Bullpups Battle Brophy College to Scoreless Tie on Phoenix Gridiron

The Tempe Bullpups traveled to Phoenix on Saturday afternoon where they played Brophy College on the latter's gridiron. The teamwork as a whole was good and every player put all he had into every play.

The Pintos threatened to score several times but lost the ball on downs, being unable to go through the Tempe line. They were also penalized heavily for breaking rules of the game which aided the Bullpups in advancing near their goal. Rieman, Brophy back, made some big gains off tackle and played a good game at defense.

The Bullpups used line bucks to make their yardage but they were not enough to make first downs. They punted on their last down, keeping the Pintos away from their goal.

Jones, Tempe back, played a good game for the Pups. He made several gains through the line, did all the punting as well as playing a great game on the defense.

Alexander and Revello, Tempe tackles, played a great game in these positions for the Pups. They kept the opponents from making yardage and made holes for the ball carrier to go through.

The Tempe line played a real game of football, running interference for the backfield men and put up an airtight defense.

The game was played on a dirt field and every time a play was made, a cloud of dust was raised. This made the game more interesting as the play executed could not be seen until the dust had blown off. Also the game was broadcast from station KOY, Phoenix, to outlying parts of the state.

The next game for the Bullpups is November 1 with Phoenix High seconds at Phoenix.

Dr. Cummings' Talk On Prehistoric Man Has Been Postponed

The lecture which was to be given tomorrow evening by Dr. Byron Cummings of the University of Arizona, on "Prehistoric Man in Arizona," has had to be indefinitely postponed. Dr. Cummings has had to accompany Mrs. Cummings to the Mayo clinic at Rochester, Minn., where they are at present on account of Mrs. Cummings' health. Dr. Cummings hoped to be able to return in time to meet his appointment with the College Geographic Society, but the circumstances would not permit. A later date will be set for Dr. Cummings' appearance, which will be announced later.

BOARD MEETING

On Saturday, October 19, a regular meeting of the board of education of the college was held. Mr. Case, chairman of the board; Mrs. Elijah Allen, of Mesa, and Mr. John Sandage of Phoenix, were the out of town members who were present. Routine business was transacted. In addition Mr. R. A. Smith was elected as general mechanic to succeed Mr. Newton, who for many years before his death was in charge of this work.

President Matthews Reappointed to Position in Educational Association

The president of the National Educational Association has reappointed Dr. A. J. Matthews to the committee on international relations. Dr. Matthews has held this post for several years and Tempe has thus been signally honored. Last summer Dr. Matthews went to Geneva as delegate to the session of the International Educational Association. He was also sent as delegate to the session held in Edinburgh in the summer of 1925. At this time he was also appointed by the governor to represent Arizona at the International Prison Conference held in London.

Frosh in Charge of Big Bonfire Party On Homecoming Eve

A blaze that would stump metropolitan New York's combined fire fighting forces is destined to scorch the faces and lift the spirits of Bulldog supporters two weeks from tomorrow night at the annual Homecoming bonfire rally, if plans of the Frosh class don't go astray.

According to Gerald Caplinger, prexy of the class of '33, there will be a hot time in the old town that night, which is the evening of November 15, if you must mark the calendar. At a meeting of the Frosh yesterday noon it was decided to start this year's collection of bonfire fodder tonight. The men of '33 plan to stand by and let the local wrecking crews perform their usual Halloween dismantling, after which they will sweep down and collect the remains, safely storing them for the big night.

The Frosh have also pledged themselves to keep any stray sparks from straying into the collected debris before the appointed hour has arrived to set fire to the pyre. Last year the village hook and ladder volunteers were startled the night before the rally when smoke began pouring from behind the gym. Some playful country boys had found a match and decided to have a marshmallow roast before the usual rally crowd had arrived. "It shall not burn," the Frosh are crying this year, "until the eve of Homecoming!"

1930 Sahuaro Staff Is Busy on Yearbook

Work on the 1930 Sahuaro is reported well under way by Epes Williams, editor-in-chief.

The view section photos and the hall pictures as well as the Sophomore and Freshman class pictures have been taken and are in the hands of the engraver.

Plans for an intensive advertisement campaign are under discussion and will probably start shortly after the first of November.

The staff has set its quota at 400 books this year and expect to make it.

'Peg o' My Heart' Is To Be Presented by Drama Organization

At a meeting of the Punch and Judy Players, last Monday evening, "Peg o' My Heart," by Katherine Kavanaugh was selected to be the first play produced by the drama organization. Tryouts began last Thursday, being limited to the members of the Players. "Peg o' My Heart," according to Miss Barbara Reavis, director of dramatics, is a play which will be thoroughly enjoyed. It is the story of a young Irish girl, fresh and unsophisticated, who is literally thrown by circumstances into the lap of an aristocratic English family, and her trials and errors as she accustoms herself to this new life. Woven into this central theme is a fine romance between Peg and Jerry, a young English millionaire.

This play was selected after long consideration by a special committee of the Players.

At the regular monthly meetings of the organization hereafter, one or two one-act plays will be presented. Any student in the college is eligible for these one-act plays and parts in these will count on membership. One major part or two minor parts in one of the one-act plays equals one minor part in a three-act play.

Lambda Phi Society Sponsors Dean Cross Of Junior College

Tuesday night, October 29, the men of the campus listened to Dean Cross of Phoenix Junior College. Mr. Cross stressed the importance of being able to locate the big problems of life and pigeonhole them. To be able to know the nature of the problems of life, the Dean asserted, enables one to face them more squarely and fairly.

