

College To Start School In Phoenix

Courses Are Given For College Units

Instruction Is Planned In Commercial Field For Business

The three years of effort on the part of Mr. E. J. Hilkert to establish a commerce school in Phoenix met with success this week when the administration established the School of Commerce in Phoenix of the Arizona State Teachers college and made plans to begin preliminary registration tonight at 7 o'clock.

Sponsors of the program stated that in taking this step of providing facilities for business men and employees to receive instruction in the commercial field, the college was meeting the needs of the valley metropolitan area and falling in line with the policies of the larger universities throughout the country.

Enrollees who do not have college pre-requisites may enter as special students, while those that are seeking a degree will be given acceptable college credits.

Seek Workmen

Phoenix business houses have been invited to enroll their employees in the new commerce venture, that will be held in the Phoenix Union High school auditorium and be open to the public. According to present plans, classes will meet five days a week from 7 o'clock to 9 p. m.

Courses will be offered in business law, secretarial work, merchandising, economics, credit and collections and possibly in other fields as the demand is expressed. The present faculty fill consist of Mr. Ralph A. Mastellar, Mr. E. J. Hilkert, Dr. C. A. Atkinson and J. A. Dille. The head of the college had not been determined as the STATE PRESS deadline was met.

Self Supporting

The new school will be self supporting as a charge of $5 per semester hour will be levied upon all enrollees to meet teaching and administrative expenses.

Success in the placement of enrollees, that will seek jobs upon the completion of the course, is contemplated through the facilities of the employment agency for commercial students, that has experience notable success since its inception. Last year the bureau placed all applicants that completed the course in the local commerce department.

Regular class attendance will begin next Monday at 7 o'clock, at which time registration will also be continued.

FORUM and AGAINST 'EM

Student Opinion of Current Topics

The question for this week—What do you think of the new card catalog system in the reserved reading room?

Ford Gano—The new method is evidently more convenient for the librarians, but is more trouble to the student.

Marjorie Ferrin—I think it makes things easier for all.

Paul Trimble—I do not think it is so good, because it takes too long to find books.

Gene Fulghum—I think an easier and more satisfactory method from the standpoint of the student could be found. Last year's method was better.

Jean Harriman—What difference does it make. One system is as good as another to me. I never use the reserved room.

Glen Nicholson—I don't like it. Alice Hanson—I think it is very unhandy and confusing and I like the old system very, very much better.

Glenda Richardson—It is too much trouble. I like to have the names of the teachers there.

Mr. Carl G. Hoyer, band leader, has decided to again take the band to the Rose Bowl this year, if finances can be arranged. They will also play at the University game.

Sigma Tau Deltas Elect Myers New Sponsor

The Tau Gamma chapter of the Sigma Tau Delta, professional English society, elected Dr. Louis Myers, new head of the English department, sponsor last night, at a meeting conducted in the sun parlor of North hall. Dr. Myers replaces Dr. A. Lionel Stevenson, former head of the English department who is now at the University of Southern California.

The meeting last night was the first business meeting this semester and was called for the purpose of formally accepting Dr. Myers as the new sponsor.

In his first act as the new advisor, Dr. Myers gave a short informal talk that included suggestions for the future of the honorary English organization. Members presiding for the first time in their new positions were Jamie Hart, president; Christine Hicks, vice-president; Beatrice Brookbank, treasurer; Betty Hotchkiss, secretary; and George Rylance, marshal.

Frosh Step It Off
What might have been a crowd watching a fire proved to be attracted by one of the little frosh "femmes" stepping it off in no mean fashion as her male classmates whistled a lively tune.

If song is any expression of joy they were plenty happy for they poured out verse after verse of everything from "The Old Grey Mare" to "Moonlight and Roses." At least, it is agreed that it was more enjoyable to the singers than to their friends, the sophs, that had to listen.

New Fall Colors
The brightly colored bathrobes and pajama tops added a welcome fall touch of color to the campus, but some of the louder pajama tops must have been quite hard on the light sleepers.

Many a heart was broken by the rouge and lipstick boys. By actual count, this reporter observed one of the sophs cast no less than 13 glances at a gorgeous little thing in the library. It was a hard blow when it got up and walked out in a pair of cords.

