"Far-Off Hills" Cast Selected This Week

Cast members of "The Far-Off Hills," last major Drama Workshop production this year, have been chosen, it was announced this week by Dr. Marian Gallaway. Because of the postponing of Parent's Day, the play will be presented Mar. 18 and 19, a week later than originally scheduled.

The cast includes Kenneth A. Bateman, teacher-critic in the Payne Training School, who will portray the leading role of lovable old Patrick Clancy, who is slowly losing his eye-sight but rapidly gaining an insight.

Patrick's oldest daughter, Marian Clancy, is played by Mildred King, Casa Grande, sophomore. Marian has an intense love for directing and managing her father's home, and has dreams of doing the same for a convent.

However, Pierce, played by Ed Walsh, Tempe, has better plans, which indirectly please "sourpuss" Harold, acted by Keith Turley, Mesa.

Jackie Strawbridge, Phoenix, and Lula Mae Jackson, Scottsdale, assume the roles of Patrick's two other daughters, "Pat" and "Ducky." Marian is their chief worry and they're out to do something about it.

They enlist the aid of Suzan, an old friend of the family's, portrayed by Beth Christensen, Safford. Dick and Oliver, Kenneth Flake, Mesa, and David Haws, Chandler, are Patrick's faithful standbys. Georgia Meeks as Ellen, the maid, completes the household.

Teacher Placements Listed By Bureau

Sixteen graduates have signed contracts for the 1943-44 year. Only 55 of the graduating seniors will accept teaching positions, half of these in valley schools. Beginning salaries for elementary teachers in the valley are ranging from $1200 to $1450, higher pay going to schools outside the valley.

Students who have been placed include Ruth Anderson, Wilson school, Phoenix, elementary; Belle Carey, Wilson, Phoenix, elementary; Elaine Cleveland, Morenci, elementary; Jean Conniff, Ajo, high school mathematics and science; Marie Cook, Clifton, primary; Clara Essig, Ajo, junior high.

Also Margaret Gjursovich, Jerome, primary; Irene Hanger, Morenci, elementary; Robert Hart, Avondale, elementary; Shirley Hoyt, Safford, elementary; Nadine Irvine, Wilson school, Phoenix, primary; Virginia Kendall, Clifton, high school English; Marjorie Lane, Ajo, primary; Erma Ray, Safford, primary; Lee Steen, Clifton, high school home economics; Virginia Wing, Benson, elementary.

Celebrated Artists Appear

Pictured above are Joana (left) and Louise Leschin (right) who are scheduled to play in the assembly at 1:30 p. m. today. They are world famous, both as individual artists and as duo-pianists. Classes will be dismissed.

Blue Key National Honorary Names Four Pledges At Breakfast Tuesday Morning

Blue Key National Honor Fraternity, highest campus honorary for men, this week announced the election of four new members. Lew Haines, Ed Horner, Howard Thompson, and Boyd Winterton were nominated for membership in Blue Key. The four were notified of their election at a breakfast held Tuesday morning at the *Tempe Cafe.

Air Corps Reserves Will Be Called Soon

All Army Air Corps reservists will be called to active duty before Apr. 1, 1943, it was announced by the War Department recently.

The reservists when called, will be assigned to Army Air Force stations and from there sent to selected colleges and universities where they will be trained for ground or air crew duty.

Reservists are urged to keep the Commanding General of the Service Command in their area informed of any changes of address, so that official notices may reach them promptly.

Post-War Education Plans Are Prepared

Plans are being made to return students to their colleges and universities after the war by a committee composed of Army officers and educators headed by General Frederick H. Osborn, director of the special services division, services of supply.

In his letter establishing the little-publicized committee, the President ordered its members "to make a study for the taking of steps" to enable the young men whose educations have been interrupted to "resume their schooling, and to afford equal opportunity for training and education of other young men of ability after their service in the armed forces has come to an end."

Formal initiation rites will be held in the near future, pending approval of the men by the national office.

HAINES

Haines, sophomore from Sioux City, Iowa, brought an impressive record from Ventura Junior College where he attained "high scholastic honors, was outstanding in extra-curricular activities, and lettered in basketball. A good scholar at Arizona State, Haines is secretary of Pi Delta Sigma and a varsity football and basketball player.

