Ten Students Attain Four-Point Indices

Seventeen Arizona State students were named by the registrar's office this week as the holders of the highest indices for the first semester of 1942-43, with ten four-pointers leading the group.

Listed were:

Ellen McCullough	4.00
Walter Fischl	4.00
Esther Emmons	4.00
Betty G. Hancock	4.00
Roberta Carl	4.00
Ruth Lavik	4.00
Olive Wheeler	4.00
Ruth Rosenau	4.00
Margaret Quick	4.00
David Virgil Haws	4.00
Hazel Baker	3.82
Esther Oakes Carson	3.82
Louis A. Tryon	3.76
Charles Davis Smith	3.75
Lois V. Smith	3.75
Cherrill Brown	3.71
Lewis Neeb	3.71

Students making a four-point index and only carrying from two to six hours' credit were not included in the list of high scholarship students.

Post Office Limits Parcels Sent Abroad

In order to conserve shipping space, the Post Office regulations now state that no package can be sent to a serviceman abroad unless requested by the serviceman and approved by his commanding officer.

Authorizations will be sent to the United States in letters from service men. The person who receives this may then send the desired article by presenting the package and authorization slip at his local post office.

College Turns Down Conference Invitation

Arizona State Teachers College will not be represented at the Albuquerque Conference this year because of lack of funds. The conference will be held at the University of New Mexico, February 11-13.

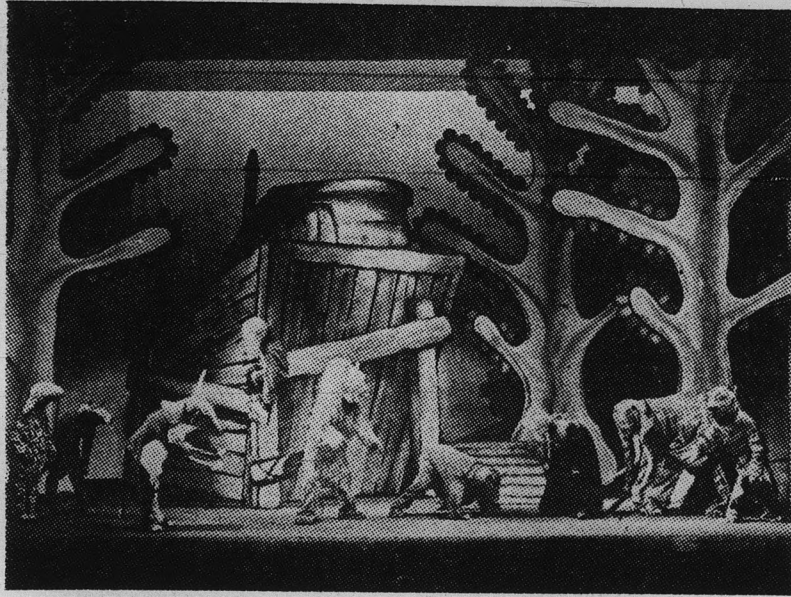

Representatives from 20 other colleges in Texas, Colorado, Arizona and New Mexico are invited to attend this first major conference sponsored by the University of New Mexico and the International Student Service, concerning post-war reconstruction problems.

Children Harvesting Victory Vegetables

Training School Classes are now harvesting lettuce and radishes from their Victory Garden on the south side of the Training School building. Because of the shortage and increase in price of fresh vegetables, the pupils have grown a garden to help their school cafeteria.

The fourth and fifth grades under the direction of student teacher Bob Stevens and with the help of Bob Svob, college gardener, made the ground ready for planting. The sixth planted the seeds, the seventh bought the seeds and the eighth grade keeps the signs posted.

Noah And The Ark

This is a scene from the Drama Workshop production "Noah" which is to be presented Feb. 10 and 11 under the direction of Dr. Marian Galloway. The play is a fantasy based on Noah's talk with God and the building of the ark. Dr. Kenneth Wright will direct the unusual musical background of the play.

Tryouts Slated For Last Workshop Play

Tryouts for the last major play of the season will be next Friday afternoon and evening, February 12, from 4:30 to 6:00 and from 7:30 to 9:00, Dr. Marian Galloway has announced.

Lennox Robinson's "The Far Off Hills", first produced by the famous Abbey Players of Dublin, is a tender folk comedy and requires five men and five women—all good parts. Anyone wishing to get a book to study may do so the first of next week.

This is one play that is definitely going to be produced for soldiers at nearby air fields, Dr. Galloway said.

Tryouts for one act plays will begin soon.

Government Needs Commerce Workers

Because of the urgent need for economists, economic analysts and statisticians for civilian war service in the Federal Government, recruiting is being intensified for these positions on a nation-wide basis, the Civil Service Commission announced today.

The positions pay from $2,600 to $6,500 a year plus overtime, which increases salaries about 21 per cent for 8 hours overtime a week. The greatest need is in the fields of transportation, labor, commodities, and industrial studies.