AWS Adopt Constitution For Society

Plan For Social Sororities To Give A Series Of Parties

Final action on the program that was started last spring to establish a constitution for the Associated Women Students was taken yesterday when the association voted to adopt the document that was prepared by last year's council.

The new constitution is composed of six articles providing election of officers, number of officers and their duties, filling of vacancies and the duties of the organization as a whole. It also provides for a council and the members of the council as well as the

Auditorium Is Not Completed For Assembly

Television Lecture Given In Training School For Science

Meeting the problem of having an auditorium that will not be ready for use until next Friday, due to remodeling, and an assembly on television already contracted for this morning, the committee has arranged to hold it in the Training school auditorium and restricted it to science students.

This morning's program will reveal the latest progress made in the television and is expected to show a machine that is a finished product in the science of projecting the voice and vision through the ether.

The auditorium was found in an unusable state with the WPA workers still engaged in the construction work, as all possible facilities were being used to push the work to a completion by next Friday.

It was believed by the administration, that even if the finishing touches had not been applied by next week's assembly, it would be possible to use it. It was doubtful

Band, Football Team Buy 100 Tickets On Special To Take Members To Tucson

Little Fear Is Held That Required Quota Will Be Secured As Only 50 Fares Are Left To Be Sold To The Student Body

BULLETIN—With 195 tickets already sold as this paper went to press, the minimum had been reached and student leaders were attempting to boost the total to 250.

The special train to the University game at Tucson was practically assured this week, according to Student-President Gerald Dart, when the band and football team agreed to take the special, which cut the required number of tickets to be sold to 50.

Though no count of the actual number of tickets already sold could be obtained as this paper went to press, it is thought by student leaders, that the minimum of 50 could be secured with little difficulty.

Sales were being continued through the rest of this week and all of next, in an effort to boost the total number to 250 so as to lower the original price of $2.30 to $2.00. The former price is based upon the contingency of 150 students taking the train.

The final decision to take the band to play at the game was made

Final Figures Place Enrollment At 1,100 Students

Men, Women Students Are Equal In The Final Count

Final registration count places the total number now enrolled in the college at 1,100, which is a 14 per cent increase over the total enrollment at this time last year.

For the first time, men and women are equally represented in numbers on the campus, as exactly 50 per cent of the enrollment are men, according to an official statement of the registrar's office.

Mr. F. M. Irish, registrar, believed that any further addition would be in the graduate division, in which he expected at least 10 more enrollees. Extension classes, which began registration last Tuesday, are expected to reach the total of from 25 to 30 students.

The Freshman class continued to hold its position as the largest with 350 students, with the sophomore class consisting of 250, juniors, 235; and the seniors, 220.

Yell Leaders Sought To Lead Cheering

Yell leaders are being sought by the college.

Anybody who has an idea that he or she can produce a few sore throats in a football crowd is urged to meet with Jimmy Curtis, student-body vice-president, in the auditorium at 4 o'clock this afternoon.

Opportunities are open for both women and men yell leaders. Immediate action is sought so that the newly chosen leaders can go into action at the University of Arizona game.

Hell Weekers Like It Newcomers Whoop It Up

Wandering about the campus this week, one of the STATE PRESS reporters found that hell week wasn't all hell, with the frosh whooping it up with song, dance, and burlesque.

The floor of a local confectionery was kept hot all week by the greenies doing no little bit of "truckin'" for the amusement of the sophs and the greater delight of the hoopers.

Many a heart was broken by the rouge and lipstick boys. By actual count, this reporter observed one of the sophs cast no less than 13 glances at a gorgeous little thing in the library. It was a hard blow when it got up and walked out in a pair of cords.

The newcomers started off in an altruistic mood by seeking to share their fun with the sophomore president, George Fleming. The bruisers from the football field almost concluded the first kangaroo court before it had gotten well started, when they decided to place Fleming in the fish pond.

The diplomacy of the student body president convinced them that all of the fun was being confined to the freshman class.

Featured On Program
It is concluded by this reporter that if all of this impromptu talent can be assembled for the program at West hall tonight it ought to be one mele of dance, song, trucking, fashion parade, and male cuties.

Student leaders reported that the majority of the participants in the "hell week" program are taking a splendid attitude and that everyone is having a good time.

