Bulldogs to Open Basketball Season; Engage Saunders Club In First Game Friday Night

By DOC RAISIN CANE

Bulldog hoopsters will officially inaugurate the 1929 basketball season and Arizona state's new, remodelled gym tomorrow night at 8:15 when they trade shots and dribbles with the strong Clarence Saunders team of Phoenix. The affair will be in the nature of an "open house" to acquaint Salt River Valley sport fans with the new basketball court and to let them see one of State's most promising casaba squads in action. At least 2000 spectators are expected to avail themselves of the free entertainment.

Captain "Turk" Anderson, battling guard, will lead the Dogs in their season opener against a team of basketball veterans, some of them former Arizona State athletes. The Saunders aggregation will be one of the toughest nuts the Teachers will have to crack this year, although the game will be a non-league tilt. The Phoenix cagers have been playing for the last month against semi-pro teams in the valley, and are in top shape.

Among the McCreary-trained talent slated to perform for the visitors on the morrow are George Sorenson and Leonard Edwards, who helped push many an apple through the net while they wore the maroon and gold. Sorenson was an outstanding player during his two year stay here, and later captained the University of Arizona Wildcat hoop squad for two years. Since he left the Tucson school he has maintained an active interest in the sport.

Edwards, likewise, turned in two years of steady performance for the Dogs, and headed the local team as captain. Both ex-Dogs are reported as having been going great in their games so far this year and they will be big factors in the Saunders' battle plans.

Big Squad Out

Twenty-five men will be in suits tomorrow night, all awaiting a chance to prove they are of varsity calibre, and "Mac" will experiment with a good handful of them with an eye to picking this year's first string. Incidentally, the Dog mentor has let it be known that there will be no "cinch" appointments on his first choice squad. Merit displayed against the Saunders outfit and form shown in practice sessions early next week will determine what five of the 25 will start against Dixie College, which sends its strong Rocky Mountain.

Boxing Becomes Official Sport At Arizona State College, Tempe

Boxing will be inaugurated as an official sport at Arizona State Teachers College of Tempe next Friday night when two short exhibitions will be staged between the halves of the opening game of the Bulldogs with the Saunders quintet of Phoenix.

For the past two weeks amateur pugilists have been going through a daily grind and a class in boxing tactics under the direction of Student Coach De Mille. Twelve outstanding students have been picked out so far to take part in an inter-class tournament to pick members of a boxing team to represent this college against other schools of the Southwest and Pacific Coast.

Besides De Mille, who is recognized as one of the outstanding featherweight boxers in amateur circles in Los Angeles and vicinity, where he makes his home, several prospects show signs of developing

LIBRARY NOTICE

All books due before the holidays and not returned will be charged full time for overdues. Students desiring books during the holidays should get them December 19 and 20.

Reserve books will be issued only to students who remain in the dormitory, or to those who live near enough to return the book January 2.

The library will be open in the afternoon only from 2 to 4 o'clock January 2, 3 and 4.

Arboretum Director Pays Visit to College

Mr. F. J. Crider, director of the Boyce Thompson Desert Arboretum at Superior, Ariz., was a visitor on the campus on Wednesday afternoon, November 20. He addressed the afternoon Freshman class in geography and called attention to a number of tropical and other plants which were being introduced or were likely to be introduced into Arizona because of the climatic conditions and considerable economic value. Immediately after, Mr. Crider was conducted about the campus and buildings and dropped into several other class rooms.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

After careful consideration the assembly committee has decided that the manner of making announcements in the assembly is greatly in need of improvement. To that end the committee has voted to install the following plan. Effective December 9, 1929:

1. No announcements from the floor.
2. No announcements will be called for.
3. In case of an emergency, or of something of importance to a large number of students, announcements will be read, provided they are handed to the chairman soon enough so that he may have time to look them over before the assembly starts.
4. Announcements of a minor importance or that concern only a small number of students should be posted on the bulletin board.

Mr. Stiel Talks to Faculty on Scouting And Red Cross Work

The usual monthly faculty meeting took place last Monday night. The faculty was fortunate in having with them on this occasion, Mr. Stiel, representative of Boy Scout and Red Cross work, who gave a short talk on those subjects.

THAT PAGE IN THE ANNUAL

There has been some question as to whether or not it was too late to get Organization space in the 1930 Sahuaro. The annual staff wishes to announce that there is still time to reserve space in the book.

Space may be reserved until December 20, 1929. After that date space in the Organization section will not be available.

If your organization desires a place in the annual, please make arrangements with Albert Adams, business manager.