HORNER

Horner, junior from Newark, N. J., is an outstanding scholar and is president of the Men's Union and ex-officio member of the Men's Judiciary. He is intramural manager, a member of Pi Gamma Mu, national social science honorary, and a member of Tau Sigma Phi. Horner won his frosh numerals in basketball and was a member of this year's varsity team.

THOMPSON

Thompson, junior from Mesa, is now editor of the STATE PRESS. He has been very active in drama and debate, having won the Arizona inter-collegiate debate championship last year. He is a member of the Men's Judiciary, a member of Mu Sigma Chi and an excellent scholar.

WINTERTON

Winterton, sophomore from Mesa, has served as president of both his freshman and sophomore class. He is a member of the student council in which he has been outstanding in service to the school. A Lambda Phi Sigma, he is also a member of the Men's Judiciary, and a good scholar.

Six Candidates Seek Offices In "Sudden Death" Election; Auditor Race Postponed

Six hopeful candidates, two for each of the three positions, will seek student body offices for the school year 1943-44 in the primary election today.

Navy Reserve Exam Scheduled In March

In an official announcement from headquarters of the 12th Naval District last Wednesday, it was disclosed that college students now in the Navy's V-1 and V-5 programs and who are in the last half of their sophomore year, would be given examinations in March to determine their future status.

Those passing the examination satisfactorily will qualify for the V-12 program and be put in uniform and kept in school. Those who are not at that time attending a school selected by the Navy for the training of its personnel will be transferred. Those already in such schools will remain in them.

Reservists who do not pass the examination will be taken into the Navy immediately on a general enlistment status. No specific date for the examination was announced.

Army Reserves Get Active Service Calls

Eight Arizona State students in the Army Enlisted Reserve were called to active service last week with orders to report to Fort MacArthur on Mar. 12.

Orders for these men were received by Dr. J. O. Grimes, and those called were James H. Boyd, Harold N. Byrn, Charles Hunter, Walter Levi, Allen McFaddin, Marshall Miller, James M. Share and Bob Nardelli.

Departure of the group is tentatively set by train from Tempe on Thursday, Mar. 11.

Students in the Army Air Corps Reserve who have received calls also are Donald Cook, Conrad Flake, Steve Flood, Joseph Hartig, Allen Haws, Eugene Henry, Carl Hilliard, Honorato Manriquez, Gene Merrill, John Porter, Pete Rubi, George Sampson, Paul Schwark, Howard Starnes, Douglas Udall, Bernard Vitek, and Alfred White.

Professor Talks To Luke Medical Staff

Because so many of the trainees at the nearby Army fields have been trained in the East and are not acquainted with the venomous animals of the desert, Dr. Herbert L. Stahnke, noted authority on scorpions, was asked to address the Medical Staff at Luke Field yesterday on "Poisonous Animals of the Desert."

Richardson Baby Born

On Tuesday, Feb. 23, a 6 lb. 10 oz. baby girl was added to the family of Dr. and Mrs. H. D. Richardson. The new arrival has been christened Beverly Ann.

This will also be the final, or general election, since there are only two aspirants for each office. Voting will take place from 9:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

Because of a lack of qualified candidates, there will be no election of a student body auditor until later in the year.

President

Roy Doyle and Verne La Tourrette are candidates for the office of president. Doyle, junior from Glendale, is a member of Blue Key, Mu Sigma Chi, and is a social science major, and a geography minor. La Tourrette, a junior from Peoria, is a member of Blue Key and a pre-medical student.

Vice-President

Vieing for the position of vice-president are two women, Nancy Frew and Catherine Martin. Miss Frew, junior from Phoenix, is a member of Pi Alpha Gamma, a physical education major and an art minor. Miss Martin, junior from Prescott, is a Philomathian member, a physical education major and a music minor.

Secretary

Hazel Baker and Ellen McCullough are running for the office of secretary. Miss Baker, junior from Phoenix, is a member of Pleiades and Philomathians, an English major and a Spanish minor. Miss McCullough, sophomore from Carlsbad, N. Mex., is a commerce major and a music minor.

Both women have been recommended by Dr. E. A. Swanson, head of the commerce department, as qualified for the position.

At an election rally held Wednesday night in front of West Hall, candidates for the various offices made campaign speeches stating their qualifications.