Scheduled for production October 28 and 29, "The Amazing Dr. Clitterhouse", three act mystery comedy by Barre Lyndon, first major dramatic production of the year, was cast this week by Professor Beryl Simpson, director. Rehearsals will begin Monday.

Members of the cast are: Nurse Anne, Marie Barnett; Dr. Clitterhouse, Wendell Noble; Chief Inspector Charles, Harold Lebs; Benny Killerman, Edward Noble; "Pal" Green, Dick Ayersman; Daisy, Jewel Mae Jacobson; Sergeant Bates, Ted Willey; "Oakie", Douglas Standage; "Badger Lee", C. I. Robson, Jr.; and Sir William Grant, John Donaldson.

Coming from a successful run in London, "The Amazing Dr. Clitterhouse" opened last March in the Hudson theatre, New York City, and became an outstanding Broadway attraction.

Annual Staff Is Appointed By Editor

Oliver Named Associate Editor For Annual Publication

Annual staff appointments were made this week when Barney Reid, editor of the publication, selected Mary Oliver as associate editor, Jack Tyler and Cornelia Brown for sports and society editors, respectively, and filled all assistant positions.

As associate editor, Mary Oliver, former head of a Phoenix Union high school annual that won All-American recognition, will participate in the policies and make-up of the book.

Assisting Tyler in the sports department will be Justin Evans, journalist.

Sports Threatened By Curtailment If Deficits In Budget Are Pending

Administration Stresses That No Deficits Will Be Allowed In The New Budget As Council Turns Over Funds To College

Major sports was threatened with a curtailment of their activities this week as the athletic funds were turned over to the college and the administration demanded that the department stay within its budget.

According to President Grady Gammage, no deficit will be allowed and if it is seen that one is pending the program of the department will have to be pared to meet the resources available.

Begin Irregular Assemblies
This year's assembly program, following completion of work on the auditorium, will begin October 1 with the presentation of the Indian baritone Ish Ti Opi, first of a concert series engaged by Professor Beryl Simpson, assembly chairman.

Pending the appointment of further committee members, Miss Simpson has made only tentative arrangements for the program of assemblies.

Dependent upon approval of the committee to be appointed, regular assemblies may be held only when an unusually attractive feature can be offered.

Although no campaign for campus organization assemblies will be conducted, hours will be available to those societies which desire them. General student meetings and pep rallies will be held whenever desirable.

'The Amazing Dr. Clitterhouse' Is Cast As First Major Production Of Year

Budget Is Largest In Council's History

AWS GIVEN FUNDS FOR FIRST TIME

Percentages Remain The Same Except For WAA And State Press

Student body activities were supplemented with increased resources in every department, with the exception of the Women's Athletic Association, when the student council adopted the largest budget in the history of the college this week.

Both the STATE PRESS and the WAA suffered in percentages when 44 percent was taken from the former and given to the debate department and one percent taken from the WAA to meet the request of the Associated Women Students for $100 to handle their expenses.

Increased resources of the budget more than met the loss of the PRESS in percentages, but it was thought doubtful as to whether the new appropriation to women's athletics would quite equal last year's disbursement to this department.

Though few of the amounts met the requests of the departments to the ways and means committee, the majority will have sizable increases to operate on. The first draft of the budget was based upon the initial amount of $5000, that was turned over to the council as their share of the registration receipts up to date. There is a probability that further funds will be forthcoming.

A complete itemization of the newly adopted budget follows:

Department	Amount
Major sports	$1666.50
WAA	340.00
Golf and tennis	136.00
Drama	250.00
STATE PRESS	1000.00
Band and orchestra	315.00
Glee clubs	263.00
Debate	158.50
Social activities	390.00
Reserve	431.00
AWS	50.00

Additional monies, that may be received later, will be dispensed

Freshmen Present Program Tonight

Freshmen will become full-fledged members of the student body tonight, when they complete "hell week" activities with the presentation of a program on the patio of West hall tonight at 7:30 o'clock and are introduced to the students by George Fleming, sophomore president.

Featured in the presentation will be songs, dances, and readings by the newcomers. The college band and orchestra in conjunction with the Glee club, will furnish musical entertainment.