TRY THIS NEW BALLAD ON YOUR HARPSICHORD

Here are the words to the new school pep song, "Bulldogs, We're With You," introduced at the Frosh game rally and which "Captain" Paul Jones and his band are trying to work up in time for Homecoming day two weeks from Saturday. The tune is that of Notre Dame's famous Victory March, and "Onnie" Cochran is responsible for the words:

Bulldog Harriers Lose to Flagstaff Runners in First Race of Season

A four-man cross-country team went to Flagstaff last Friday to compete against a picked team of Lumberjacks in a cross-country race which preceded the football game between the Bulldogs and the Lumberjacks; the team of the northern institution winning 14-22, as the lowest score wins.

The Bulldog team was represented by Captain Harry Culbert, Carlos Jimenez, William Keith and Harley Anderson, who placed in the following order in the tryout race on Thursday morning and earned the right to run against the Lumberjacks. These men did their best for old Tempe and should encourage them to victory on Homecoming Day.

On Friday, Saturday and Sunday, November 15, 16 and 17. Homecoming at Tempe will be celebrated this year.

The celebration will begin some time Friday with a special assembly in which some of the alumni will take part.

Friday night there will be a big bonfire out by the new gym followed by a pep rally. The day will be finished with a serpentine through the campus and town. This part of the celebration will be in charge of the Freshman class.

From 9 o'clock to noon on Saturday there will be the registration of alumni on the steps of the main building. This will be in charge of the Junior class. They will also have "Welcome" signs made and see that the campus is appropriately decorated.

At 10 o'clock Saturday morning there will be a volley ball game between two girls' teams. This will be under the direction of Miss Murphy and will take place in the new gymnasium.

Lunch will be served at 11:30 in the dining hall.

At 1 o'clock the parade will be formed. This parade will consist of floats and other contributions representing any society or organization on the campus. The Senior class will take charge of this part of the program. They will offer a prize for the best float. They will have judges at appropriate places along the route to inspect it.

A new attraction is being offered this year. That is the cross-country run. At 2 o'clock the runners from Flagstaff and Tempe will take off. At 2:30 in the afternoon will be the annual football game between Flagstaff and Tempe.

To close the day there will be a dance from 8:30 to 11:30. The Sophomore class will be in charge.

Kalkagathian Society Sponsors Program at Assembly October 28

The assembly of October 28 was sponsored by the Kalakagathia Society. They presented a play entitled "Gas, Air and Earl." The characters were portrayed by Mae Haverty, Theada Johnson, Mildred Olden, Lona Bono, Dorothy Cantinwine.

The active members of the society are Theada Johnson, Leno Bono, Mate Haverty, Marguerite Parker, Dorothy Cantinwine, Mildred Olden, Rosetta Holton, Kitty Mize, Miss Theresa Anderson, monitor. The members on the faculty are Miss Dorothy Robinson and Miss Alice Knight. The honorary members are Mr. F. M. Irish, Miss Sally Hayden, Miss Gerish and Mr. Fairbanks.

Kalakagathia Society is one of the oldest organizations for women on the campus and has sought to reflect the spirit of good fellowship, progress and loyalty of the best traditions of scholarship and service in the college. Kalakagathia holds in special honor her scores of alumnae scattered over the state of Arizona.

Si Flores finished first in the elapsed time of 17:37; Hart, his teammate, came in second with an elapsed time of 18:02. Jimenez was the first Tempe man to come in with a time of 18:10. Culbert, Tempe, Sharer, Flagstaff, Cromer, Flagstaff, Dickson, Flagstaff, finished in the above order. Two Tempe men did not complete the race. They were Keith and Anderson.

The cross-country team performed well in this meet and will enter the next two weeks in hard training for the tri-meet between the University, Flagstaff and Bulldogs on November 16.

TO YOU AND YOUR FRIENDS

It's disgraceful to admit, but our College has some pretty bum sports for members. At the last game out on Irish Field some of us showed just what we were made of. When the yell leader stood up to lead us, did he get co-operation and support? No! He got boos from some of our noble students.

The student body doesn't turn out to a game for the express purpose of pleasing a few members. They are there to boost the team. What difference does it make what yell we give as long as we're yelling for our players? If you are going to gripe about every yell, please don't come to the games. We want loyal supporters who help boost our team and who are willing to co-operate with our yell leaders.

WORDS!

The language of the world has one great tool which is one great lever upon which to lift the world. And that great lever is words! And we see the real students, hunting words, learning to know them; in fact, taming them and subduing them to a purpose, playing with them, making them work—to the end that they reach the mind and feelings of other persons.

Just by the mere placing of words in a group you may cause sorrow, or they may cause pleasure. Or it might mean some definite climax or catastrophe. But nevertheless words are the biggest factor in everyday life.

One small word may make a definite impression on someone. This impression might alter his whole life or being. The biggest and most honorable thing that we, as students, should try to overcome is being narrow-minded in our student activities. Broad-mindedness is the biggest asset that any student on this campus can achieve. Students of A. S. T. C. are to be complimented upon the splendid way they respond to student activities. They have an openness and frankness that can wholly be admired.

HEAD RESIDENTS

Do you students ever stop to realize what our head residents mean to us? Do you ever stop to realize that they work day in and day out, giving their lives to us in order that we may live as one big family? They organize their halls with one big aim in view—and that aim is to see that each and every student lives in an atmosphere of comfort as well as regularity.

Little do you stop to realize what regularity of habits means until you are out of the institution and into the teaching world. But at that, you have someone to thank and that someone is the head resident of your hall.

That's right, gang! Let's take our hats off to all the head residents of A. S. T. C.

WHY NOT DANCE!