Results of the voting will be announced at the student body Barn Dance tonight in the B. B. Mauer Activity building.

Advance Food Class Helps With Baking

Girls of the advanced food classes of Arizona State are offering their services this month to the Eighth Street school lunchroom by assuming all its baking responsibilities.

Dr. Jessie M. Rannels is general supervisor of the girls, who include Thelma White, Dorothy Baker, Margaret Crismon, Bertha Wilkinson, Beth Christensen, Olive Wheeler, Doris Holbert, Freda Alexander, and Aleene Neely.

Class Schedule Changed

Beginning Monday the classes will be changed back to the schedule used during the first part of the school year, it was announced this week.

Classes will be moved up a half-hour to meet at 8 a. m. instead of 8:30.

Participate In Student Government

There is an old proverb which says, to this effect, that something is only as successful as the effort put into it. And thus it is with our student government. It will only be as good as the student body makes it.

It has been said that our students lack the "ole 1-2" that the former students had. That isn't true, since the whole world has changed and things that used to be important do not hold the limelight now.

But student government is as important today as ever. It is imperative now that we have capable students to guide and direct the activities of our school. And, if we may be sentimental, to keep tradition and spirit alive for the fellows who are leaving but will return to start anew after the war.

Voting is the most important phase of student government. And, in order for the best qualified students to be chosen, we must each use our judgment and cast a vote for the candidate which meets with our approval.

Today is the day we can each have our say in school government, so let's see YOU at the polls.—J. B.

Ay, Full In Fourth Place That Worthy Song Reposes

About a month ago this column picked "I've Heard That Song Before" as destined for stardom. Saturday, Frank Sinatra sang it as the No. 4 song on the "Hit Parade." On the strength of that startling prediction, this column (in the last throes of death) feels qualified to forecast the future progress, culmination, and "finis" of the "Smash the Axis" campaign, commonly known as World War No. II.

And The Crystal Ball Doth Say . . .

Rommel will fall before superior numbers, the Yanks will invade the Balkans, and a united Russo-English-American Drive will drive the Nazis back to Germany proper and Hitler will have a hemorrhage, which is more proper than Germany proper. Hitler will send out an urgent call for blood donors, adrenalin, and offers of peace. His call will be answered by a horse laugh, a sedative, and one of Basil Rathbone's cold stares. I'd also tell you what will happen to Hitler's right hand man, but I'm afraid I might be Goering you.

And After That . . .

Germany will then surrender, with no reservations, all of which will cause Japan no end of discomfort. (The rest regarding Japan goes without saying.) Hitler's trial will be presided over by the Hon. Judge Hardy, while the chief counsel for the defense will be ably portrayed by Don Ameche, alias Thomas A. Edison, Alexander Graham Bell, and Stephen Foster. The jury for Adolf's trial will be composed of Mrs. Miniver, three Jewish refugees, and eight mothers who lost sons in the war. "Calling all firing squads!" And What About Arizona State?

After the war, students will again flock to our campus, the Bulldogs will regain the football heights, and the student council will propose a monument to Arizona State's war dead. But someone will say such a monument would prove too costly so they'll settle for a nice scroll to be placed in the safe of the business office.

And the boys will return to find their "one-in-a-million" married to the boy who stayed at home because, "After all, you can't expect a girl to just sit and wait."

"That's All Brother"

In newspaper lingo, the symbol "30" means, "That's all, brother." So without any mush or sentiment, I want to say a sincere "30" to both of my readers.

Students Complete Candidate Training

Recently received by Dr. J. O. Grimes was a letter from his son Edwin "Potsy" Grimes, who is now stationed at Quantico, Va. In it he said on Feb. 10 he had completed training in the candidates class of the Marine Corps. It stated that another former Arizona State student, Pat Downey, had completed the training.

These two Arizona State alumni obtained their commissions as 2nd lieutenants and now have ten more weeks ahead of them in the reserve officers corps before being assigned to active duty.

(A letter from Frank Cosentino, ex-football star of Tempe, now in the Navy as a chief petty officer. F. Cosentino C. Sp., C.P.O. Mess, U.S.N.T.S., San Diego.)