V-Mail Obtainable At Tempe Post Office

United States V-mail may now be obtained at the Tempe post office by anyone who wishes to send letters abroad. This paper—also on sale at most stores now—has to be clear white in order to be suitable for reproduction.

Lt. jg. Frances Rich, newly appointed head of the V-mail section of the Navy Department, reports that "V-mail always goes through." Because the letter is printed onto microfilm, the original is saved and in case of loss, is reprinted and set out again.

V-mail receives priority over all personal mail in handling and since one roll of microfilm carrying 1,600 letters, weighs only 15 ounces and is about the size of a package of cigarettes, more mail can be sent to the boys in the armed services over seas.

Childhood Education Group Plans Project

At a recent business meeting of the Association of Childhood Education a community research project was decided upon, whereby each member fills out a blank about her home town; to be filed for use by prospective teachers.

At the next meeting of February 10, the members will renovate the kindergarten-primary room in Old Main for a lounge and study room.

"Noah" To Open Wednesday Night

Drama To Run Wednesday, Thursday; Children's Matinee Slated Saturday

"Noah," the delightful story of the kindly old patriarch who faced discouragement and ridicule in following God's word, will be presented by the Drama Workshop Wednesday and Thursday, Feb. 10 and 11, in the college auditorium. The play, second major production of the year, will begin each night at 8:30 o'clock.

West Hall Women Told Of Red Cross

Mrs. George Irvine, wife of Dr. Irvine of Tempe, discussed the seven different fields of Red Cross work and asked for volunteers in the Nurses' Aid course and for Blood Bank donors at a meeting in West Hall last Monday. Many of them signed up for blood donations.

Two reels of movies on Hawaii were shown and explained by Alice Hansen, a former student of Arizona State. With her and explaining her account of the trip was Jane Eckenstein, also a past student.

This was followed by several hula dances by Miss Eckenstein and refreshments of pineapple juice with coconut cookies served by the Hall council.

Miss Margaret Walsh, known widely for her paintings, has donated one to be given away in a raffle. The West Hall Council plans to sell chances and the money will be used to buy defense bonds and stamps.

Room Hours Given

The new Student Union Room in the Lyceum building will be open according to the following schedule:

Monday..	3:30-5:30	7:30-9:30
Tuesday..	3:30-5:30	7:30-9:30
Wed'day..	3:30-5:30	7:30-9:30
Thurs'd'y..	3:30-5:30	7:30-9:30
Friday.....	3:30-5:30	8:00-11:00
Saturday..	2:00-5:00	8:00-11:00

Training School High On War Stamp Sales

Training School pupils are doing their share in the buying of defense stamps. During the past month $85 of stamps were bought. Of all the grades, the sixth and kindergarten are buying the most.

The cast is headed by Kenneth "Mose" Flake, Mesa freshman, who will portray the title role. Supporting him are Mildred King as Noah's wife; Harriet Zenor, Ada; Betty Lee Ward, Della; Marjorie Williams, the Monkey; and Jean Allen, the Tiger.

Also in the cast are Olive Riddle, Wesley Baker, Sherman Payne, Louis Tryon, Betsy Williams, Billie Glotfelter, Patricia Kielgass, Bill Swackhammer and Frank Kelly.

Coached by Dr. Marian Galloway, director of the Drama Workshop, the play is a fantasy which provides a wealth of opportunities for unusual effects in sound, lighting and costumes. A small chamber orchestra directed by Dr. Kenneth Wright, member of the college faculty, will furnish musical backgrounds for the performance.

Reserved seats will be available, as in the first performance last fall, to all persons paying admission. A matinee for children will be presented in the auditorium Saturday afternoon, Feb. 13, with an admission charge of only 25c.

The story of the play revolves around Noah's talk with God and his resulting task of building the ark. When his sons become restless, it is the animals on the ark who try to comfort Noah, lending their shaggy backs for pillows.

Student Recital To Be Given Wednesday

Seven Arizona State men and women will present a student recital February 11, at 4:30 p.m. in room 219 of the Arts Building.

The program will be as follows:
Nocturne Greig
Jeannette Ummel, Pianist
Polonaise in A Major Chopin
Conrad Flake, Pianist
Habanera Chabrier
Adelaide Giacoma, Pianist
Meadow Brook MacDowell
In Autumn MacDowell
Mildred King, Pianist
Since We Parted Allitsen
Mango Moon Duggan
Nell Rogers, Soprano
Dearest Homer
Rose in the Bud Forster
Delma Allgood, Mezzo Soprano
Calm as the Night Bohm
San Toi D'Hardelot
Jean Curry, Mezzo Soprano

Bulletin!