Announce Applications For Coffin Fellowships

The Charles A. Coffin Foundation, established some years ago by the General Electric Company, has announced that applications are now being made for the Charles A. Coffin Fellowships for 1930-31.

The terms of the Charles A. Coffin Foundation made provision for the award of $5000 annually for fellowships to graduates of the universities, colleges and technical schools throughout the United States, who have shown, by the character of their work, that they could, with advantage, undertake or continue research work in educational institutions either in this country or abroad.

The fields in which these fellowships are to be awarded are electricity, physics and physical chemistry. The committee, composed of Mr. Gano Dunn, representing the National Academy of Sciences, Mr. R. I. Rees, representing the Society for Promotion of Engineering Education, and Mr. Harold B. Smith, representing the American Institute of Electrical Engineers, desires to make the awards to men who, without financial assistance, would be unable to devote themselves to research work. The fellowships will carry a minimum allowance of $500. This allowance may be increased to meet the special needs of applicants to whom the committee desires to award the Fellowships.

Candidates for the Charles A. Coffin Fellowships should file applications on forms provided for that purpose, and obtainable from the secretary. Applications will be welcomed from seniors desiring to do research work as a part of the requirements for an advanced degree as well as graduates of universities, colleges and technical schools, but any award to a senior will be conditioned upon his graduation.

The committee requests that all applications first be sent to the dean of the educational institution at which the applicant is, or has been, in attendance within the year. The committee desires that the dean or other college executive in turn file all the applications received by him at the same time, together with a statement naming the two men applying who in his opinion or the opinion of the faculty are best qualified to receive the award.

Applications must be filed with the committee by March 1, 1930, and should be addressed to secretary, Charles A. Coffin Foundation, Schenectady, N. Y.

C. E. ROSE VISITS CAMPUS

Superintendent of Tucson schools, C. E. Rose, was a visitor at the College last Friday. Mr. Rose was here for the purpose of securing a penmanship teacher for the city schools of Tucson.

Lecture and Motion Pictures of China Are Geographic Feature

Mr. F. K. Stein, a retired engineer who has recently come to make his home in Phoenix will be the speaker for the Geographic Society next Thursday evening, December 12. Mr. Stein is widely traveled and recently made a trip into the south interior of China and lived several months in the city of Yunnanfu in the province of Yunnan. He took a series of motion pictures illustrating this part of China as well as the coastal regions and will show them here. In addition to having splendid pictures, Mr. Stein is a very interesting speaker with pleasing personality. The society will invite the students and faculty of the college to attend this program. It will be given in the Training School auditorium, beginning at 8 o'clock.

Staff of Sahuaro Announces Contests

Every year sees the arousal of a great deal of interest among the students as to who will be Campus Queen, Campus King, Sahuaro Flower, etc.

Election of these honorary officers is under the auspices of the annual staff. Following out the practice of former years the 1930 annual staff will hold an election for the following positions as soon as possible after the Christmas holidays. Get your candidate in mind and start the old propaganda, for this year's election will be hotly contested.

The following people will be nominated and voted for:

- Campus Queen.
- Campus King.
- Sahuaro Flower.
- Most popular boy.
- Most popular girl.
- Best all-round boy athlete.
- Best all-round girl athlete

A paid-in-full subscription to the 1930 Sahuaro entitles the holder to two votes for each.

A deposit on a copy of the 1930 Sahuaro will entitle the holder to one vote for each.

OLD GRAD RETURNS

Mrs. Ardrey, formerly Miss Mildred Foster, who was graduated from Tempe in 1915, paid a brief visit to members of the faculty and a few old friends in Tempe, last week. Mrs. Ardrey is on her way to the Philippine Islands to meet her husband, Major Ardrey, who is located at Fort McKinley. Although she was able to stay only a short while, her friends were glad to welcome her back.

RETROSPECT

By H. F.

Dear comrade:
Do you remember your childhood days,
What fun we had together,
When heedless of all calm or strife
We sang and danced along through life
In sunshine or stormy weather?
We're older now, my hair's grown gray,
Thine is touched with snow.
We care not—for to yesterday,
Arm in arm we go.
To the dear dim land of yesterday,
Where the pleasures of youth were sown.
The present is dead, the picture's vague,
We live for remembrance alone.