Dear Dom: (Cosentino)
Well here I am in San Diego. It took my train almost 24 hours to get here. I was ten hours late in arriving.

The place here is good. Weather is fine and conditions great. Norfolk couldn't even compare with this place. A chief petty officer is really respected on this base, everything is yes, Sir and no, Sir!

I am now going through another training period. Of course I have more liberties now. We start in at 7 a.m. and at 4:30 p.m. we are through and can leave the base till next morning. Perhaps I'll be in Tempe some week-end.

Oh yes, I must tell you that George O'Brien, Henry Fonda, and Tyrone Power are in the same camp as I. They send you their best, ha, ha!

Write soon. Must close for now.
Sincerely,
FRANK.

(A letter received from pfc A. A. Dutton now stationed at Co. B. 781 M.P. Bn., Fort Custer, Michigan.)

Dear Hazel: (Baker)

I have been wondering for a long time what the old A.S.C. campus is like since so many of the former students, who made the place lively, are on the slate of future alumni of the several colleges under the auspices of Uncle Sam.

The army is just like school only most of the classes are held out of doors. The mess hall reminds you of the dining hall, and the barracks of good old East Hall. The professors are called "Sir" instead of "Doctor" and none of them will drop you from classes, perhaps, because you never miss one, for you are so interested that you never oversleep—and there is no room and board to worry about at the end of the month. There is no wondering what slacks or coat you will wear when you go to town after retreat. And just think, the whole student body gets $50.00 or more each month for going to this college.

There is one thing that I miss more than all the rest, that is good old Arizona sunshine and climate in general. Never come

Dining Hall Revises Meal-Time Routine

Perhaps you've noticed some of Arizona State's ex-football heroes struggling under the weight of five of the Army's regulation food trays. The boys seem to be exaggerating when they carry the trays so laboriously, but actually their weight is a great deal more than the school's discarded trays.

Monday Mrs. Martha Krause borrowed the regulation Army trays from Williams Field to use until the school receives some new ones. Now, instead of leaving the dishes and trays on the tables, the students are required, in typical Army fashion and discipline, to carry their trays to the kitchen door.

Schwark Collects Pennies For Bonds

Poor Paul Schwark! No, He's not blind; he's not crippled; he's not suddenly bereft of all his fortune, and he isn't carrying that little glass penny bank around for exercise. No, it's a worthier project than that, but just who gets the benefits of said project is the subject of wide-spread speculation.

According to Schwark, book store operator, he's collecting pennies and petty cash from students in order to purchase a war bond—a project worthy of commendation.

"Bonds for the book store!" cried Schwark, but later he contradicted himself by making the statement that in case money enough for the purchase of a bond was not forthcoming from the pockets of the students, well . . . he could always use a little cash in the army. Huh?

trays, a hard-boiled sergeant told Mrs. Krause how men in the Army are required to carry the trays, with the silverware in the left hand. As most students have found out, there is a certain fashion to carry the trays, and a certain way to turn after they have been deposited at the kitchen. This strict military discipline speeds up the cleaning of the trays and eliminates much confusion.

In order to get the cadets and the students through the line, the cadets will eat breakfast at 6 a. m., lunch at 11:30 and dinner at 5 p. m. Mrs. Krause plans to send 150 cadets through the cafeteria every 15 minutes.

She explains that the new trays save a great deal of breakage and facilitate the handling of such a large group.

Beer will not be sold in Tempe! Possession, however, won't be considered illegal according to a statement issued by the Arizona State "Collegian," April 21, 1933.

SPORT MEMORIES AND MEANDERINGS—Greeting the sun at an ambitious hour that Saturday morning were ten basketball playing sons of Arizona State and their coach, Rudy Lavik. . . . Reliably Ruth Lavik and "Chuck" Southern were on hand to take us to Phoenix where we caught a northbound bus. Among those present were Coach Rudy Lavik, Captain Gale Mortensen, Jim Brundage, Lew Haines, Verl Heap, Ed Horner, Lufkin Hunt, Aldric Imboden, Nick Johnson, Verne LaTourrette and Oakley Ray. . . . Going to Flagstaff on a bus at 35 miles an hour despite Nick Johnson's urging.