As the STATE PRESS prepared to roll, Pres. Grady Gammage announced that Arizona State will probably be designated as one of the Army Air Corps training centers and tentative plans place Saturday, Feb. 20, as the date for the arrival of the first 300 of 600 trainees which are expected to be on the campus by March 20.

Dr. Gammage stressed the fact that although arrangements have been completed with Army Air Corps officials, the contracts have not been signed and probably will not be for another ten days.

This startling news was released after a telephone conversation yesterday between Dr. Gammage and a high-ranking officer at Santa Ana Air Base. The officer inquired as to whether or not Arizona State was prepared to accommodate the first group of 300 by February 20 and on receiving an affirmative answer instructed Dr. Gammage to begin preparations for the arrival of cadets on that date.

The news culminates long efforts of Dr. Gammage and the college administration. Despite the tremendous load which will be placed on our facilities, Dr. Gammage told students that civilian education will be carried on as before.

Wednesday Night Dances - - Where?

Student Body President Al Onofrio and the editor, both of whom are unbiased in the matter, are presenting this week two sides of an argument regarding Wednesday night dances in order that students may be aided in deciding what they want to do about the situation. After reading the arguments, students are urged to contact their student council representatives and make known whether they wish to continue having Wednesday night dances in the Activity building or follow a plan such as Onofrio outlines below.

By AL ONOFRIO

Dancing is one of America's best-liked recreations, and in colleges is where it thrives best. But with dancing goes not only the swinging jive, but it is also a means by which people may get acquainted. Too, it is a proven fact that it is easier to get acquainted in a small place than it is in a large place.

Recently we received a new addition to our campus—our new recreation room where we may meet our friends, dance, read, or play games.

The question has arisen as to whether or not it would be plausible to switch the Wednesday night dance from the Activity building to the recreation room, and reserve the former for special activities such as the Valentine dance, Sadie Hawkins, and other weekend student body dances.

At Wednesday night dances there is usually a stag line which extends, in arc form, almost to the middle of the ballroom. Therefore, this takes up half the space. In the recreation room the furniture could be moved back in order to make the dancing space as big as the upstairs Lyceum auditorium, and there would still be space left over for other kinds of recreation.

Time would be unlimited. Instead of the dance ending at 8 o'clock, it could go on until 9:30. The music, as at the Activity building, will be furnished at the expense of the student body as all the nickels put in the juke box on Wednesday night would come from the student body entertainment fund. From $3 to $12 would be saved for future activities, because the student body would not have to pay for the regular records or for cleaning up the ballroom.

If the dances were changed to the recreation room, and you felt like you were a sardine in a can, the Wednesday night stag line and those couples who do dance could be moved back to the Activity building.

But isn't it worth a try anyway?

In 1942, 170,000 students were graduated from colleges in the Soviet Union.

By DEAN SMITH

Although the plan to move the Wednesday night dances to the new Student Union Room has several good points, it appears that many of the inconveniences it would bring about would more than cancel these advantages. Can you imagine, for example, getting all the students who normally come to Wednesday night dances in the small space provided for dancing in the new room?

In the past, these mid-week dances have filled an important need—that of providing an hour of relaxation in the middle of a busy five days of study; one which does not drain the students' pocketbooks and which is open to all. If we move this dance to the Student Union Room, more than half of the students now attending on Wednesday night will not be able to dance.

The new room is one of the most commendable projects which has been brought about in Arizona State history and every one agrees that we should make full use of it. But remember that our Activity building was also designed for student recreation and its facilities for dancing are much better than those of the recreation room.

In answer to the argument that students would be able to relax in easy chairs while sitting out dances in the Lyceum basement, it may be said that an attractive lounge also adjoins the dance floor of the Activity building.

Another point to be considered is that if the dances are moved, we can never have an orchestra—not even occasionally. Music would necessarily have to be confined to the canned variety.

The answer to the problem seems to be this: Use the Student Union Room as much as possible for individual and small group dancing every afternoon and evening. But for the sake of the many, leave the student body dances in the Activity building.

Rudolf Kogan, 20, pre-medical student at University of Minnesota and a native of Russia, recently overcame nationality barriers and was inducted into the army after a 12-month struggle to get in.

Heads New Field

Captain Robert L. Cole, a graduate of Arizona State, has been assigned as commanding officer of the 1153rd Navigation Training Squadron at San Marcos, Texas. He has been on active duty since June, 1940, and only recently was transferred to the new Army Air Force Navigation School.

Captain Cole has also served at Fort Ringgold, Texas, Fort Bliss, Texas, and at Ellington Field, Texas.

WAVE Graduates

A graduate of Arizona State Teachers College, Olive Ethel Barnes, completed an intensified course of study and graduated this week as a future Navy radio operator in the first class of the Women's Reserves (WAVES) of the U. S. Navy.

As a result of her successful completion of the comprehensive 16-week specialized training, Miss Barnes will soon be assigned to a Naval shore establishment to relieve a bluejacket for active duty with the fleet.