On November 8 the first of the so-called Wallflower dances of this year will occur. The Wallflower committee, under the direction of "Clatie" Caywood, has outlined a program of activity unequalled in the history of Wallflower dances. Each dormitory is to sponsor one Wallflower. This means that each hall will decorate the gym for one dance. An interesting feature of the dances this year is that each dormitory will provide entertainment at th eintermission. Naturally, members of the student body will look forward to this "bit of originality" to fill in between halves. At a meeting Monday night, October 28, at which the Faculty committee, officers of the Wallflower dances, and representatives of each hall were present, the drawing was made for the respective times at

EAST HALLERS ADVERTISE DATES

A sign, "FRESH DATES," in front of East Hall has given the Alpha boys quite a shock, according to campus gossip. Every hall has "GOOD DATES." Boys, get them early for the Wallflower dance, the other fellow may.—Advertisement.

South Hall Secrets

Miss Betty Knipe spent the week-end with her folks at her home in Tucson.

Miss Violet Foreman spent the week-end at her home in Florence.

Miss Margaret Jordan was home in Pumpkin Center this last week-end.

Miss Gracebell Swift and Miss Jane Boggs were guests at Rosemary Lodge last week-end.

Miss Marian Figueroa was the guest of friends in Jerome this week-end. Miss Louella Longworth was home for the week-end in Gilbert.

Mrs. Gladys Allen was the house guest of Miss Ruth Bowles in Phoenix over the week-end.

Misses Clara Fretz, June Hartman, Mary Emma Dyer and Frances Stuart spent the week-end in their respective homes in Phoenix.

Miss Doris Old was visiting at her home south of Tempe Saturday.

Miss Andrew Brannen visited her home in Tempe Sunday.

The girls of South Hall were so delighted with the fashion show in assembly recently that they decided to put some of the rules set forth into practice. Three girls with only a stylish frame (of mind) came home Friday night and in the interval before "lights out" entertained some students in the upper corridor with an educational display of what to wear and what not to wear, mostly "what-not."

The well dressed co-ed will wear four or five coolie coats after the Japanese manner to keep warm until the heat is turned on. Another important style note is the blue and pink enameled coat hangers which are worn suspended from the tip of the little finger. Three good looking models displayed the gorgeous dis-array of clothes but their names are being withheld for prominent reasons.

Have a "Date?" You mean to the Wallflower? Nope. Got mine. Do you think ??? has a date for the Wallflower? Yes, I just asked her.—Adv.

North Hall Notoriety

Many plans and preparations are being taken under consideration for the Homecoming events. Among the most important is the reception of the alumni and the numerous entertainments which will be given in their honor. Announcement of further plans will appear at a later date concerning the floats to be used in the parade. There seems to be a great deal of enthusiasm among North Hall girls and they hope to put these events over big.

Mary Bowers spent the past week-end with her parents in Mesa.

Mildred Olden and Margaret Clemenger were visitors in Tucson during the University Homecoming October 9.

Fay Billingsley spent the past week-end with relatives in Wickenburg. Jeanne Richards was the guest of Adrienne Aechuer, Sunday, October 20.

Dorothy Arnold of Phoenix, Eloise Leppla, Nora Adams and Betty Hunter had a steak fry Friday, October 18.

Elene Webb spent the past week-end with her parents in Douglas.

The Wallflower will be in the Old Gym and it will be decorated by the Matthews Hall girls.

which each dormitory would act as sponsors. Margaret "Dickie" Parker, drawing for Matthews Hall, picked number one; Thelma Francis, representing South Hall, number two; Molly Wright, for East Hall, number three; Roline Sikes, for North Hall, number four.

Yes, "trip the light fantastic," and let there be but two rules in selecting a partner for the dance: First, if you are a freshman and can't dance, select a Senior who can; and second, if you are a Senior and can't dance, that's JUST TOO BAD.

Outclassed in the last half of their first home game of the season, the Tempe Teachers College Bulldogs were defeated by a hard fighting Arizona University Frosh team, 7-0, in a ragged football game on Irish Field. The Frosh upset the tiring Bulldogs in the last quarter to score the winning touchdown.

Cummins, Frosh right end, was the immediate cause of the Yearling victory, snagging a pass from White and running it better than 20 yards to cross the Teachers goal line. Cummins also proved to be an obstacle the Bulldogs couldn't handle in their attempt to get away around his end. He broke away from the tacklers many times to smear plays slated for his territory.

Just before the Frosh score, Coach McCreary relieved many of the tired players by sending in many substitutes to stop the opponents from scoring, but the punch came too late. McCarty made several gains for first down, and Captain Finley made another first down on a 12-yard run. But the final whistle found the Teachers anchored in midfield, far from the Frosh goal line.

Steverson of the Bulldogs and Fisher of the Frosh staged a punting duel during the game, each kicking for an average of 35 and 40 yards. Steverson also started the game as signal caller but later shifted to half-back as substitutions were in order.

The Bulldogs played a good game on the defense but seemed to lack the punch to go through the Frosh line.

Tempe Defeated by Lumberjacks in Flag Homecoming Game

The Tempe football team journeyed to Flagstaff last Friday morning where they played the Lumberjacks on Saturday afternoon, this being the main attraction of their Homecoming celebration. The Lumberjacks were too powerful for the Bulldogs and won 31-0.

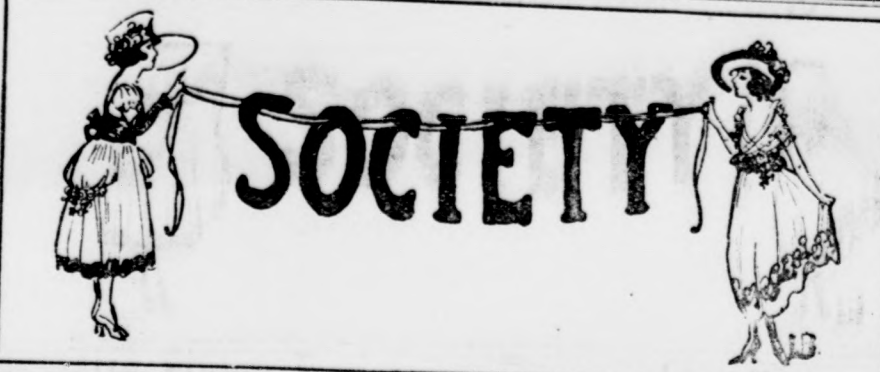

The climax of the game came in the fourth quarter when Mulleneaux intercepted a Tempe pass and ran 80 yards for a touchdown.