President Grady Gammage, Dean J. O. Grimes, and Student-President Gerald Dart will address the freshmen and upperclassmen on subjects pertinent to the occasion.

The affair is under the direction of Fleming and Pat Lebs, president and vice-president of the sophomore class. Freshman activities are being arranged by Bill James, president.

The Lambda Phi Sigma's held their fraternity's annual smoker last Monday, January 20th.

Campus Employment

Distributing of campus employment among the student applicants has been an almost impossible problem of the administration, but when employees fail to report two weeks after school begins and must be begged to begin their work, it is no longer a problem. These jobs should be given to deserving students that will not consider their contract as a pension.

At the end of the first week, 20 employees had not reported and were sitting back—drawing their pay and waiting for someone to force them to work. At the present time, eight are still reluctant about beginning their duties even after they have been reminded of them.

For everyone of the 330 persons that secured employment, a surprising number of desirable students were rejected. No one is such a good football player, dramatist or excellor in any field but what he can be replaced, and he should be if he portrays his insincerity by flagrantly disregarding his contract to perform services on the campus for monies received.

Artists Receive Illustrations

A selection of textiles, figurines and pottery, made for the department of fine arts, was received this week.

This selection is additional illustrative material for art classes. The textiles have been secured from Mace Company, New York City. They are of a variety of color combinations, in modern and historic designs.

Training School Briefs

Boy Scouts of the Eighth Street school will attend the swim-meet at the Pueblo. They will also conduct treyouts for the trip to Tucson next Saturday.

To inaugurate their new recreational program the Training School physical education department will leave for a "games picnic" this afternoon from 3:30 o'clock until 5:30.

The regular program of the physical education department has been enlarged so as to include intra-mural dancing for the entire junior high school. The Training School is the first elementary school in the state to have intra-mural dancing.

The faculty of the training school will leave the campus tomorrow morning at ten o'clock on their annual picnic. They plan to journey to Oak Flat, near Superior, to spend the day in outdoor activities.

In making arrangements for lunch, the teachers have been divided up into various groups with several of the married members of the faculty acting as hostesses.

Swinging Around The Campus

By TILLIE

"Smoke got in her eyes" this week as Tillie swung about a campus smudged by smoke—to peer through smarting eyes to catch the sugar and spice and everything not nice. (Well, it's better than shoveling garbage, anyway).

It was a smutty week for Tillie as a black haze poured from what seemed like ten thousand corn-cob pipes, cigars and cigarettes, that the boys puffed at four fraternity smokers this week. It is probably just as well that she was not invited to attend, for it is rumored that the atmosphere was not all that was smutty. (Boys will be boys).

Tillie was not fooled when the BOYS attempted the subterfuge of building the fire on the "T" in the form of an "A," so that it would appear that the University had done it. She found that it was just the old artistic temperament that prompted the fire-flies. They complained that the Frosh had done a dingy job and they felt it their duty to block it out. Tillie would reveal the names, but the editor won't hear of it since one of the BOYS threatened to tell of the time that he burned the house of an owner in Mesa that was entirely lacking in a sense of humor.

In looking over the champions, Tillie found that they were not all on the football field. There is Ardyce Bell, who was marble champ of Huntington Beach, and if anyone wants to see a champ in action they need only to take a squint of the picture in an edition of the Huntington Beach News that shows Ardyce in action on all fours.

Tillie has been requested to keep a lookout for someone with a pull with the cows and none with the college. The search for a milkier is still on, for Bill Cooper, who originally had the job, got tired of nurse-maiding the "cow-sie-wousies" and used some of his pull with the employment department to be transferred.

Stealing through the men's dormitories one night, Tillie was impressed with the industriousness of the boys. They are not letting anything interfere with their work, as was portrayed by a sign on one of the doors which read, "IF I AM STUDYING, PLEASE DO NOT AWAKEN ME."

Dropping into a local confectionery for a cup of coffee, Tillie found that the Dr. Defoe of last week had become the bluebeard of this week. The proprietor made the original Dr. Defoe look like an amateur when he became the physician for 15 pups to which his dog gave birth last Monday. Not content with that distinction, he outdid the notable Mr. Hyde by destroying all but three of them with methods that make Tillie shudder.