Lose To Flag
From the very beginning of the initial contest in Flagstaff the Lumberjacks completely outplayed the Bulldogs. . . . Seemed like some one was moving the basket every time we shot—anyway, the boys were way off their game. . . . Some of us went to a dance after the battle. Heap escorted a real cutie. . . . Slept in Burrey (not Brewery) Hall that night and had a delicious breakfast in the morning (the meals, during our stay at Flagstaff were excellent—not just good, but excellent). . . . Biggest eater of the Tempe squad was Oakley Ray.

Day Of Rest
Sunday. . . . Special practice session called by Coach Lavik at 11 a. m. . . . An injured hip slowed up Jim Brundage considerably. . . . After dinner, Ray got out his chess set. . . . Other fellows played cards. . . . Used match sticks for money. . . . Visited Flagstaff high school. Coach Wheeler is doing a mighty fine job with the limited space and equipment for his gym classes.

Sweet Revenge
Monday evening. . . . Down go the Lumberjacks. . . . Nick (Hoss) Johnson's shooting was phenomenal as he garnered 23 points. . . . It was our night for sweet revenge. . . . Next day our gang left for Albuquerque, N. M. . . . Our first tournament opponent was the Techsans of Texas Tech. . . . Close game all the way. . . . They beat us in the stretch. . . . Verl Heap played pretty ball. . . . Loss of Mortensen hurt us.

Thursday. . . . New Mexico

Lobos gave us the works. . . . We vowed to beat those guys next time.

Theatre Goers
Friday. . . . All of the members of the team stole into the Kimo Theatre before it officially opened. . . . Eventually we were asked to leave. . . . Later, three of us sneaked back in again to see Paul Muni in "Commandos Strike at Dawn." . . . That night we played our buddies from Flagstaff. . . . Heap, heap good—scored 18 points.

Saturday. . . . Arizona Staters used commando tactics and got to see "Road to Morocco." . . . Best crack of the picture: Bing Crosby calls to the frightened Bob Hope, "Bob, where are you?" Hope answers, "Right here behind my goose pimples."

Lobos Beaten
9:15 p. m.—The Lobos were soundly beaten largely through the efforts of Verl Heap, who ended his shooting attempts with 19 points to his credit. . . . Later, the University of Arizona chopped up the West Texas Buffaloes. . . . My all-tournament team: Forwards, Heap and Floyd (Texas Mines); center, Clark Johnson (West Texas), and guards, Heap (Texas Tech) and Izquierdo (Texas Mines). . . . 11:30 p. m. . . . Back to Tempe, home of Arizona State.

Over to the Lavik residence last night. . . . Mrs. Lavik can show those stage door canteen hostesses a thing or two. . . . Good time had by all. . . . And so, adios to the hoop MEN, for next season we will probably be speaking of the hoop-women. . . . Hoops are nothing new to women!

Conference Sports Out For Duration

At the Border Conference meeting called by Dr. Emil Larson, conference commissioner, and held in Albuquerque, New Mex., last Saturday, it was decided to drop all conference competition for the duration.

Track will be the first sport hit by this decision on the Arizona State campus although the University of Arizona and the University of New Mexico set a tentative date for a later track meet.

Bulldogs Take Consolation In Conference Tournament

Kajikawa Named As Campus Personality

By STEVE ADAMS

One of the most outstanding faculty sports personalities on the Arizona State College campus today is diminutive coach Bill Kajikawa. With baseball and frosh basketball discontinued (Bill's former coaching duties), he is, for the duration, in charge of the gym cage and care of gym equipment.

Kajikawa was born in Oxnard, Calif., where he attended grade school. In 1929 he moved to Phoenix, where he enrolled in Phoenix Union High School and started on his athletic career. His main interest was baseball, but he also made the team in football and basketball. As a high school record, Bill's four years of baseball, three years of football, and two years of basketball is enviable.

When asked what colleges he attended, Bill replied, "Arizona State has been my home since 1933." Knowing that he is a better than average student, we inquired on the length of his stay here. "I attended this college from '33' to '37', playing three years of varsity football, two years of baseball, and frosh basketball. When I graduated I took over the job of baseball coach. I also coached freshman basketball, and in '39 I was guard coach on the Sun Bowl varsity

Arizona Staters Trip New Mexico, Win Fifth Place In Border Tourney

Bulldogs Receive Favorable Comment

Commenting on Bulldog tournament play, Coach Rudy Lavik stated that the Tempe Cagers played heads-up ball and proved themselves a strong conference team.