The Bulldogs tried many passes but did not gain any ground as they were incomplete and heavy penalties were placed on them for these mistakes. The Tempe line and Captain Finley worked best for Coach McCreary's men.

Next Saturday the Bulldogs travel to Tucson to play the Arizona Wildcats, which will be another hard struggle for the team and let us give them a good send-off when they depart for the Old Pueblo.

A. B. Clark Writes For Westward Ho

"The Vale of Tempe" is the title of an article which has appeared in the October number of the Westward Ho magazine. It was written by Mr. Clark, who is in charge of the Manual training in the Arizona State Teachers College. The article tells of the early beginnings of Tempe and relates in pleasing style its beauties and present advantages. Hardly anyone in the college is better qualified to write of Tempe than Mr. Clark, who has been connected with the college longer than any other faculty member other than Dr. Matthews and Mr. Irish. He has not only given long and faithful service to the college, but has also been an ideal citizen and booster for the town of Tempe.

ARIZONA TEACHERS COLLEGE BOARD OF EDUCATION GIVES FRATS APPROVAL

Organization of the honorary fraternities was given its first endorsement at the Arizona State Teachers College at a meeting of the board of education, it was announced by John R. Sandige, member.

This makes it possible for students to organize official local honorary societies based upon scholarship and school activities. Under the new ruling, national honorary societies will be admitted to the campus, providing they are approved by the president and board of education of the institution.

The board made the stipulation that local groups would be eligible to petition for a charter from a national group only after they had been in existence for at least one year.

Phi Beta Epsilon Entertain Faculty

East Hall was the scene of a pretty party Thursday evening given for the members of the college faculty and honorary members of Phi Beta Epsilon. The parlors were decorated with yellow chrysanthemums and a large green and gold shield hung from each of the double doors. Amber colored lights shone down on 10 tables, where the guests spent the evening playing bridge. Mrs. Elsie McCreary won a prize for high score and Dr. J. E. Grime received the consolation prize.

Miss Elizabeth Roach entertained for a few moments with a song, "Danny Boy," and by reading a group of short poems.

The evening was made more enjoyable by the homelike atmosphere of East Hall parlors. Those attending were: Dr. and Mrs. A. J. Matthews, Mr. F. M. Irish, Dr. and Mrs. J. A. Grimes, Mr. and Mrs. A. McCreary, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Payne, Mr. and Mrs. Blackburn, Miss Stewart, Miss Still, Miss Pearl Kloster, Miss Nellie Smith, Miss Nina Murphy, Miss Sally Hayden, Miss E. L. Roll, Miss Irma Wilson, Miss Vera Chase, Miss Dobbs, Mrs. Mary Waite, Mrs. Helen Honshon, Mrs. Eva Hurst, Miss Nellie Goodman, Miss Barbara Reavis, Miss Eva Hudson, Mrs. David Wilkie, Dr. and Mrs. McColl, Mr. Foster BBeggs and Mr. Ralph Masteler.

Phi Betas are making big plans for the Homecoming tea which is to be held in East Hall parlors this year. Elizabeth Roach was appointed at the last meeting to take charge of this. Bernice Chadwick was put at the head of the committee for making plans for the float. Many old members are expected to return and Homecoming will be a big day for Phi Beta Epsilon.

Junior Hi Notes

JUNIOR HI ASSEMBLY

On Friday afternoon, October 25, the ninth grade of the Training School gave an Edison Day program, celebrating the 50th anniversary of the invention of the incandescent lamp. Every member of the ninth grade took part in the program.

Robert Payne acted as chairman. The program was as follows: Arthur Clark gave a brief review of the personal life of Thomas Edison.

Vernon Cottrell told of the "Prize Boy" chosen by Edison recently by a series of tests.

Harley Essley told about the transmitter.

Robert Spargo told of the telegraph. He also exhibited a small radio set which he had made and could be held in the palm of his hand. This set, even though so small, can pick up good programs that can be heard clearly.

Grace Caldwell talked of the typewriter, using one that was among the first few made and a modern one to make comparisons.

Vallera Roach told of the phonograph. Francis Brechan the dynamo. Eugene Fulghum, the storage battery.

Wanza Hardin, the incandescent lamp.

Each of these brief speeches was illustrated by a model of the thing the speaker was telling of.

After this program the eighth grade invitation of the seventh grade, or freshmen of the Junior High School, took place. The eighth grade instructed the members of the seventh grade to five due respect to the eighth and ninth grades and placed placards upon their backs with quotations emphasizing their greenness.

There is a program every Friday afternoon from 1 to 1:30 in the Training School auditorium to which the college students are invited.

ON THE CAMPUS Twenty Years Ago

On arriving at the Normal kindly take your horse into the alley and unhitch him, for Sam Brown will get him if you don't watch out.

Several new walks are under construction and the grounds are receiving a general review.

The new Auditorium is rapidly being completed. The scene painters are busy.

Dedication of Tempe High School

A large audience gathered to witness the dedication of the new building. J. O. Mullen acted as chairman for the evening. The main feature on the program was the speech given by Governor Richard Sloan, who was welcomed by the people with much enthusiasm and applause. Governor Sloan addressed the people in his quiet and sincere manner; he began by speaking of the wonderful development of our school system during the last few decades, the high school itself being recent in its establishment. The opportunities of the young people of this age were contrasted with those of a few years ago, whose preparation for college and university was made very difficult, owing to the scarcity of public high schools.