Debate Team To Be Chosen Next Week

Tryouts for the varsity debate team will be conducted next Monday and Tuesday in room 113 of Old Main, as the initial step in the enlarged debate program of the college, under the direction of Dr. Merle Ansberry.

It is pointed out that anyone is eligible to try for the team and the professor asserted "the more the better."

Local debaters are contemplating an active program through sponsored activities of Pi Kappa Delta, national debate society.

Among the prospective tournaments that they hope to participate in, is the Pi Kappa Delta meet in Denver, Colorado, on November 22. This contest was formerly held on the coast annually, but was this year changed to Denver.

Football players taking the special will number over 50, which boosts the total fares already paid to 100, in addition to the number that was sold on the campus this week.

According to arrangements with the railroad company, the train will leave the local station at 1 o'clock and return from Tucson at midnight, with students having the option of staying over and catching any of the regular trains within one week.

Tickets may be purchased from Gerald Dart or at any of the booths that have been placed about the campus.

Styles In Correct Campus Dress For The College Women

By SARA J. REED

Clothes consciousness is characteristic of the alert young man in any field today. The farmer welcomes sanforized work clothes that combine the advantages of trimness and good fit with comfort and durability. The cowboy exults in colorful and picturesque attire. He demands first, comfort and utility and then glories in the addition of dramatic touches.

The college man has the same interest in selecting clothes which are suitable to his work, which add to his satisfaction in living, and which help him to make the most of himself.

Peculiar Costumes

Traditions calling for peculiar costumes do survive, it is true, but these are subject to ever-increasing limitation of time and place. The college man may upon occasion, wear greasy cords, may adorn himself with a beanie or enter a whiskerino contest, but he no longer favors making himself ridiculous by adopting inappropriate idiosyncrasies of dress for general use.

While he does not follow extremes which might make him appear peculiar or affected, neither does he wish to limit his attire to styles which have lost interest because every wears them. He wants styles which are smart and new. As evidence of this, the bush coat appears on the Tempe campus to replace the ever useful but too common polo shirt.

More Variations

One reason that the college man is now willing to forego the spectacular is that variations in men's clothing are increasing and he may easily express his individuality within the limits of good taste. A man can express his taste and enliven his dress by use of color and design in ties, socks, and handkerchiefs. Great care must be taken that these match and that they go with the suit.

Dress Important

Men used to consider it beneath their dignity to pay much attention to dress. The "dandy" was more or less an object of contempt. The young man of today realizes that his appearance is a great factor in determining his success or failure.

Being well dressed involves more than mere selection of an appropriate wardrobe. Wearing clothes well is an important matter for the man as well as for the woman. No matter what his wardrobe may be, a man cannot neglect personal care and retain the full respect of his campus associates.

BULLPUPS MEET GLOBE ALL-STARS TOMORROW

Varsity In Close Win Over Pups

LEO BURNS STARS IN 6-0 VICTORY

Using little more than power plays, the Arizona State varsity defeated the Bullpups by a score of 6-0 when they met in a practice game last Saturday night.

The two teams battled on even terms for the first quarter, although the Bulldogs held the Pups well in their own territory most of the time.

Shortly after the opening of the second quarter the Dogs scored when Leo Burns raced 30 yards on an end sweep and then took it over on the next play from the 20 yard line. The Dogs failed to convert.

In several attempts made by the Dogs to open up a passing attack it was evident that Coach Lavik was still in the market for a good passer and several receivers. The Pups were unable to intercept two passes, one of which Walter Ruth, frosh backfield man, ran back fifty yards.

Two Problems For The Wildcats

Sandy Phillips streaks down the field with Captain Marvin Palmer running interference. Phillips plays halfback on the Bulldog team with Palmer filling one of the end positions. Both are expected to figure prominently in the game on October 2.

Tucson Still Mad

CATS LOSE BATTLE; STILL ARE SEEKING WANDERING FROSH

We take it that the University of Arizona didn't like the little Ruth and Pitts party. These two letters were received by the Glendale lads yesterday and we feel that it is too good to leave out of the paper.

Oct. 9, 1940 . . . football schedule will read: Arizona vs. Notre Dame—and way down at the bottom you'll see Tempe vs. Gila Jr. College.