TEMPE'S CAMPUS CHARACTER PASSES ON

There are among us many whom we never know intimately or personally upon the pages of our lives. Such a one is the aged, bent man who tended the roses and lawns. You've noticed him, surely. Al-

Forty Men Answer Cage Call on Tuesday Afternoon at College; Bulldogs to Meet Utah Dec. 18

RESOLUTION

For a splendid exhibition of sportsmanship, fighting qualities against heavy odds, clean football and fair play on the part of the 1929 football teams representing the institution; and for the diligent and untiring efforts of the college department of physical education during the season just past, the faculty of the Arizona State Teachers College at Tempe desire to express and record their admiration.

S. R. V. W. U. A. HOLD MEETING

A meeting of the Salt River Valley Water Users' Association was held in the college auditorium on the night of December 4. C. C. Cragin, chief engineer of the association, addressed the group.

Y. W. C. A. SEEKS AID IN WHITE CHRISTMAS

The Y. W. C. A. of this campus is in need of your help to put over their White Christmas on December 16. If you have any kind of a gift, toy, or any food or clothing the Y. W. C. A. will be glad to receive and distribute them where they are needed. All contributions are to be wrapped in white paper and labelled. If it is clothing also tell the approximate size of the article, and whether it is for a girl or a boy. The Y. W. will have on sale, beginning Monday morning, December 16, white paper at one cent per sheet.

Salzburg Jubilee Festival Held At Salzburg, Austria, in 1930

ways busy, bent with a weight of years, going from lawn to lawn, shrub to shrub, tending them, caring for them. Old and odd as he was there was something striking about him. A story there if one could get at it. How long has he been here? Was it rheumatism that stooped his shoulders so, or was he really "Father Time's" first cousin, finding his youth among the flowers?

Fancy loves to play 'round such a figure. He readily becomes an enchanted prince. We've never learned his name. He seems more fitting nameless, as a symbol of the tricks life plays—the contrast nature loves.

But won't an old, old man, bent among the growing blossoms of a garden, always mean Tempe to you? He is material for dreams. But now the prince of the rose gardens is no longer. He shall never be seen upon this campus again, for he has passed on to the great gardens of rest, peace, and eternity. He is material for dreams.

With seven veterans returning and a flock of new casaba aspirants totaling 40 men, the basketball season at A. S. T. C. was officially opened last Tuesday afternoon. These men were the first squad to report for basketball in the new gymnasium which was completed last summer.

This gymnasium is on a par with any in the state and the equipment is of the latest design. With such a large, fine floor to play their scheduled games on, the Bulldogs can give some excellent exhibitions of the casaba sport this winter.

Of the candidates reporting for practice, 24 are fresh from the Bulldog or Bullpup gridiron squads, and are in fine physical condition. Three teams will be picked from the group, according to Coach McCreary, schedules having been planned for a varsity, second string and a freshman squad.

The first year men to report to Assistant Coach Foster Begg are: White, Morgan, Cook, Messer, McNeil, Peters, Jimenez, Alrich, Watson, Espinoza, Carruthers, Frazier.

As a nucleus to build his 1929-30 Bulldog casaba quintet from, McCreary will have seven lettermen back headed by Captain-elect O. Anderson, McCarty, Smith, Stevenson, H. Anderson and Crabtree. All of these except Crabtree have just completed a rigid training grind as members of the Tempe football team.

Others in the upper class squad from which McCreary's regulars will be chosen in the next two weeks of practice are: Moses, Cislaghi, Smith-eran, McCullar, Hinton, Clements, Watts, Sparks, Palmer, Cruz, Curnow, Casey, Chesley, M. Willard, Max, Revello, Adams, Kempton, Haddad. Some of these men played on the Frosh squad last year and should help to make a good cage squad for A. S. T. C. this year.

A complete schedule has not been worked out yet but the Bulldogs are going to open their season with non-league tilt with the Saunders quintet of the Phoenix Commercial League on December 14 in our new gym.

The first collegiate game of the season will be played on December 18 at Tempe with the Dixie College of Utah, who has never placed a basketball team lower than third place in conference rating since its entrance into the Rocky Mountain conference. Everyone out to give the cage squad a good support as they have some hard teams to play.