"We can be proud of the fact that our team emerged from the tourney with the least fouls of any team entered," Lavik stated. "In the first Tempe-New Mexico clash the Tempeans had only four marked against them," he also said.

Nick Johnson, Maroon and Gold pace-setter, was forced to the bench part of the time because of a retarding head cold.

"Verl Heap was the outstanding Arizona State player during the tournament," Lavik remarked. Heap was given honorable mention in the all-tournament player list compiled by attending coaches.

football team," answered Bill.

Looking down on his 29 year old, five foot six inch, stocky frame, dressed in red warm-up pants and jersey (his usual gym attire), one might wonder how he could have accomplished so much in the world of sports. My decision came to: "It's not the size that counts."

'42-'43 Season Basketball Squad Turns In Admirable Performance

By SHERMAN PAYNE

Having only three returning varsity lettermen to build his team around this year, Coach Rudy Lavik produced a Bulldog cage squad the school can well be proud of.

The pre-Christmas ball club consisted of a varsity and frosh squad. The varsity lost its season-opener to the O. B. Marston five from Phoenix while the frosh tanned the hides of the Phoenix Junior College Bears.

Varsity Combines
The Tempeans overcame the O. B. Marston threat in their second meeting only to drop their third tilt with the Phoenix five. At the time of the third meeting the frosh and varsity squads had been combined into one fast-moving unit.

The Maroon and Gold next split a two-game series with the Williams Field fliers before traveling to Tucson to go through the same procedure with the Arizona Wildcats. The Lavikmen came out on the short end of the first game score, but came back strong the following night to snap the University's six-game winning streak.

The Tucsonans journeyed to the Bulldog campus shortly after the fray on their own hardwood and proved their veteran supremacy by a clean two-game sweep.

Defeat Flagstaff
Flagstaff cagers met defeat at the hands of the local quintet Jan. 29 and 30, as did the San Diego Marines the following week. In the same week the Maroon and Gold hoopsters conceded a tilt to the Williams Field team.

En route to the Border Conference Tourney the Tempe basketeers lost one and won one from the Axmen of Flagstaff.

Going into the Albuquerque Tournament with a 50-50 season record the Bulldogs came through

The Arizona State Bulldogs bared their teeth and swept the New Mexico Lobos off their feet 50-40 Saturday night to take consolation honors and fifth place in the Border Conference Basketball Tournament.

The Maroon and Gold cagemen were dropped from first round play Thursday morning when Texas Tech narrowly slipped past them 46-41. A few hours later a tired Bulldog five stubbornly gave way to the New Mexico Lobos 41-34 and were dropped from second round play.

First Tempe Win
In the first consolation game of the Albuquerque tournament Friday night, Tempe chalked up their first victory, sidetracking their traditional rival Flagstaff 53-37. Verl Heap paced the Lavikmen, firing 18 points through the nets.

The scrappy University of Arizona cagemen tripped the Buffaloes from West Texas State for their first conference fall in two years Saturday night, downing them 47-39 in the championship clash.

The Wildcats will share first place honors with the Buffs because of the upset handed the University in second round play by the courtmen from Texas Tech.

The eight conference teams emerged from double-elimination tournament play in the following order:

- Co-champions — Arizona and West Texas State.
- Third—Texas Mines.
- Fourth—Texas Tech.
- Fifth—Arizona State at Tempe.
- Sixth—New Mexico University.
- Seventh—Hardin-Simmons.
- Eighth—Arizona State Teachers College at Flagstaff.

Varsity Awards Are Made By Rudy Lavik

Eight varsity "A" sweaters and two varsity "A" blankets were awarded by Coach Rudy Lavik to members of the Arizona State basketball team at a gathering of the team members in his home last night. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Lavik.

Those receiving sweaters were Bob Chastain, Jim Brundage, Verl Heap, Ed Horner, Lufkin Hunt, Aldric Imboden, Verne LaTourrette, and Oakley Ray, Blankets, signifying four years of service, were given to Captain Gale Mortensen and Nicholas Johnson. Because he obtained a varsity football sweater earlier in the season, Lew Haines was not eligible for a basketball sweater.