Presented with a certificate of proficiency from the University of Wisconsin, where she has been stationed, Miss Barnes received a similar certificate from the Navy Department and the congratulations of Commander L. K. Pollard, USN, commanding officer of the schools.

Miss Barnes graduated from Arizona State in August, 1940, with a major in music and a minor in dramatics and this year enlisted in the WAVES.

The Navy's school for enlisted women in radio communications training includes Navy indoctrination and the identical course of study given to the Navy men radio operators. All WAVES are in the Navy with the same status as men, with the same ratings, rate of pay and privileges.

Rice In Florida

An Arizona State College alumnus, Second Lieutenant Keith M. Rice, Class of '42, has completed an advanced training course at the U. S. Marine Corps school in Quantico, Va., and has been assigned to the Amphibian Tractor Detachment at Dundin, Florida.

Lieutenant Rice was on the track varsity four years and played football three years here. He also served as president of Gamma Theta Upsilon fraternity.

He won his commission last October upon successful completion of a 10-week basic training course. The next three months he attended Reserve Officers' School, also at Quantico, receiving instruction in platoon command and various phases of modern warfare.

At St. Mary's

Earl Udall, former president of the Off-Campus men's organization and the Tempe chapter of Deseret Club, is now in training at the Navy pre-flight school at St. Mary's, California.

Udall left the last of January.

NOODLES BY NARD

By BOB NARDELLI

Till Now All Strength Was Ebb'd And From His Limbs . . .

Two weeks ago, I took sick for the first time since I got the measles in the third grade. First, I did what all of you students do when you feel lousy . . . I went to the Wednesday night dance. When that didn't straighten things out, I tried two hamburgers and a malt at the "V-I". Still no soap! So I resigned myself to my fate—I'd have to try some "Sal-Hepatica for the smile of health" . . . but all I could do was frown and gripe.

For I Dipt Into The Future, Far As Human Eye Could See . . .

After being human guinea pig No. 456 to every self-appointed medico in East Hall for five days, I felt just like Sir Launfal . . . I had a vision. Why not try the infirmary? The minute I walked in the door, Miss Durham said, "Quick, Freeman, the adrenalin." Then they took my temperature—and HOW they took my temperature. But nothing registered—apparently, I was that rarest of all humans, a frigid Latin! I was crushed.

Forsooth! Illusions Of Grandeur Reign Supreme

Then they put me to bed. What class! Plenty of magazines, my roommate's radio, a pitcher of ice water thrice a day, and dinner in bed. (But even after a week, I couldn't figure out how the Romans ever ate lying down.) Anyway, Miss Durham told me my bed spread wore my vegetable soup very well. But no lie, students, if you ever get to the point where you don't feel very sharp, trot over to the infirmary and you'll be hitting on all six in no time. No lie.

Are Honour, Virtue, Conscience, All Exiled? . . .

Football captain Steve Vukcevic pointed something out to me last week he thought ought to be corrected—and he was dead right! There's a bunch of guys wearing someone else's lettermen's sweaters on the campus. They wear them constantly, to dinner, class, etc. And they've never even been out for a varsity sport. Steve didn't like it, and I agree that it must take a lot of guts to wear an "A" you haven't earned . . . how about that?

Let Music Fill the Breeze . . .

Can't understand why "I've Heard That Song Before" isn't on Hit Parade—it's really a sharp number . . . then there's the selection of records on the Rec-Hall juke box, Oh Brother! It won't surprise me if they exchange Goodman's "String of Pearls" for Chopin's "Funeral March." at the present rate. I'd like to recommend "The Outpost" to any of you students who haven't been there . . . they have a singer named "Mimi" who'll really knock you out . . . the Philos finally thought up something new in hell-weeks when they had their pledges cruise around on roller skates . . . they should have made them wear slacks, though . . . Lucky Strike claims that, "The Best Tunes of All Move to Carnegie Hall"—how come they overlooked the "Cow Cow Boogie?" Sammy Kaye finally dug the public with his "Taboo," which is on the Varsity's juke box . . . usually, Sammy's music would furnish a fine musical background for, "The Corn is Green" . . . whatever became of Ed Horner's plan to install benches throughout the "most secluded spots on the campus?"

it used to be as most all the boys are in some branch of the service.

It may be of some interest to let you know that I received my commission as an Ensign in the latter part of October. At the present time I am undergoing an eight-week indoctrination period at Hollywood, Fla. From here I resume my duties at South Boston, then proceed to Gulfport, Miss. My last station will be New Orleans. I expect to complete my training in the next two months.

It seems as though Tempe college is feeling a loss in the capacity of instructors as well as students.

Thanks for the Christmas card. I hope to be seeing you and Mr. Krause once again. Give my regards to the old students.