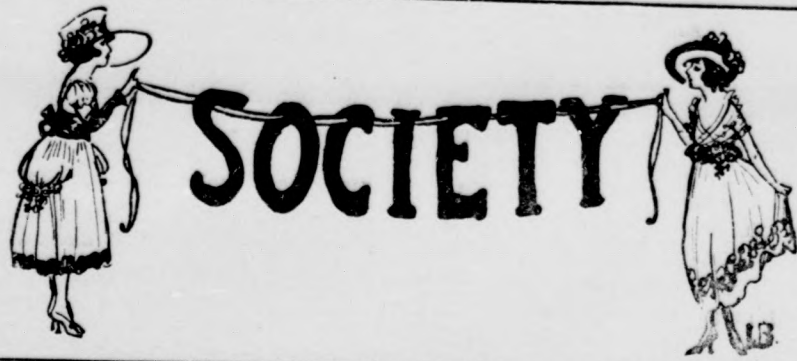

Max Reinhardt, of "The Miracle" fame in this country, will be the most important figure in the staging of world-famous dramas in the Reinhardt and Mozart Festivals, which will take place in Salzburg, Austria, beginning the last week in July and continuing until the end of August, 1930, it was announced today by Kommerzialrat Georg Jung, proprietor of the Grand Hotel de l'Europe, in Salzburg, Austria, who is visiting the United States.

Appearing under Mr. Reinhardt's direction will be such figures, by now noted in America, as Alexander Moissi, Emil Jannings and Werner Kraus and many others. The great Melba, now well advanced in age, and retired, will be one of the features. These Festivals, which have now become an annual feature in Salzburg, regularly draw a great attendance of Americans. It is expected that this year's, which is by far the most ambitious of these events so far, will prove even more attractive than the others.

Gila Pueblo Visited by Geographic Society

An interesting and profitable trip to Gila Pueblo was sponsored by the Geographic Society for its members on Saturday, November 23. Gila Pueblo, formerly known as Gila Terrace, is situated several miles south of Globe on an old alluvial valley terrace. It is the site of an old ruined pueblo of a prehistoric people believed to be contemporary with those who built Casa Grande ruin. The site was recently purchased and is now under the direction of Howard Gladwin, archaeologist. The lines of the old pueblo are being followed in the construction of modern buildings used to house a working laboratory of archaeology. Under the direction of Mr. Gladwin, collections are being classified from prehistoric ruins all over the Southwest, and the laboratory will enable archaeologists and students in archaeological research to make their investigations with the materials assembled and arranged for them.

Mr. Gladwin graciously received the members of the Society and gave them a large part of his afternoon to demonstrate the workings of his laboratory and exhibit the collections, at the same time unfolding the interesting story of prehistoric man in the Southwest. The Pueblo is not open to the tourist public and admission of the Society was by special arrangement. Those who took the trip were Misses Gracebel Swift, President; Margaret Ellis, Marion Silverthorne, Bina Lee Martin, Adolph Spangh, Fred Culbert, George Lecker and Mr. and Mrs. Hoover. Miss Josephine Williamson of the Class of 1927 joined the party at Globe.

Mrs. Waite Gives Demonstration Tea

A climax in the pre-holiday social functions of the college was reached on Thursday evening, December 5, when Mrs. Waite was the charming hostess to some 75 co-eds at a demonstration tea given in the "Y" rooms of the Industrial Art Building.

Pretending was the feature of the evening—and all who had no imagination were left to their own devices for entertainment.

Freshman Night Is Observed at 'Y'

Freshman night at the Y. W. C. A. was held in the "Y" rooms Thursday evening at 6:45 o'clock, November 19. Kate Vandy, as chairman of the program committee, which consisted of Miss Lang, Margaret Holt and Thelma Beck, presented the program.

All girls are urged to patronize the candy sale now being held in the "Y" rooms and to contribute to the "Y" Christmas collection, which will be distributed among the needy. Plans are also being made for a sale of novelties, which will help to solve the Christmas problem.

Pledges Announced By Philomathians

The Philomathian Society is pleased to announce the pledging of the following: Thelma Beck, Isabelle Caxton, Margaret Holt, Edna Sertic, Mary Hand, Lorraine Sawyer, Martha Jones and Helen Minson. Campus initiation started Tuesday evening when both pledges and members met together for the customary "pledges evening." After the rules had been given out, and business attended to, the members were entertained by the pledges.

SON, YOU WASHED?

First thing, when I come in sight,
In the morning, or at night,
Pa yells out with all his might,
"Son, you washed?"

Had a girl to spend the day,
An' soon as we got in from play,
Pa looked o'er his specs this way—
"Son, you washed?"

Spec' when I get sick an' die
An' go flyin' through the sky,
Peter'll yell as I go by—
"Son, you washed?"

Chi Sigmas Entertain Pledges at Bridge

In honor of the new pledges, the Chi Sigmas gave a bridge party on Tuesday, November 26, in Mr. Payne's office. The new members are Clara Fretz, Helen Fuykerson, Margery Reigan and Zona Wilkins. High score was won by Clara Fretz and low by Miss Haulot. Delicious refreshments were served later in the evening.