Sports Equipment Remains Available

In a recent University News Letter, a publication of the Office of War Information, Washington, D. C., the STATE PRESS received the following information:

The Army has recently tested new rubber-centered baseballs, found them satisfactory, and relaxed the rule which used to call for cork-and-rubber center or the equivalent.

Eventually all bowling balls will be wooden and some are already on the market.

West Hall To Honor Falcon Field Cadets

West Hall will open its Spring festivities tomorrow night, Feb. 27, with a welcome dance for South Hall and the British Cadets of Falcon Field.

Highlight of the evening will be the drawing for the Hibiscus Flower drawing by Miss Margaret Walsh, head resident of West Hall. Through the sale of tickets of this drawing, donated by Miss Walsh, the purchase of War Bonds was made possible.

The Cadet Rhythm Makers will swing out with their liveliest tunes, which will include everything from whistle dances to tag dances to add to the gaiety of the evening.

Committees arranging the dance include Louise Holcomb and Lois Kempf, decorations; Nina Surtant, Jackie Hamilton, and Lois Smith, refreshments, and Hazel Baker, entertainment.

Special guests will be Dr. and Mrs. Grady Gammage, Dr. Blanche Carrier, Miss Sally Hayden, Mr. and Mrs. Hascall Henshaw, Falcon Field personnel, and West Hall girls who have recently moved to Gammage and South Halls.

Initiation Vows Read In Formal Ceremony

Having just been organized last fall by the merger of two former sororities, the new Kappa Theta held its first formal initiation services last Monday, Feb. 15, in the Lyceum building. It was directed by Ruth Anderson, president; Marie Cook, vice-president; and Meryl Reber, secretary.

The lovely candle-light ceremony, as well as the initial pledging services were written by representatives from each of the former organizations—Ruth Anderson from Delta Theta and Marie Cook from Lambda Kappa.

Those taking their vows were Nathine Montgomery, Valene Erickson, Dorothy Jernigan, Jeanette Toy, Mary Jo Wilkes and Eileen Leonard. Also attending the meeting were alumni Lillian McFarland, Helen Carleton and Roberta Carl.

Arizona Women Fete Falcon Field Cadets

Women of the Arizona State athletic department were hosts for the second time last Sunday to British cadets from Falcon Field.

Twenty-six British boys enjoyed an afternoon of tennis and badminton and teaching the girls the fundamentals of cricket. Mixed doubles in tennis and badminton also contributed to a pleasurable afternoon.

In charge of cricket at Arizona State is Katherine Bowen. Katherine Row heads the tennis division and Marjorie Cook leads the badminton enthusiasts.

Ten years ago there was even a greater shortage of men in the music department than there is now. For the first time in history there were no applicants for a male chorus.

At the University of Edinburgh in Scotland, students are fined for cutting classes. Each year the fines are used to buy a Christmas present for the president.

Final Rites Repeated By Chi Sig Pledges

Formal rites were read to seven pledges of the Chi Sigma sorority at a dinner held in the Tempe Cafe, Monday evening at 6 p. m. Those taking the vows were Jean Allen, Martha Bishop, Mary Ann Bishop, Esther Emmons, Ruth Crumbaker, Gloria Stocks, and Betsy Williams.

A George Washington theme was carried out in the decorations, honoring that President's birthday. The table was decorated with red, white and blue streamers, and tiny hatchets were used for place-cards. The service was by candlelight.

Guests included Dr. and Mrs. H. L. Stahnke and Dr. and Mrs. D. R. Van Petten.

Kirkpatrick Prexy Of Inter-Sorority

Members of the Inter-sorority Council elected new officers for the second semester at a meeting held last Monday at 4:30 p. m. in Dr. J. O. Grimes' office.

Faye Kirkpatrick was elected president, replacing Freda Alexander, and Imogene Allison was elected secretary.

The council decided, after reading the constitution, that students transferring from other colleges could be pledged, if their indices for the last two quarters were above a C average.

West Hall Patio Scene Of Picnic

Weary and tired from their hours of exertion, West Hall's thirty-five honor students finally ended their toil with the long promised steak fry which was to be held at the Tempe Butte last week, on Feb. 18.