Philomathian

The third meeting of the society was as much a success as ever. Miss Harmon's recitation, "There's a Bar in the Kitchen," foretells of some competition in the society contest at the end of the year. "Love's Old Sweet Song" was done justice by Miss Barbour, who has a very sweet voice. The society was glad to hear of the athletics from Mr. Standage, of our last year's team, and victories in track and baseball, and of the anticipated work of the coming year.

The Athletic Outlook

A wave of athletic enthusiasm has swept the entire Salt River Valley, and has had its culmination in the formation of an Athletic League which embraces all schools of note in the valley, including Tempe Normal, Phoenix High, Indian School, Mesa, and Tempe High Schools.

The purpose of this league is to regulate the schedule of games and to secure uniformity in rules, and also to get the schools in better touch with each other.

Prof. Ayer of the Normal has been elected president; C. D. Jones of the Phoenix High School, vice-president, and H. J. Holzworth of the Mesa school, secretary-treasurer.

Friday Night Dance

The first dance of the season given under the auspices of the Normal students took place at the dining hall last Friday night. The hall

Victrola record, "Roll On, Little Dogie," Robert Payne; reading of a cowboy poem, "Goldarn Wheel," Arthur Clark; Pantomime Illustration of Poem, Robert Spargo.

The Training School indoor baseball team has had five games, one with each of the other schools of the Southside Grammar School League. The team lost the first two to the Franklin school, and to Tempe Grammar school. Since these first defeats they have hit their stride and are going strong. They have won from Gilbert 16-4, from Lehi 8-6, from Alma school 12-6. This makes the Training School team a strong contender for the title of champion of the league. Another round of games will be played to decide which is the strongest team in the league.

LIFE OF THE FROSH

They kick me around and paddle my tail,
And make me carry a water pail;
They box my ears and bloody my nose
And then tie knots in my underclothes.

I make their beds and sweep their rooms,
But still they paddle me with their brooms.
They put a green cap upon my head
To be taken off only when in bed.

I don't speak to girls, not even to dance,
For if I do they paddle my pants.
The teachers give us intelligence tests
To find out which of us is best.

Still I like college pretty well,
But if I funk I'll sure get (plenty)
Although my dad is not a crank,
I'm sure he still knows how to spank.
(A FROSH)

was decorated with pepper boughs and the Normal banner occupied a prominent place. But any ornament other than the charmingly dressed young ladies was unnecessary. As usual, there were about three girls to every boy, but that did not keep anyone from having a good time. President and Mrs. Matthews looked on for a little while and a fair representation of faculty members were out.

President Taft Addresses People of Tempe

On October 13th, the Tempe public schools, including the Normal, observed a holiday in honor of the visit of President Taft.

As the President's special drew into Tempe the patriotic crowd lined on either side of the track, and greeted the chief executive of the United States with deafening cheers and school yells.

When the train stopped and the President appeared upon the rear platform, a silence fell over the cheering crowd, while with eager faces and attentive ears they awaited Mr. Taft's words, which were as follows:

"I am very much obliged to you for coming out this somewhat warm morning to greet me. This is the first time along my journey that I have come into such an enthusiastic country where they still have federal jurisdiction. I find before me an audience which I presume is quite willing to have that jurisdiction ended. I assume that does not arise from any hostility to the federal government, but that it comes from that spirit of courage and enterprise and independence which seeks a method of showing what you can do when you are shoved off from shore and made to swim for yourselves.

"The Republican platform, which I have the honor to represent, promised statehood for New Mexico and Arizona, and so far as I am concerned, I propose to do the best I can to carry out that promise. I want to say to you, however, that I am not the whole show, and there are many others to be considered. But you can count on our doing our best. Good-bye."

As the train rolled out the President was given a final cheer. Mr. Taft took with him, as a souvenir of Arizona, a Tempe Normal School pennant, thrown upon the platform by Miss Mary Dunlap just as the train stopped.

Halloween

All the merry classes are here tonight to play
Except the haughty Seniors who had to stay away.
And all us jolly Juniors will do the best we can
To help the ghosts and goblins carry out their plan.

Bob the apples round about, boys, then stop and count each seed.
Find out if she loves you not or loves you yes indeed.
Be careful of the dark girls, as you walk round about,
Or someone may kiss you, if you don't watch out!

MY LADY OF THE STARS

I have been seeing a lovely lady in white raiment,
Each night when the last star comes I have been seeing her,
A lady very beautiful, walking slowly, seeming from Heaven,
Walking among the stars;
And I have been wondering if she were an angel—
My lady of the stars.

I remember how she came, as from the midst of the farthest western star,
With a faint, sweet melody;
And I watched her pass above me, and I listened to the sweet melody she sang
Until the fainter strains died when the lovely one vanished
As in the farthest eastern star.
I wondered if she were an angel—
My lady of the stars.

With day I wondered if all were a vision,
And I wondered why visions of a lovely woman, seeming an angel, would haunt my mind.
Last night, when the last star came, I saw her again—
The lovely woman—and I sought her eyes.
(I should surely know an angel's eyes.)
She saw me and smiled a smile very sweet.
(How lovely is my lady of the stars.)

This morning in the light of day I saw her on the pathway,
The same fair maiden, and she smiled the same sweet smile.
I know that I shall never see her again, walking among the stars
At night when the last star comes,
But I am very happy.

Geographics Discuss Great Colossal Cave

The field trip of the Geographic Geology class to the Colossal Cave near Tucson was the subject of interesting reports and discussion at the regular meeting of the Geographic society, Thursday evening, October 17. Several members of the society were among those making the trip.