The society showed their appreciation of the acting ability of Margery Reigan, which she displayed in the clever play "Peg 'O My Heart," by presenting her with a beautiful bouquet of American Beauties.

Elene Webb, the president, stated that initiation would begin on Wednesday and last until Friday. New members were given the rules and informed as to how they would be punished during this time.

A meeting at the rendezvous was held Tuesday evening. The new pledges presented a very entertaining program and displayed much of their talents.

Delta Thetas Studying Modern, Ancient Plays

The members of the Delta Theta Society entertained the alumni members of the organization at a buffet supper on Homecoming Day, Saturday, November 16. The alumni present were Clay Carter, Audrey Pierce, Kathryn Stidham, Minnie Raymond, Zella Teeter, Jessie Peterson, Mary Alice Bell, Mary Halterman, Beulah Ratcliffe and Alberta Beasley.

This society welcomes three new members into their group. They are: Margery Hamar, Edith Jones and Mildred Bogart.

Timakeenas Extend Welcome to Pledges

The Timakeenas held their regular business meeting Tuesday night at 7:30. After the meeting a welcome was extended to the pledges and the rules for the informal initiation which began Thursday, December 5 at 8 o'clock.

The pledges are Iris Russell, Marie Awrey, Evelyn Cole.

THE WEST WIND
The wild and wooly west wind
Goes howling o'er the ridges
And the peaks,
And in the cow-camps round about
The saddle-leather squeaks,
And Clint and Smoky like it
And Smoky makes Clint ride it—
Oh the wild and wooly west win
Goes howling o'er the ridges
And the peaks,
And in the cow-camps round about
The saddle-leather squeaks.

HONEY-BEES
Honey-bees are dying
Young and old, wild and tame,
But we'll still have lots of honey
Just the same—just the same.
—A. T. H.

JUST BECAUSE
Because she's a girl, and a girl of today,
She wants to go forward brisk, confident, gay,
To taste of adventure
To strive and achieve
Though Grundies may censure
And faint hearts may grieve
She isn't afraid of the world's busy whirl,
Nor daunted at all just because she's a girl.

Because she's a girl, need she linger
and wait,
Because such a life was her grandmother's fate?
She won't—she'll endeavor
To win her own chance,
Success, or the ever
Bright goal of romance
But still, from her toes to each
water-waved curl,
She'll keep all her charm, just because she's a girl.

Because she's a girl, we are boosting
her game,
Here's luck to her, love to her, money
and fame!
But as she goes questing
For visions that thrill
And weighing and testing
The truth of them all,
May sportsmanship guide her through all of the swirl—
May she ask for no favors "because she's a girl!"

Lambda Kappa Pledges Give Musical Program

Tuesday evening, December 3, the Lambda Kappa pledges entertained the members with a very interesting musical program.

The members enjoyed the program very much and appreciated it as it was in direct line with the work to be studied this quarter.

Tuesday evening, November 27, the members and pledges enjoyed a picnic between the Buttes. After eating, the pledges entertained the members with an impromptu program.

Campus initiation was held December 2, 3 and 4. Formal initiation will be held Tuesday evening, December 10. A Christmas party is being planned for Tuesday evening, December 17.

Geographic Society All-Day Field Trip

The class in geographic geology left the campus on Saturday morning in the college bus for an all-day field study. The flood plain and terraces of the Salt river was the object of study in the forenoon, and the denudation of desert mountains and development of mountain pediments in the afternoon. The party lunched along the river just below Granite Reef dam. Everyone enjoyed the day's outing as well as learning the interpretation of the physical features of the country traversed.

Froebel Club Closes Initiation with Party

As a climax to the Froebel Club initiation, the club had a formal initiation and party in the Training School.

The Christmas motif was carried out in the decorations and the presence of a Christmas tree.

The game "cootie" was played and especially enjoyed by the new members. Jane Cronkite winning high score.

Pierians Planning Picnic for Pledges

The Pierian Society gave a bridge party in their new meeting place in the main building to welcome the new members of the society, on last Tuesday evening. The members are glad to welcome the following pledges to the Pierian Society: Ruth Roberts, Theodora Carman, Gladys Clanton and Clara Kiener. All were present to enjoy an evening of bridge, after which refreshments were served.

Pledges are being initiated on Monday and Tuesday of this week. The two days of campus initiation are to be followed by a picnic Tuesday evening at Pierian Point.

Phelda Nu Phis Enjoy Social Hour

On Tuesday evening, December 3, from 6:30 to 7:30, the old members and pledges of the Phelda Nu Phi Society enjoyed a whoopee social hour.

