickox were voted in. We are expecting a lot from these pledges.

Los Hidalgos are planning to cast off their armor and don bathing suits one of these evenings and make a grand splash in the swimming pool.

TIMAKAENA SOCIETY
Members of the Timakaena Society were very delighted with the unusual program which was presented to them on Tuesday, April 26. At that time they were told how to teach nature study and how not to teach it. This program was very carefully arranged by Alice Brown.

On Friday, April 29, the Society held a sandwich and home-made candy sale. This was a huge success. On Saturday, April 30, the day of the 4-H Club and Farm Bureau picnic, we also held a sale consisting of cold drinks, ice cream and home-made candy. Ask the thirsty picnickers if it wasn't a success!

KALAKAGATHIA SOCIETY
Tuesday evening we entertained the Lambda Kappa Society with a swimming party at Chandler. No one was drowned, and everybody reported having had a wonderful time.

The camping trip is a thing of the past now with such glorious incidents to recall. We left here in happy spirits, eating frosts, and confident in our able driver. Mr. Sweet. We journeyed all over the Indian reservation, seeing many things that were new to us. We turned around every mile or so until we reached asport quite near the intended destination. Mr. Irish and Mr. Payne saved the day for us, and Mr. Sweet's belief in the Clionians and K. K. A.'s as guides, by lighting the way for us to camp.

The Verde was just the place for swimming parties, and if you won't believe it, just look at some of those school girl complexions or pictures of the Sennett Bathing Beauties newly discovered on the campus.

Three rousing cheers for the cooks! How we could eat and did! The presence of Miss Anderson, Miss Gerrish and Mr. Irish made the week-end the happiest possible. When the Clionians invited us to enjoy ice cream at their camp we felt our cups of enjoyment and pleasure.

We are very proud to announce the pledging of Kathleen McNelly to the Kalakagathia Society.

CACTUS WALKING CLUB

The members of the Cactus Walking Club, including our new member, Beulah McCreary, spent a very enjoyable day Sunday. The party left East Hall about 9 o'clock that morning for Canyon Lake. As everyone said they would enjoy a boat ride, it was decided that we should take the "boat ride unique" and it is rightly named. This trip consisted of a boat ride fourteen miles up the Junior Grand Canyon of Arizona. As the boat moved along, numerous interesting outlines were seen in the rock. On the return trip everyone had a delightful lunch, even if we did not have any "silver". As we were leaving, everyone had this thought: "I surely had a wonderful time."

THE OUTLINE OF LOVE

Grade School:
Roses ith red,
Violets ith blue,
Sugar ith thweet,
And tho ith 'oo.

High School:

Chrysanthemums are beautiful,
And so is marmalade,
Without you, darling Gwendolyn,
My life's a dead night shade.

University:

The moon is silver sheathed,
As you, my golden symphony—
'Tis you I crave to wed,
My agonizing ecstasy!

Ten Years Wed:

I have a knife,
It's blade's in tune—
For thirty cents
I'd murder you!

A FRESHIE'S LAMENT

I haven't got a fellow,
And I'm feelin' mighty blue.
I haven't got a fellow,
And I don't know what to do.

The other girls have fellows,
And at night they go out.
But I don't have a fellow,
All I do is sit about.

I'd like to have a fellow,
One that doesn't coo or pet.
I'd like to have a fellow,
And I'm going to get one yet!
—B. G.

GIRLS!

I like girls.

They flutter about,
They reach in their stocking
And pull compacts out.

They powder their nose,
They comb their hair,
And always they have
A dignified air.

They smoke cigarets,
And wear false curls.
They are funny creatures,
But I like girls.

Mince Pie Dream of Psychology Teacher

CRAMMING is an INSTINCT centrally located in the average Freshman's physiognomy—no, I mean PSYCHOLOGY, in this case...

In fact, there is an ASSOCIATION by SIMILARITY between these two types of CRAMMING that I am just now RECALLING by reference to the MENTAL HALLUCINATION of the moment...