Bedraggled but proud of their achievement, these girls at last arrived at the spot where the food was being dispensed . . . but it wasn't at the Tempe Butte! It wasn't even off the Arizona State campus. In fact it wasn't even off their home grounds. It was held in the West Hall patio and in spite of previous plans, not one complaint of the shortness of the hike was to be heard in all that area.

Confusion and chaos which reigned in the dormitories on this day made all hopes of the previous plans taking place scatter to the four winds, but despite moving, cleaning, and classes, the girls did justice to steak sandwiches and punch.

Alpha Plans New Semester Activities

Officers of East and Alpha Halls will meet with John "Bat" Allen, head resident of Alpha Hall, in his apartment at 9 p. m. Monday to discuss the hall's social program for the remainder of the school year.

Plans will be made for Alpha Hall's open house, which will take place in the near future.

Sympathy Extended To West Hall Girls

West Hall wishes to extend its deepest sympathies to Olive Wheeler, Gene Brown and Margaret Crismon who lost one of their parents during the past three weeks.

Rushees Honored At Kappa Kappa Party

Kappa Kappa Alpha sorority entertained its second semester rushees Monday evening with a picnic at Tempe butte. Rushees were Frances Montgomery, Helen Carter, Betty Garvin, Pat Hiscock, Dorothy Russel, Frances Kane, Earvaline Palmer, Wilma Swan, Connie Coleman, Mary Julia Hersey and Marie Pinckert.

The sorority held its formal initiation at 7 p. m. Sunday at the home of Betty Gail and Charlotte Lee Hancock, 1028 Ash ave.

A dozen midwest universities have been designated to train cooks and bakers for the navy.

Owen Porter And His Rustic Rhythms To Provide Old-Fashioned Dancing

Arizona State hep-cats and swingsters will have to change their styles as they hop into a schottisch or a virginia reel at the student body Barn Dance from 8:30 to 11:30 p. m. in the Moeur Activity building tonight.

Gammage Hall Queen Is Bride Tomorrow

Dorothy Johnson, recently crowned as Queen of Hearts of Gammage Hall and a senior at Arizona State, will be married to Elmer Yeoman of Glendale tomorrow at 8 p. m. in the Glendale Methodist Church.

Sarah Cowan, student at Arizona State, will attend Miss Johnson as maid of honor, while bridesmaids will be Charlotte Bauer, Katherine Fram, and Arlene Cook.

Wayne Yeoman, brother of the bridegroom, will serve as best man.

Miss Johnson is a member of Kappa Delta Pi, Pi Omega Pi, and Mu Rho Alpha at Arizona State. She graduated from Stephens College for Women in Columbia, Mo., in 1940.

Mr. Yeoman, former student at the University of Arizona, is leaving for medical school at the University of Pennsylvania at Philadelphia on Mar. 20. Following her graduation in May, Miss Johnson will join him there.

Enrollment at Arizona State increased 8 per cent. From 827 first semester students, enrollment jumped to 896. Among new registrants was Lola Ellsworth. "Collegian," Arizona State, Feb. 24, 1933.

Festivity will prevail as all students are expected to join in the mood of the evening and come dressed in levis, cowboy hats, and other appropriate attire. This is not a strictly "date" affair.

Music is being provided by Owen Porter and his Rustic Rhythms. Dancing will be definitely old-fashioned and gay. Hay and cornstalks will decorate the building.

Bill Ward, vice-president of the student body, is in charge of arrangements and has been assisted by Boyd Winterton and Bob Easley.

Pi Alpha Gamma Plans Initiation

Members and pledges of Pi Alpha Gamma held their regular meeting Monday night to discuss formal initiation plans. Committees appointed for arrangements are: decorations, Aleene Neely; refreshments, Katherine Bowen. Plans were also made to challenge the Chi Sigmas in basketball.

ASK THE RANGER FROM DIEPPE

"GOOD SHOW! WE LET THEM HAVE IT"

"NO, THANKS. HAVEN'T YOU GOT A COCA-COLA?"

"That actually happened. And things like that are happening everyday. Ever notice in your newspaper how often Coke is mentioned? Boys write home about it, too. They like the taste that sets Coca-Cola apart. They welcome that feel of refreshment. Coca-Cola must remind them of home a lot. It reminds you to refresh yourself."