Those present were Willa Clark, Hanny Mitchum, Ethel Buck, Dick Finley, Thelma Francies, Horace Chesley, Helen Minson, Randall Alexander, Opal Wills, Oliver Anderson, Rae Clark and Glenn Mcses.

Fifth Grade, Norfolk, Virginia
If you know a little boy
About as old as me,
With curly hair and big blue eyes,
Who loves plum jam for tea;
Who likes to lie upon the floor
And read out things aloud,
Who does not always shut the door
And thinks all girls are proud,
Who wants to be a policeman
Or p'raps a sailing pirate bold,
And go a sailing around the world,

College Girls Make The Best Mothers

"Recently a dean of women has added to my joy in this debate, by defining indirectly her idea of a good mother," says Maude Parker in the January College Humor, opening her article on "Collegiate Mothers," with a quotation from the dean's article: "The modern college girl is intelligent, cultured, capable and industrious, but she is not a great success as a home maker, wife and mother. Intelligent young women resent the implication that they are only fit to cook the meals and wash the dishes. Then there is a crack about the study of higher mathematics causing them dissatisfaction with 'performing tasks which a high grade moron could do equally well.' "Concise expressed, the dean believes the test of a good mother lies in her happy willingness to wash dishes and cook.

"And right there is where I take my joyful departure from the professor's theories. For to me the one and only test of a good mother is that she shall prepare her children physically, mentally and psychologically for the fullest and happiest lives possible. On each one of these counts the college girl is more apt to succeed than her untrained contemporary, other things being equal.

"Surely no one can maintain that four additional years of education will warp a woman's fundamental and primitive love for her child. Therefore, all college training can do is to provide her with greater insight into how this material love can be intelligently translated. To assume that its highest expression lies in the personal sterilization of feeding bottles is a shocking belittlement of a life work. Motherhood is such a vast and unending job that it calls for every bit of intelligence and training a woman can acquire in college and out. The qualities which education should develop—judgment, resourcefulness, regard for authoritative sources of information on any given subject (with its corollary of scepticism about hearsay and superstition) open-mindedness and the capacity for logical thought—are the very qualities most needed in this difficult profession of maternity. For good measure, one might add an enriched cultural background.

"The practical application of these begins with the fact that as a rule college girls marry at a later age than girls who do not go to college. On the theory of chances therefore, they will be less irresponsible and more competent and poised when they do marry. Probably the first duty of a conscientious mother is to select the nearly perfect father, and one likes to think this can be done

Love of Learning Is Essential to Successful Use of Knowledge

"Bitter Medicine" Philosophy Of Acquiring Knowledge Attacked By Professor

"Too often schools are conducted on that principle made immortal by Mr. Dooley: 'It doesn't matter what you teach a boy, Hennessey, so long as he doesn't like it,'" says J. Mace Address in the December Journal of the National Education Association. Mr. Address lists among the objectives of education, knowledge, habits, and attitudes. The oldest of these is knowledge, but it is by no means the most important. Mr. Address thinks, for without the proper attitudes knowledge is difficult to acquire and useless after it is achieved. Without attitudes that urge definite action, pupils form habits slowly, and break them as soon as compulsion is removed.

Attitudes Are Important
"Too many students pass their work in English with marks indicating that their knowledge of facts and their skill in writing is satisfactory and yet have unfortunate attitudes toward the subject. When such attitudes are aroused they not only deprive the student of pleasure in pursuing the subject at school, but in later years good literature may be avoided," offers Mr. Address in explanation of the fact that so many students never read after graduation the works of the great writers they studied in school and college. Mr. Address cites prejudices as an example of the extent to which attitudes influence lives, sometimes determining objectives and achievements of a lifetime in a measure far beyond the importance of the underlying reason for the emotional likes and dislikes. Since no person reaches maturity without forming attitudes that will influence him in all his acts, he urges that more attention be given to the education of emotions in the home and school. As a basis for this type of education he would make use of the psychological principles of associating satisfaction and pleasure with that which is wholesome.

with fewer chances of failure by the mature woman. "The actual physical care of the child again requires professional guidance, and I should like to call attention to the fact that our national infant mortality rate has markedly decreased since women began to accept the wisdom of experienced medical specialists, and discount the hearsay of an untrained older generation."

tain team here for a game Wednesday night.
Hazarding a guess, Bob Smith and "Nellie" Anderson or Leonard Currow will open tomorrow's fracas at forward berths. Glen Moses rates next on the roster and will probably see action during part of the game, as may Tommy McCarty, whose only real handicap is his feather weight.