Yours,
Pete Drakulich

Hi Roomies:

First I want to congratulate you for the sweet victory over the University of Arizona — (second game)—sorry I couldn't be there for that game, but I had to get off for the army. We've really been hitting the ball down here but, "This is the army Mr. Jones." Would really like to hear from you guys and send me the STATE PRESS some time so I can keep up with the team.

Old Papers In Library

There are two items of current interest in the library. Have any of you ever seen newspapers of the early eighteenth century? If not, and you wish to see unusual styles of writing, go to the library bulletin board.

The "Spectator" in the library is of an original edition printed on April 28, 1712. In trying to decipher it, one notices that the words seem spelled more as they sound than they are today. Many of the letters look unusual but with study it can be seen that the "s" in most cases is a type of "f."

Only in a few instances, as in the word "is" is the letter "s" used. Could this be due to a shortage of the letter in the type used, or was it just a fad of the day? Another unusual feature to look for is the unique set of markings in the left-hand column of each line of print.

The "New England Courant" is not an original. It is, however, a reprint of the original paper from the first type. This issue contains a copy of the King's speech to the Houses of Parliament, given on October 11, 1722. A feature to be especially noticed is the elaborate beginning of the paragraph. The first letter is well suffronded by an intricate design.

These framed papers will not be in the library long, but will go back to the English Department. Ronald Bridges is the owner of these antiques

Lavik Likes Big Man And Team's Brains

We bet that Coach Lavik agrees with the Indian who said, "Heap big man." It was Verl Heap that led our Bulldogs to a 46-28 victory over our schoolmates from Flagstaff last week. And 16 of Tempe's markers were dropped into the basket by Heap, making him high-point man for the evening's session. Freshman Heap has been a constant booster of the Dogs' scores all season, along with Old Nick, who usually takes high-point honors.

Believe it or not, Lavik declares that this year's basketball squad is the most intelligent bunch of players he has ever worked with. He doesn't mean intelligent with the ball, which is not a lie, but intelligent scholastically. Evidently the boys' averages must be higher than the .05 that some people attribute to athletes. The D.A.R.'s on the squad are probably Auldric Imboden and Jim Brundage, whose ball playing is as good as their grades. Imboden and Brundage could probably outdo "Doc" Wexler's small son when it comes to math, trig, et al.

Publicity And Toughness Overlooked By Officials

Besides being good publicity, a Commando Course or some such obstacle course would do Arizona State and Arizona State's men a great amount of good. The University of Arizona has one, Flagstaff Teachers College has one, Phoenix Union High School has one, but why doesn't Arizona State have one? Most big colleges and universities have them, too. An exceedingly tough course could be laid out around our campus, which would toughen up the boys for the Army, Navy and Marines.

A ten-minute run up the Butte and down the other side, a trip across the river, via water, out to Papago Park and back again, would be a swell way for the boys to spend their afternoons each day. That course has plenty of obstacles, and tough paths to travel. If anybody can make that trip, we're willing to lay down the money that the "Wily Norseman" is the man to do it. Flagstaff got some swell pictures and a good write-up in the Republic sheet a couple weeks back, with Coach Maurice the Moulder leading his boys on a trek over their Commando Course.

He Rates Among The Top As An Athlete

Somebody brought up the subject of how our profs starred as athletes in the "good old days." However they forgot to mention that President Gammage is a veteran of the fairways. Just before Tempe "stole" Dr. Gammage and Rudy Lavik from Flagstaff back in '33, the good Doctor spent all of $53 with the Flag Country Club in order to pass away his afternoons relaxing with a round of golf. However, and this is where Mrs. Gammage came in, Dr. Gammage managed to play only one game of golf the entire time he was in Flagstaff. After that first 18 holes Dr. Gammage must have been an angry as the guy that could have won $64 three times last Sunday night while listening to the radio. Wonder if they had Gremlins in those days.

Lieutenant Lillico To Leave February 13

Thomas B. Lillico, graduate manager at Arizona State since 1937, has received an appointment as Lieutenant, Junior Grade, in the U. S. Naval Reserve and will report Saturday, February 13, to the University of Arizona for a brief indoctrination course before being assigned to active duty.

"Blind Tom" graduated from Arizona State in 1935, after winning three letters each in basketball, football and baseball. He was voted most popular man in

Mural Tennis Opens; Four Teams Entered

Tennis intramurals for 1943 began yesterday afternoon with singles being played between the Tau Sigs and the Mu Sigs, and the Lambdies and Pi Deltis.

The intramural tennis singles round is divided into two halves with the winner of the first half playing the winner of the second half for the singles championship.

At a meeting held last Friday a schedule and rules governing the games were drawn up by representatives of the four organizations involved. The games will be played on the win or loss basis, and not on the point system as in the past. All matches will begin at 4:30.

Awards will be given to both the winners of the singles and doubles matches. Last year's trophies were taken by the Lambdies. However the same Lambdie representatives are not in school this year and upsets are expected.