Alex Perkins, in his description of the cave, advanced a plausible theory for the formation of the numerous small stalactites which develop in some parts of caves, in all directions, horizontally, and even turning up. Discussion centered about his explanation and other features observed in the cave.

Clifford Spain also gave a report, including details of the trip.

The Wallflower is Nov. 8th.

Vachel Lindsay's Life Pierian Program Topic

Pierians met at Miss Wilson's home Tuesday evening for a short business meeting and a program. The main business before everybody now is Homecoming so the float for the Homecoming day parade was discussed.

The program, which was given by Emma Joslin, consisted of a sketch of Vachel Lindsay's life and a reading, "The Chinese Nightingale," a charming poem by Lindsay, which shows the beautiful and unusual thing that is often found under the drab exterior.

At the last meeting Mabel Mae Corn gave a similar talk about Carl Sandburg, the author of "Fog." Pierians are studying modern poets this semester and their programs will contain other talks about poets of modern times.

Get Wallflower dance tickets from Caroline Contreras, Roline Sikes, Thelma Francis, Molly Wright, Dickie Parker, Horace Chesley, Leland Casey, and Cleo Caywood.

Clonians Plan For Homecoming Day

The business meeting of October 15 was held at Mr. Payne's office. Lucille Hudson was put in charge of the luncheon, which is to be given Homecoming. Mae Sisson was appointed chairman of the committee for the float.

The meeting of October 22 was held at the home of Mr. Payne. Business matters were discussed then a delightful program was given. Mae Sisson gave a poem entitled, "And So Was I." Eleene Webb favored the society with a piano solo, Mona Denison gave a poem entitled "The Sweet God Pan." The entire society sang the Clonian song. Mrs. Payne and daughter, Louise, served delightful refreshments, which included the special Clonian kisses.

Remember the Wallflower.

K. K. A. Presents Play for Assembly

Members of Kalakagathia presented their annual assembly program on Monday, October 28, at the regular assembly hour. A one-act play entitled "Gas, Air, and Earl," was presented by the following cast:

Mrs. Plummer Theoda Johnson
Eleanor Plummer Mae Haverty
Boggs Lena Bono
Kitty Carson Mildred Olden
The Lawyer Dorothy Cantinwine

Hiking Club to Make Ten-Mile Journey

Saturday, November 2, will be a red-letter day for the Hiking Club. The hikers will leave the gym at 7:30 and hike for 10 miles. At this point, a large highway truck will be waiting. This will carry the girls to Echo Canyon where dinner will be served and a program will be presented. The hikers plan to be back about 2:30 in the afternoon.

Y. W. C. A. Members Discuss 'What College Women Will Wear'

"What the College Young Woman Will Wear," a most interesting way of expressing the fashions for young college women, was wonderfully well presented by the Y. W. C. A. under Mrs. Waite's capable supervision and direction last Thursday evening in the college auditorium. This feature of the "Y" program for October was eagerly looked forward to and greatly discussed in advance, and all those who attended were well repaid. It is a great comfort to know what one, as a college young woman, should wear, and it is an enormous help in dressing suitably for campus life.

On Thursday evening, October 17, a very large group of girls were well entertained by a meeting on poetry. Expressive pieces of poetry representing different types of work were read and enjoyed. Music is poetry without words, and it often expresses feelings better than mere words are able to do. A piano solo by Miss Marguerite Martin, and a vocal solo by Miss Charlotte Barret comprised part of the poetry of the evening.

Miss Gracebel Swift is chairman of the program committee for the "Y" and she and her committee, through their interest and effort, are responsible for the interesting programs being enjoyed by the girls.

Since the membership drive the ranks of the Y. W. C. A. have been rapidly filled, and all the committees are beginning activities. Plans for the year are being carried forward. Watch the announcements for the many things to be done, and don't miss a one.

Picnic Is Feature of Lambda Kappa Meet

Lambda Kappa enjoyed their first desert picnic at Twin Buttes Tuesday evening, October 15. After the picnic supper the group gathered around the fire and told many interesting stories and sang songs.

Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Fairbanks, Lillian Morris, Merle Hicks, Lois Benedict, Dorothy Corson, Leonora Anderson, Ethel Buck and Esther Randall.

The meeting of October 22 was a strictly business meeting. Further plans for Homecoming were made and other plans for the year were also discussed.

Delta Sigma Society Elect New Secretary

The Delta Sigma Society met Monday, October 21, at 6 o'clock in the Training School for their regular meeting. This meeting was used as a social and business meeting. Plans for future activities were discussed and acted upon. The secretary having left school, a new one was elected. Miss Deming now holds the office. It was decided that the dues would be paid by the semester (50c) as many will not be here next semester. These dues will be used in the serving of the luncheon each meeting. Excellent refreshments were served at this meeting, prepared by a committee of the girls. A different group of girls will prepare and serve the luncheon each time. It was decided also that no pins would be made for the club, but that as a memorandum they would have a small book containing exchanged recipes, notes, literary work, etc. The membership also decided that they would have a page in the Annual this year. Due to the newness of the club and the small membership, it was decided not to have pictures.

The girls are showing a marked enthusiasm in the faculty, and a good time is expected.

The next regular meeting and all meetings hereafter will be held in the Industrial Arts Building, Home Economics department, the third Monday in the month at 6 o'clock. Every girl not residing in the dormitories or in her own home is urged to join this society. It promises much amusement and valuable learning to its members.

A second meeting was held Monday, October 28, to decide upon the float for the Homecoming parade.