"Turk" Anderson and "Cow" Clements should get the nod at back guard, with Cecil McCullar romping along with "em. "Turk" is also available as a running guard.

Guards Are Fast
"Papa" Kempton, Cislighi and Max look to be the best of the running guards. Kempton brought his baggage here this year from Gila College and last season traveled east to play in the national basketball tournament. Max brings a flashy court style with him from Indiana and points in the great mid-west, while Cislighi is liable at any moment to put his head down and dribble down the floor in the same battering style that enabled him to roll over a few touchdowns this fall for the Bullpups.

"Crab" Crabtree, veteran pivoter, is the logical man to start at center. "Nellie" Anderson and "Al" Adams, who plays also as running guard, are alternates for the job. "Irish" Casey, Johnny Hinton, "Boots" Watts and Sparks are other aspirants for forward berths and a young army of potential guards includes "Eyezenose" Eisenhart, Chesley, Cruz, Palmer, Revello, and E. Anderson. "Hot Dawg" Willard, last year's genial manager, has retired in favor of "Bull" England, another good business man, and is devoting his energy to learning the duties of a guard.

Bulldog Bites

Andy (at dinner)—"Give my cake back to me."
Irma (also at dinner)—"I didn't take your cake?"
Andy—"What did you do with it?"
Irma—"I didn't do anything with it; you ate it."
Charley the Barb—"Is there any particular way you want your hair cut?"
Goldy—"Yeah, off."
Hazel McComb claims that she can walk the straight and narrow path without even making one little zig or zag in it.

There isn't anything new in the Freshman-Sophomore feud this month unless you call complete and absolute liberty new.

College Girl (to college boy working on the campus)—"Whatcha doing, digging a flower bed?"
"Naw, digging a grave."

Sarcasm—"Were you born in a barn?"
More ditto—"Sure, and I get homesick every time I hear your voice."

The man getting his hair cut noticed that the barber's dog, which was lying on the floor beside the chair, had his eyes fixed on his master's work.
"Nice dog that," said the customer.
"He is, sir."
"He seems very fond of watching you cut hair."
"It ain't that, sir. You see, sometimes I make a mistake and snip off a little bit of a customer's ear."
"I'll tell you the score of the basketball game before it starts."
"What is it?"
"Nothing to nothing before it starts."

Patient—"What shall I take to remove the redness from my nose?"
Doctor—"Take nothing, especially between meals."

Tempe Harriers Lose To Arizona, Tucson, Thanksgiving Day

The Tempe Teachers' cross-country team journeyed to Tucson on Thursday morning, November 28, where they met the University runners in a cross-country run in the afternoon as an added attraction to the gridiron battle between the Wildcats and Whittier Poets. The Teachers lost 23 to 15.

Harry Culbert, captain, finished first in 17 minutes 23 seconds, breaking the 3.1 mile course Arizona record. He finished first in the meet on Homecoming with the Lumberjacks which helped to make the score a tie. He is a born runner and has good endurance to run greater distances. He is the "Paavo Nurmi" of the A. S. T. C. Also he crossed the finish line a quarter of a mile ahead of his nearest rival in this meet.

Ten men ran the race but only the first eight were counted. They finished in this order: Culbert, Tempe; Hjalmarson, Arizona; Velasco, Arizona; Pendleton, Arizona; Jiminez, Tempe; Perez, Arizona; Caplinger, Tempe; Windes, Tempe. All runners finished but were behind those mentioned above and were not counted.

The Bulldog runners gave a good exhibition of their ability to run the distance races. They should be praised for their excellent work which they have shown in the three meets in which they have performed.

Two of our men, Caplinger and Scales, trained for only two weeks before going to Tucson and they ran a great race for Tempe.

Another man to run a good race and to place eighth in it was Windes, who has been out all the time to train for these cross-country runs. He certainly has the endurance and has performed well in all the distance runs this year.

This meet closed the season for the Bulldog harriers and all the men are in fine physical condition for track next spring.

smart student, "the more one sits the less one can stand."
"Exactly," retorted the lecturer, "and the more one lies the more one's standing is lost."

Whatever trouble Adam had,
No man in those days of yore
Could say when he told a joke:
"I've heard that one before."

How to Go Over Big in Class
1. Arrive 10 minutes late for class. The teachers will think you have been studying till the last minute and will, therefore, beam upon you.
2. Never recite. You're there to absorb knowledge, not to dispense what little you have.
3. Never rise if you do say anything. It's much more democratic to sit with the mass.
4. Whisper lustily when someone else is reciting. This always goes over big. It gives the necessary background for the speaker. Also, things always better themselves by competition.
5. Begin to get ready five minutes before the dismissal bell. This shows your interest in your next class, how eager you are to further your education.
6. Last but not least—if you have followed all the preceding words of wisdom, pack up and go home—you might as well—Pen Dragon.