Then, too, the CRAMMING which has its field of action in the center of the physiognomy is considered by even so well-known an authority as Krause to be taboo in modern circles.

Here the professor's NEUROLOGICAL reception was disturbed by the discord of the STATIC (sense) located in his nasal GANGLIA...

When a Ship's in Love

Captain K. wanted to know the answer to the conundrum: "When is a ship in love?" So he asked: "Can any of you tell me when a ship may be said to be in love?"

"Why, when it wants to be mated," said one. "Just missed it; try again," said the captain.

"It's when she wants a mate," said another. "Not correct," said the captain.

"Well, when she's tender to a man of war," said a third. But the captain shook his head negatively and said: "You might have answered, 'When she hugs the wind,' or 'When she runs down after a smack,' or 'When she's after a consort,' but none of these would have been right.

The real answer is: "When she's attached to a buoy!"

THE NEW DECALOGUE

Ten commandments for good sportsmanship:

- 1. Thou shalt not quit. 2. Thou shalt not alibi. 3. Thou shalt not gloat over winning. 4. Thou shalt not be a rotten loser. 5. Thou shalt not take unfair advantage. 6. Thou shalt not underestimate thy opponent nor overestimate thyself. 7. Thou shalt not give odds that you would be unwilling to take. 8. The game is the thing and he who thinks otherwise is a mucker. 9. Honor the game thou playest, for he who playeth the game straight and hard wins even when he loses.

—Dubuque, Iowa.

Virgie—Have you seen the new formal dresses? Vivienne—No, what are the girls showing this season?

WHY PROFESSORS GET GRAY

These are some of the reasons: The bluffer. The boy with the loud voice and empty head. The fellow who took the course before. The sweet little co-ed who doesn't know what it's all about...

—Montezuma, N. M.

THE EYES HAVE IT

Blue eyes mean you're true; Gray eyes mean you're gracious; But black eyes merely mean you're blue

In several other places.

Consult Clements for the healing qualities of Absorbine Jr. He knows. He bought some.

Tim—Great gobs of goldfish! How'd you get that black eye? Cliff—Some guy croaked me with a ripe tomato.

T. M.—You don't mean to say a ripe tomato done that? Cliff—Yeah, but this one had a can on it.

"It's my last drop," said the drunkard as he stepped off the two-story building.

Bell-hop Griffith—Did you ring, sir? Guest at Casa Loma—No, $ was just tolling. Thought you were dead.

Ida Smith—In the Spring a young man's fancy— Windsor—But a young girl's fancier.

Chick—I nearly drowned last night, Kauzy—How come? Chick—Well, you see, it was like this. When I went to bed last night my pillow slipped, my bed spread, and I fell into the springs.

Mr. Burkhard—All that goes back and forth in this class is (hot) air.

Rural School Party

Last Friday night, April 22, the rural school entertained our eighth grade with a very nice party.

First we played "last couple out"; second, "flying Dutchman," and then "three deep." After those three games we all went inside and at the door we had to take pieces of animals and match them and get our partner and get another person and his partner and played card games with four at a table.

We played a game called "the animal game" and many others. Then we had refreshments. We had sherbet and salad, little cups with peanuts, and candy and cookies.

We had a very nice time.—By Florence Gillett.

Girls' Baseball Game

The Junior High School girls played baseball with Rural School Friday afternoon on the Junior High School Diamond. Rural School was defeated, 11 to 7.—By Henrietta Roberts.

OUR SPRING VACATION

Now things like these HAVE to be, So let us smile and laugh with glee. For soon will come the summer gay And all we'll have to do, is PLAY.

VIOLIN.

You had your birth on the dim forest I know.

You caught your music From the songs of birds, From the singing winds.

You learned the melody Of sweet running streams And the rhythm of dancing leaves.

You heard the Spring music Of growing things And learned it well. Then you heard lovers Singing their songs of love;

You heard the poyful laugh Of little children playing. There was the silent melody of the stars.