Singles, Doubles Slated

A round of singles followed by a round of doubles make up the season schedule to be played in the following order: The singles round begins Thursday, February 4, with the Tau Sigs playing the Mu Sigs and the Lambdies the Pi Deltis. On Monday, February 8, the Tau Sigs tackle the Lambdies and the Mu Sigs the Pi Deltis. And on Tuesday, February 9, the Tau Sigs volley with the Pi Deltis and the Lambdies with the Mu Sigs.

The second half singles are scheduled as follows: Thursday, February 11, Pi Deltis versus Mu Sigs and Tau Sigs versus Lambdies. On Monday, February 15, Tau Sigs take the Mu Sigs on the Pi Deltis and Lambdies. Tuesday, February 16, sees the Tau Sigs matched with the Pi Deltis and the Lambdies with the Mu Sigs.

Johnson, Heap Pace Bulldogs With High Point Honors As Teammates Foul Out

Arizona State College cagemen swept a clean two-game series on their home court with the Lumberjacks from Arizona State Teachers College at Flagstaff last Friday and Saturday nights, defeating them 46-28 and 47-42.

Fliers Down Dogs Wednesday, 55-40

The Arizona State Bulldog basketball team was outclassed and outplayed by a brilliant Williams Field five Wednesday night in the Chandler high school gymnasium, by a score of 55 to 40.

This was the third meeting between the two with the Fliers taking the series two to one. This also was the eighth straight win for the Williams quintet.

Fliers Start Fast

The Bulldogs were behind 12 to 2 after the first five minutes of play, and could not gain back this early lead run up by the Fliers. The half ended with the score 30 to 18 in favor of Williams Field.

Walt Lozoski put on one of the finest exhibitions of dribbling and passing seen around these parts in a long time. Ernie Richardson, also of Williams Field, was high point man for the evening with 17 counters.

The Bulldog attack was led by Nick Johnson and Captain Gale Mortensen with 10 points each. The absence of Verl Heap was felt throughout the contest. Jim Brundage turned in a good performance in place of the missing star. Vern LaTourette also showed up well for the losers.

Tackle Marines

Thursday night the Bulldogs entertained the United States Marine casaba tossers from Air Base Group Two in San Diego.

The Marines have a number of former college and high school stars on their team. Their attack was led by Pvt. B. Walker, center from Marysville (Mo.) Teachers, Pvt. H. Wulfermeyer, high school and A.A.U. star, and Corp. F. McBride, an all-stater from Indiana.

Friday night's game saw frosh star Verl Heap from St. Johns split the net consistently to lead the Bulldogs with 16 tallies, followed by veteran Nick Johnson who hit the bucket for 12 points. Capt. Gale Mortensen and Oakley Ray were outstanding in defensive play. Lumberjack captain Frank Cosseboom, guard, led the Axmen with nine points, followed by center Don Diers, who chalked up eight for the Lumberjacks.

Axmen Start Strong

The Tempe-Flagstaff fray Saturday night caused uneasiness in the Bulldog rooting section during the first minutes of play as Russel Sturgeon led the Axmen in a 9-2 lead. The Lumberjack spurt soon proved futile as Nick Johnson went on a scoring rampage to pace his team to a 26-13 half-time score and contribute 19 points to the final 47-42 Bulldog win. Don Diers kept Frank Brickey's L'jacks in the running with 12 markers.

Auldric Imboden was benched for fouls in the first half followed by Oakley Ray and Capt. Gale Mortensen who went the same route in the second half. Flagmen Floyd Stone and Don Diers also saw bench duty via fouls.

Women's Net Play To Open Monday Night

Katherine Row, student coach of the Arizona State women's tennis team, this week issued a call to all college women to report for the squad's first practice at 4 p.m. Monday, Feb. 8.

Headed by Miss Row, former Tempe high school net star, the team boasts three other returning racket swingers, Joan McNeil, Ruth Lavik and Mary Aepli. Hazel Holton, promising sophomore will probably rate a squad beth also.

The team opens its season Sunday, Feb. 14, with a series of matches against the British cadets of Falcon Field on the Arizona State courts. A tentative schedule, which includes matches with Phoenix Junior College and several valley high school teams, has been mapped.

Although talent appears promising, Coach Row urged all tennis aspirants to report for daily practice at 4 p.m. and reminded them that squad positions are still entirely open.

Army, Navy Map Training Plans

Administrative leaders of the college were informed recently of the new Army-Navy plans to send service men to selected colleges throughout the nation for technical training. A joint Army-Navy-War Manpower Commission board will select the specific colleges, it was stated.

Questionnaires to determine the available facilities have been filled out and returned to the board by all colleges.

The Army is working with "panels of specialists" to plan its curriculum. These panels consist of leading educators who have been called to Washington to work out the study courses.