BEAUTY
Mary M. Porter
A soul that sees into the heart of things;
A life that responds to their urge;
A face that glows when a skylark sings,
That dreams when a day's colors merge—
That soul knows beauty.

A soul with a passion for knowing truth;
A life that is strong and fine;
A face that is tender with sympathy
That consecrates each design—
That soul is beauty.

There is perhaps no word more frequently used nowadays than "beauty." Magazines abound with it; store window descriptions flaunt it; boys and girls fling it around profusely. But it is not always used in the true sense—the soul-sense—as it is in the following poem:

ON THE CAMPUS Twenty Years Ago

From the TEMPE NORMAL STUDENT
Dedication of new buildings. The dedication of the new gymnasium and auditorium will be held in the new auditorium Friday, November 26. All of the buildings on the campus are to be lighted and opened for the reception and inspection of the parents of the students and the townspeople, who will be conducted by various committees of the students and faculty.

Just a Word About Grades. (Editor's note—they worried about them too.) The grades that came out last week caused mingled feelings of joy and sorrow. Of course, there is always some complaint, but perhaps a word of warning would not be out of place. The instructors are fond of telling us that mid-semester grades are meaningless. This is true insofar as they do not go on record. They are a help in that they show the student exactly where he stands and where he needs to put the hardest work. Any condition may be removed if the student only determines to do so. But it is not a spirit which will win success, when the student vows he'll never study again because he received a low grade. Don't be easily discouraged.

Mr. Clarence Paddock, '03, who is interested in the construction of the Cananea, Yaqui Valley & Pacific Railway, visited his Alma Mater on November 19.

AN ODE TO HASH
(A Parody)
Tell me not in mournful numbers
That we meet again today—
All the scraps we had on Sunday
Fixed up in the same old way.
Mutton chops and turkey giblets,
Lamb and chicken, steak and stew,
In a motley mass of jumble,
Served again to me and you!
Ah, I recognize the giblets!
There is one I could not crack!
Oh, good evening, Mr. Gizzard,
And that neck is coming back!
Friends of other meals, I greet you—
Greet you in the good old way.
Yes, dog-gone you, I will eat you,
Or you'll come again some day!
L. G., '12.

Real white snow fell on December 5 from about 8 to 9 p. m.

Making it possible for the amateur photographer to take snapshots in color, a special film recently has appeared on the British market.

Leaves

Take one last look at the campus before you go away for Christmas vacation for it won't be the same when you return. The leaves, once green and bright, faded into a golden brown and now are colorless and lifeless like bits of old, old, paper. The trees do not want them when they are old and ugly, so in refuge they seek Mother Earth with sinking hearts. The students tramp over them, kick them and disturb their rest. The gardener, disliking to see his garden and grounds looking so disreputable, takes his rake and without warning sweeps the leaves into bunches, then heartlessly he sets them on fire or takes them away in a horrid old truck. Leaves are beautiful things and add so much to nature but like all other things there is a time for them to go and how we miss them. The campus looks so barren and cold, the trees all look undressed. So students, look at the leaves while you can, old and worn laying on the ground or perhaps there are one or two still on the trees. Look at them while you can for—when you come back the campus will be cold and deserted—by the leaves.

TEMPERAMENTAL
I'm sure, dear, that you noted,
While you were by the sea,
Its temperamental nature
And likened it to me.

Sometimes it sobs with sadness,
At times it shouts with glee;
Sometimes it's long and narrow,
At times it's wide and free.

It tries to touch the heavens,
It flings itself on high,
With an eager, grasping clutch
It snatches at the sky.

Today it's green with envy,
Tomorrow black with pain,
Today it's bright with sunshine,
Tomorrow drenched in rain.

At times 'tis calm and silent,
Just like a sheet of glass;
At times 'tis wind with fury,
It's daring and it's rash.

Sometimes in utter madness,
It overruns its bounds;
Sometimes it is reluctant,
And must be coaxed around.

But if you brave its tempest,
And play the diver's part,
You'll find with all its madness
There's treasure in its heart!

STUDIOUS
"What is your brother in college?"
"A halfback."
"I mean in studies."
"Oh! In studies he's away back."

Visitor—"I can't eat this stuff. Call Mrs. Krause."
Waitress—"It's no use. She won't eat it, either."