And on that day you'll wonder if you made a mistake when you went to Tempe for what little extra cash you were offered. Maybe you'll realize that money isn't all. They have registration ever fall and Jan. at U. of A . . . Maybe you'd better think about taking part in one of the registrations next year and the Notre Dame game in 1940.

I wonder where you boys will be with your great Tempe Team??? You'll no doubt have a big game that same afternoon with the Sacaton Indians. Think it over, maybe you will want to come back to the U. of A. And I'll bet even money the U. bosses will be big enough to forgive you and give you another chance. Next year still won't be too late if you want to make that trip to South Bend. We wish you luck anyway!! After all, you are still just young fellows and you fell for the smooth line . . . one mistake shouldn't cause you to suffer a whole lifetime . . . think it over seriously!

Blue Brigade Given Slight Edge Over Bulldog Eleven

With the Arizona Wildcat game just one week away, all eyes are turned toward the annual battle. Once again the University is given the upper hand but it is hoped that the Lavik crew can make the game a little more interesting this year.

Only twice have the Bulldogs been able to defeat the Cats. In their first tangle in 1899 Arizona State defeated the University team 11-2. Not until 1931 were the Dogs able to again turn the trick, this time to the tune of 19-6; the year of the Maroon and Gold "wonder team."

In their 14 games with the Dogs, the Wildcats have piled up a 326 total touchdown score as compared to 55 tallied by the Dogs. In 1919 the Arizona State team suffered their worst defeat to the lop-sided score of 59-0.

This fall opens the fifth term for Tex Oliver as mentor of the Wildcat eleven. His four year total finds the Cats winning 24 games as compared to 9 defeats and 4 ties. The Blue Brigade has stacked up a total of 659 points against 188 for their opponents.

The University of Arizona Wildcats.

Pleased with his line material, Lavik expects the extra weight to make the Bulldogs a better defensive team. Four tackles, each over 185 pounds and one over 200 pounds, are the men around whom Lavik is building his line.

Steve Setka and Virgil Vance, veterans on the team, will see service in the tackle positions as will Henry Rockwell and Mark Kalastro, newcomers to the Bulldog lineup.

In guard positions are Francis Clevenger and Fred Teyechea, both starters from last year. Buss Watts, Al Arvizu, Stan Brimhall and "Rusty" Riggs are all on hand as reserve material.

The Dogs will have at center post Bill McConnell, who played in last year's spring game, and Guy Acuff.

All Stars Favored Over Pups

FROSH CONSIDERED BEST IN YEARS

The Arizona State Bullpups will make their second appearance this season when they tangle with the strong Globe All-stars tomorrow in Globe.

The mucker squad will be led by Albert "Thug" Dalmolin, former Bulldog star and all-conference guard for two seasons. Composing the team will be Dale Beedle, former Stanford star, Red Brewton, halfback from the University of Alabama, Walter Tacco, Flagstaff hero; Ronald Henderson and Pinkney Anderson from the University of Arizona. This group together with several Globe high school stars are expected to give the pea-greeners a tough battle.

In last week's game with the varsity, the Pups showed promise of being one of the toughest teams in the state this season. Outstanding stars for the frosh were: Pitts, Ruth, Drakalich and Wooten. Pitts outdistanced the strong varsity team each time with his punting exchange. Late in the game "Cowboy" Ruth intercepted a varsity pass and galloped 53 yards before being downed.

Although not certain, the probable starting lineup will be McCann and Anderson at end, Jackson and Arino holding down the tackle position with James and Mauch playing the guard posts. From the looks of things to date Hooper will receive the call at center. The backfield will be composed of Ruth at quarter, Pitts at full with Wooten and Drakalich as his running mates.

Displaying power as well as speed Saturday night, the Pups are given an even chance to up-set the strong All-stars tomorrow afternoon. Little is known as to the power of the Globe squad, but it is certain that the frosh will have their hands full.

Intramurals Will Begin Monday With Basketball

WHAT'S THE SCORE?

By TOBY TYLER

Although a little early in the season, several of the nation's leading teams get underway this Saturday for the start of a big season. This week we have chosen nine of the leading games of the country for the ever popular "What's The Score?" contest.

This week we give the ever strong Pitt squad the upper hand in their contest with Ohio Wesleyan university.