Pasteur Scientifics Receive Associates

The Pasteur Scientific Society signaled its Wednesday evening meeting by receiving several new associate members. A special program was held to mark the induction of these new associates. The president of the society, Adolph Spanghel, gave a talk in which he stressed the ideal scientific attitude as expressed in the life and works of the society's model, Louis Pasteur, the "most perfect man who ever entered the field of science."

After a quietly impressive ceremony, the new associates were presented with their badges of association and were welcomed by all the active members. The remainder of the evening was devoted to entertainment, consisting of a "chemistry spell-down," which was of interest and enjoyment to the participants. The evening closed with the serving of refreshments.

Those admitted to associate membership in the society Wednesday night were: Fred Culbert, Margaret Cawood, Eric Bartell, Elene Webb, Wanamaker Mitchum, Ariel Norris, Helen Fulkerson, Marion Naegle, Jack Wallace, Janie Clark and Hermoine Gerrish.

Delta Thetas Guests At Halloween Party

All members, including the alumni living in Tempe of the Delta Theta Society worked energetically to make their Halloween party a complete success.

The girls' gym on the night of October 29 was the place of a lively sociable time. Those who failed to appear in person in answer to their invitation missed a grand time, good eats, weird decorations and friendly associations.

For the past two years the Delta Thetas have given a party to the other societies instead of giving the usual assembly program, "Variety is the spice of life."

Matthews Hall Notes

"There's music in the air," Matthews Hall has a new Victrola. In addition to the Victrola we have a box of needles and a number of new records. The intermingled sounds of the new music box and 60 girlish voices lends an entirely new atmosphere to the hall. A line of most any popular song may be heard issuing from the crack of any door one may chance to pass. A love for music is quickly being spread about the building. The usual week-end quiet of the hall was broken last week by the return of the girls who usually spend the week-end in Phoenix, for the game and dance Saturday. The peace and harmony of the hall was a bit disturbed this week by the following casualties: Theoda Johnson suffered two days in the infirmary with a cold and Alice Bowman is at home suffering an attack of ptomaine poison. We hope they will both return to our midst soon.

Sport Diagnosis

By DOC RAISIN CANE

Well, the Bulldogs will be up before breakfast Saturday morn to catch the Toonerville for Tucson. A merrie clash later in the day with a mighty powerful Wildcat football team will give them a nice opportunity to sharpen their teeth for their return hair-pulling contest with those wild and woolly Lumberjacks on November 16.

Here's a nice big tumbler lifted and drained in honor of the Dogs. They'll need all the encouragement, slaps on the back and general rah-rahs that the folks can give 'em before they embark southward.

The handful of noble knockers on the campus who keep insisting that the Bulldogs are "under dogs" are hereby invited by Doc himself to imbibe a few grains of diluted arsenic, or else use their surplus wind for something else than blowing razzberries around. For instance, they might drag their carcasses out of their cribs and amble down to the village terminal to cheer the boys aboard the rattler.

McCreary is undetermined as to his starting lineup. He has been undetermined on his other starting lineups this season also, but after the fumbles, errors and general weaknesses displayed by the Dogs at Flagstaff last week he will be particularly "choosy" about who starts where on Saturday.

For this reason several shifts in positions planned to throw new blood into vulnerable spots of the Bulldog machine will not materialize until game time rolls around Saturday. There is a possibility that Jones, second string back, may fill in at fullback. The return of Smith-eran after a week's layoff due to a broken nose may mean that much more added strength in the fullback spot. Captain Finley was forced to carry the entire burden at this important post in the Lumberjack tiff and in the last period the grind had noticeably weakened his valuable driving power.

Doc insists that the Flag gridders are not five touchdowns better than the Bulldogs. Not when McCreary's machine is running in high gear, which it decidedly wasn't last week. In fact, it didn't get out of low. Things conspired against the Tempe squad. A gust of wind pulled a delayed pass out of this air and placed it gently in the hands of one "Brute" Mullenaux, who looked at it and decided to take it for a 70-yard walk for a touchdown. He did, with perfect interference all the way down the field.

A snappier bunch of Bulldogs would have nailed him at the end of his first 10 yards. A snappier bunch of Bulldogs may trip Johnny Riggs and Mister Hargis, and anyone else "Daddy" McKale sends into Saturday's fray to try to pile up a tremendous score. Start thinking that those Dogs can really play football. They may not whip the Wildcat, but they'll take a few bites out of his left ear! And as for those Lumberjacks—we shall see what we shall see. And if Doc is any judge we will see no 31-0 score. Not again!

Hungry Bulldogs To Go to Tucson For Bitter Grid Battle

A hungry pack of Arizona State Bulldogs, determined to atone for three rather disastrous early season defeats by playing heads up, fighting football, will entrain early Saturday morning for Tucson, there to buck against a tough and undefeated University of Arizona Wildcat eleven.

Coach McCreary's Staters are due for a drubbing, if time honored statistics mean anything. Thrice have the Bulldogs bitten the dust, making deep bows to the El Paso Miners and the Flagstaff Lumberjacks, and handing a game to the University Frosh by one touchdown. In the meantime Coach McKale's gridders have whipped Occidental, Caltech, El Paso and the New Mexico Aggies.

According to all dope available, the "Men of Mac" should present the Wildcats about six touchdowns on a silver platter. But a tightening Bulldog defense crew, strengthened by a week of the hardest sort of drilling under a big stick wielded by McCreary and "Smiley" Begg, is going down to Tucson to dig their cleats deep in stadium turf. If Riggs and Hargis, the U's twin scoring aces, break through for any more than a few touchdowns they will do it over the lifeless forms of Bulldog linemen.

McCreary is undetermined as to his starting lineup. He has been undetermined on his other starting lineups this season also, but after the fumbles, errors and general weaknesses displayed by the Dogs at Flagstaff last week he will be particularly "choosy" about who starts where on Saturday. Although the squad making the trip is practically the same varsity crew that started the season, "Mac" will not know definitely what men will be on the field at the starting whistle until a moment or two before the whistle blows.