Philomathians Hold Traditional Hell Week

Following customs of previous years, Philomathian pledges have been going through the traditional Hell Week, during which they were required to wear their uniforms, skate to all their classes, obey the members at all times and do individual pledge duties.

Tuesday afternoon they worked in the Varsity Inn, Wednesday night they danced for an hour with labeled brooms and Thursday they scrubbed the Philo bench. Friday night will be an informal initiation, followed by a dinner. Pledges who are being initiated are: Joan Allen, Betty Flo Rasmussen, Nina Survant, Suzanne O'Neill, June Whitewing and Connie Wilson.

At a regular meeting Monday night Philo members were entertained with a program and served refreshments. A nominating committee was appointed for the second semester election to be held next Monday night.

Committees in charge of arrangements are: Informal initiation and hell week procedure, Catherine Martin and Frankie Daly; formal initiation, Nadine Irvine, Carol Henshaw and Faye Kirkpatrick; preparation for dinner, the pledges.

Phi Lambdas Elect Semester Officers

Second semester election of officers was held by members of Phi Lambda Nu sorority Monday night. New officers are: Irene Hanger, president; Mary Howard, vice-president; Elsie Woodward, secretary; Bernice Holdeman, treasurer; and Mary Wilde, historian.

A new meeting time will be set next Monday when members meet at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Ostrander, sorority sponsors for lunch, each girl bring her own. A regular business meeting will follow.

Pleiades Open Drive For Active War Work

The purchase of another War Bond for the Student Union Building Fund by Pleiades, highest women's honorary on the campus, this week opened a campaign to develop an active war-work center for Arizona State women.

Comprehensive plans for such a work center will soon be placed before women students of the campus, it was announced.

As a regular project, Pleiades has contributed many late novels to the Browsing Room of the library for the benefit of students interested in light reading. During the past year the honorary society has contributed over $75 toward building up this collection.

Pi Alphas Entertain Rushees At Party

Pi Alpha Gammas held their traditional rush party at the home of Ruth Lavik Monday night. The members and rushees enjoyed an evening of games and refreshments. Rushees included: Lucy Jensen, Clydajeon Saylor, Elaine Steiner and Louise Alexander. Chairmen of the affair were Katherine Setka, entertainment; and Ruth Lavik, refreshments.

Initiation Rites Read To Pi Delt Pledges

The Pi Delta Sigma fraternity held its formal initiation last Monday night in the Lyceum Building.

Pledges initiated were Art Bunger, Bill Chatham, Jim Brundage, Aldric Imboden, Steve Flood, Al Van Hazel, Roger Fennell, Lew Haines, and Steve Adams.

After the ceremony the group adjourned to La Casa Vieja for dinner.

Practice for the Pi Delt Follies commenced this week and the show will be held the later part of this month.

Phi Beta Sponsors Give Initiation Party

Members of Phi Beta Epsilon sorority were given a party by their sponsors, Miss Lola Ellsworth and Miss Esther Brewer last Friday in the nursery school.

Refreshments consisted of Chinese food, and chopsticks added to the mood and merriment of those attending.

Phi Betas, pledges, and guests present were Imogene Allison, Bob Stevens; Betty Conniff, Roy Hugh; Barbara Shea, Glenn Carty; Anna Wallace, Johnny La Bouff; Lucille Appleby, Ed Reck; Virginia Ostring, Bill Shafton; Rita Paul, Hal Fincher; and Diane Smith, and Willis Gearhart.

A formal initiation was held at the Activity building on February first. The candle light service was followed by refreshments and a business meeting, at which plans were made for an informal rushing.

New members are Lucille Appleby, Mae Dobson, Virginia Ostring, Rita Paul, and Diane Smith.

Coed Jeryl Drake Marries In Tucson

Jeryl Corrine Drake was married to A. Bryan White last Saturday, January 30, at the Hendrick Chapel in Tucson.

The former Miss Drake, was a junior here. Connie Vaughan served as maid of honor and the best man was Lloyd Wright.

Attendants and ushers were Pauline Phelan, Evelyn Woodmanceau and James Drake.

Nine O'clocks For Wise Frosh

Curfew shall not ring tonight? Apparently that's what's happened since several freshmen coeds were to be seen this week long after the regular eight o'clock hour.

Strolling about between eight and nine o'clock as nonchalantly as if they had never heard of a freshman curfew, these happy girls have earned their extra hour and their intentions are to make good use of it.

Because of a ruling in the Code of Ethics, rule book for all Arizona State women students, freshman girls will be allowed nine o'clock nights during the third quarter if their first-semester index averages 2.5 or better. However, if, after the third quarter, the index falls below the 2.5 mark, back to eight o'clock and study hall they go!

My Prayer

God, do not let him be gone long,

Nor let harm come his way; Help him keep his body strong—

Let him come back some day.