Navy mixes blows with William and Mary this week, while Kentucky entertains the strong Vanderbilt team. Last season the Vanderbilt squad lost one lone game and are slated to be one of the toughest ball teams in the south this fall. Washington is given the edge over Iowa and should have little if any trouble in showing the corn-pickers the idea of the game.

THIS WEEK'S GAMES ARE:

- Bullpups vs. All-Stars
- Pitt vs. William and Mary
- Kentucky vs. Vanderbilt
- Ohio State vs. Texas Christian
- Iowa vs. Washington
- California vs. St. Mary's
- Stanford vs. Santa Clara
- U.C.L.A. vs. Oregon
- Navy vs. Oregon

Intra-mural basketball will start Monday September 27, in the men's gym when eight teams swing into full action on the first leg of the program outlined by Ed Herzberg, intra-mural manager.

A meeting was held Tuesday night and the schedule drawn up for the first semester. The rules and regulations were accepted as the same held last season. For information concerning the eligibility, players are directed to see their team managers.

- 4 o'clock—Alpha Hall vs. Mu Sigs. Tau Sigs vs. Lambdies.
- 5 o'clock—Joe Piggs vs. East Hall. Pi Deltas vs. Varsity Inn.

The Revolutionary Pen That Won't Run Dry In a New and Superlative Model—the Speedline

It's not how much a person has in his pocket that determines whether or not he selects the new 1938 Parker Speedline Vacuumatic—it's how much he has above his shoulders!

Some other pens cost as much as this revolutionary invention, yet no one having the "low down" on pens wants to pay these prices without getting these new-day advantages. For example:

A new all-time high in ink capacity, hence a Pen that never starts anything it cannot finish. A Pen that shows the ENTIRE ink supply—shows when to refill—hence one that never runs dry in classes or exams.

An utterly exclusive Style—laminated Pearl and Jet—now with slender Speedline shape—the most restful ever conceived. And not merely modern in Style, but wholly modern in mechanism, too. Its SACLESS and patented Diaphragm Filler radically departs from all earlier types, regardless of whether they have a rubber ink sac or not.

Be sure to see and try this pedigree Beauty today at any good pen counter. The Parker Pen Co., Janesville, Wisconsin.

Faculty Wives' Tea This Afternoon

The first meeting of the Faculty Wives will be held this afternoon at the home of Dr. and Mrs. R. K. Wyllys. Tea is to be served at 3:00.

The afternoon will be spent with each member telling of some highlight in her summer activity. Mrs. R. H. Lavik, president of the organization, is in charge of the meeting and of the election of new officers which will follow.

Mrs. Wyllys and Mrs. L. S. Neeb are co-hostesses and will pour at the tea.

Faculty Members Honored At Philo Tea

Beginning their social functions of the year, members of the Philomathian sorority held their annual faculty tea, honoring new faculty members and their wives Thursday evening from four to six o'clock in the sun parlor of North hall. Miss Mildred Blair, councilor of women, poured.

The traditional Japanese mitf was carried out in the decorations, with each sorority member wearing a chrysanthemum in her hair. The floral piece on the tea table consisted of large yellow and white chrysanthemum, the sorority colors being represented by candles. Miss Wilmirth Cline had complete charge of arrangements and was assisted by the other members of the sorority.

Members of the receiving line, dressed in Japanese gowns made in Japan, were the following: Miss Blanche Pilcher, sorority sponsor; Elizabeth Stewart Gerrett, president; Miss Alice Hanson, vice-president; Miss Barbara Vaughn, treasurer; Miss Thelma Price, secretary; and Miss Betty Hotchkiss.

Pleiades Plan For Coming Year

Members of the Pleiades, honorary women's organization, held their first meeting of the year Monday night in the home-economics department. Plans for the coming year were discussed.

Rose Revello was appointed to act as business manager and Mary Taylor, as keeper of the scrap-book for the year.

Members of the Pleiades will sell pom-poms for the University game next Wednesday, Thursday and Friday in all of the halls. Women who have been honored with membership in this organization are Misses Rose Revello, Nancy Taylor, Alice Hanson, Beatrice Brookbank, Catherine Carns, and Margaret Spain. Miss Ruth Douglass is faculty advisor.