For this reason several shifts in positions planned to throw new blood into vulnerable spots of the Bulldog machine will not materialize until game time rolls around Saturday. There is a possibility that Jones, second string back, may fill in at fullback. The return of Smith-eran after a week's layoff due to a broken nose may mean that much more added strength in the fullback spot. Captain Finley was forced to carry the entire burden at this important post in the Lumberjack tiff and in the last period the grind had noticeably weakened his valuable driving power.

Talk of shifting "Battling" Clements out to an end position from his place at guard and of saving Cleo Caywood from a lot of tough punishment by working him in elsewhere than his present tackle berth is also current.

Logical tentative starting lineups for both teams are:

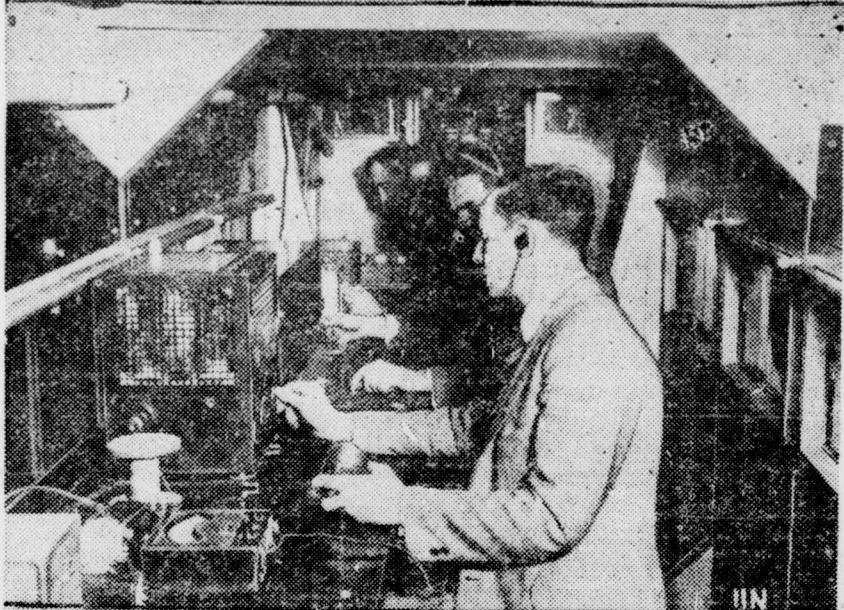

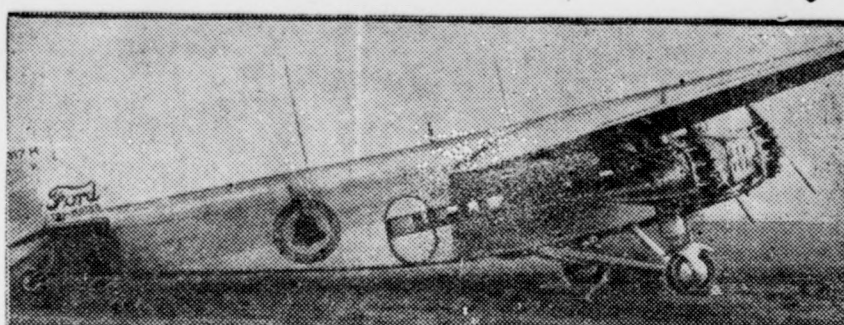

Table with 3 columns: Bulldogs, Position, Wildcats. Lists players like McNeill, Anderson, England, Willard, McDowell, Ashby, Watts, W. Caywood, Steverson, Smitheran, Finley for Bulldogs and Dicus, Herring, Swick, Dunseath, Gridley, Seidel, Patten, Acuff, Hargis, Sanctet, Leiber for Wildcats.

Second String Men to Play Phoenix Hi Here

While their big brethren are preparing to invade the domain of the Arizona Wildcats Saturday, Coach Merrell Hatch's second string footballers will provide a savory grid menu right here at home tomorrow afternoon when they meet the Phoenix high school second team.

The young Coyotes are slated to buck against the Bullpups at 2:30 on Irish Field, and should stage one of the best football games to be seen on home grounds this season. Tempe high school smeared the Phoenicians two weeks ago and if the Pups can't duplicate the feat tomorrow they ought to hang up their headgears and take to ping pong.

Last Saturday Hatch's laddies gave the folks on the campus here something to write home about when they stood backed to their own goal line through four quarters of a windy, dusty football game and held a much heavier and more powerful Brophy College team to a 0-0 tie. Brophy was figured better than the Maroon and Gold babes by at least two touchdowns, but a sturdy little line that held the Brophy men for downs time after time spilled the dope in several directions.

On the offensive the Bulldog understudies had to rely entirely on line plays, but during practice sessions this week they have strengthened their passing program and may be able to play over the heads of the Coyote Pups. DeMille at quarterback will do the ball slinging tomorrow if there is any to be done, and with Hinton, Kempton and Chesley as backfield receivers and Adams, Peters and Beuhman reaching for passes at end, Jones, punch packing, fullback, may get in for part of the game, but latest plans call for his accompanying the Varsity to Tucson. If Coach McCreary decides to use him in the University clash he will probably see but little action tomorrow, and Cislighi will alternate with Kempton at fullback.

K. Mitchum is carded to start at center tomorrow, with Palmer and Watson at guard berths. Chatham, R. Willard and W. Mitchum are other guards that will probably get in the game. Revello and Alexander, who came close to joining the now popular "one-arm club" last week when they received injured shoulders, are reported in shape to be back at their tackle jobs. Both of them showed plenty of fight against Brophy and their presence will bolster the line.