Help him train and fight and conquer,

To keep our country free, To avenge those at Pearl Harbor

And in the Coral Sea.

Nineteen is much too young an age

For one to fight and kill, To hold his country's heritage And keep his own good will.

Help my loved one to do his part

To win this dreadful war— Please help him keep his own heart

And mine, too—as before.

—Gini Ostring.

Valentine Party Slated For Next Wednesday

Every woman on the campus is invited to the new Student Union Room in the Lyceum basement Wednesday evening when AWS will present its annual Valentine party from 6:30 to 8 p. m.

Committee chairmen for the affair are Beth Christensen, entertainment; Martha Spain, refreshments; and Jean Brown, publicity.

One of a series of hen parties given by AWS throughout the year, the party will feature the traditional Valentine theme. Decorations of red, white and lace will aid in transforming the new recreation room into a den for Cupid and his elves.

General planning for the event is in charge of AWS President Clara Essig, aided by Ruth Clevenger, Marjorie Saylor, Jeanne Evans, Nina Survant, Virginia Kendall and Carol Henshaw.

Dancing Instructor Reveals Marriage

Grace Berlendis, dancing instructor for the physical education department, was united in marriage to Lindsey Furgerson, graduate of the University of Arizona, in the Presbyterian Manse in Rapid City, South Dakota, on December 26.

Mr. Furgerson, formerly of Bisbee, was affiliated with the Phelps Dodge Corporation and is now serving in the United States Army. Mrs. Furgerson plans to continue teaching for the duration of the war.

Gammage Hall Holds Valentine Formal

The reknowned Queen of Hearts, who is to reign over the Gammage Hall Valentine formal next Saturday night was elected at a meeting last Tuesday eve. The girls in Gammage Hall met and by secret ballot, selected her from a list of the senior girls living in their hall. The identity of the queen will not be revealed until coronation time at the ball.

Committees in charge of the formal are as follows: Nancy Frew and Anna Wallace, refreshments; Mary Lou Schlesinger, decorations and orchestra; and Anna Belle Allen, general supervision.

Music will be furnished by a six-piece negro dance band and there will be a prize waltz.

Kappa Theta Drive Proves Successful

Three hundred twenty-eight dollars in war stamps and bonds were sold by Kappa Theta pledges during their recent "Hell Week." Although they were only expected to sell around $80 worth, in a check-up meeting last Monday night the pledges showed proof of having more than tripled the set amount.

Pledges who participated were Jeanette Toy, Eileen Leonard, Margaret Jean Evans, Valene Erickson, Dorothy Jernigan and Nathine Montgomery.

Zetas Plan Formal Initiation Ceremony

Members of the Zeta Sigma sorority met Monday night to formulate plans for formal initiation ceremonies to be held at the home of Ethel Johnson, sponsor, on February 15th.

Committee heads appointed were: Leona Frederick, decorations; Jeanette Ummell, refreshments. Pledges to undergo initiation are: Alma Giacomina, Jeanne McCauley, Mary Jean Kennedy, Lois Smith, June Davis, June Wendell, Marigold Akin, Freda Wilson, Marjorie Steen and Martha Horrall.

Former Students Wed In Chapel Rites

In a formal wedding service to be held in the Williams Field chapel Barbara Schmidt and Cadet Bob Cecil will be united in marriage on February 6.

Both are former students of Arizona State. Miss Schmidt belongs to the Philomathian sorority and Cadet Cecil was a member of the Pi Deltas.

Attending Miss Schmidt will be Margaret Gallagher as maid of honor and Edith Kimball, bridesmaid.

Aileen Miller Weds Lt. Carl Vega

Aileen Miller became the wife of Lieutenant Carl E. Vega at 8:00 p. m. on January 26. The wedding took place in the Post Chapel at Barksdale Field in Shreveport, Louisiana. It was followed by a reception in the parish hall at the field. Miss Miller's mother attended the wedding.

Tough Ordeal Given To Lambdie Pledges

Pledges of Lambda Phi Sigma will complete the ordeal of the fraternity's annual Hell Week Monday night when they will be entertained with a formal dinner at the Mexico Cafe in Phoenix.

Throughout the week they have followed the Hell Week procedures which have been traditional since the fraternity's founding in 1926. Besides performing the nightly duties handed down from other years, the pledges were required to furnish candy and gum to members at any time and perform numerous special tasks.

Pledges going through Hell Week are Stanley Swain, Kenneth Parker and Louis Coor.

Second semester officers for the fraternity were named in a meeting Monday night. Don Ellis was elected as president to succeed Ed Fleming, George Ahrens was named the new sergeant-at-arms and officers re-elected were Roy Hugh, vice-president; Don Van Camp, secretary; Gene Corno, treasurer; and Kenneth Shepherd, pledge boss.

University of Minnesota now has a co-ed mail carrier—Helen Hanson, a home economics freshman.
