PETERSEN, BROCK TO REIGN AT HOMECOMING

OKAY DEN CHANGE BY POLICY BOARD

Glenn Supervises Job; Project Now Underway

Nearly $2000 in improvements to the Devil's Den, calculated, according to Art Hilsey, Den manager, to streamline counter service, raise food quality and variety, and add recreational space, was approved Monday by the policy board.

Included in the bill is construction of a concrete floor in the "patio" area between the Den and East hall which may be used for dancing, games or lounging.

Sid Glenn, as president, in announcing the board approval, made clear background reasons for the expenditure. "Dr. Gamme," said Glenn, "has recently signified starting of the projected permanent student union will be set back further than originally planned. Because the now considered temporary structure will have to last longer, it is felt that the money is well spent to increase the Den's utility. Most items are transferable equipment which can be used later in the permanent installation."

New kitchen and counter equipment, including a larger refrigerator, an additional sink, and a carbonator unit will be installed. These items, says Hilsey, will increase the variety of foods available, conform better with state sanitary regulations, and speed service.

Prominent in alteration plans is removal of the restricting rail near the Den counter and rearrangement of the cashier's desk to eliminate the condition of one single line for all counter service. This new set-up, Hilsey predicts, will allow customers to "sharpshoot" for coffee or cokes or other items without waiting for those wanting sandwiches or meals.

Because kitchen expansion is necessary to the new production line, the east room of the Den, hitherto used as a card room, will be reduced in size and contain only lounges. Card tables will be moved to the west wing of the building. Hilsey also announced the removal of KTYL's Steve's Campus class installations to make room for the changes.

With announcement of board approval of the new expenditures came a statement of Den profits from Sept. 12 to Oct. 20. Net gain amounted to $957.65. The report states outstanding bills are deductible from this figure.

Board action also approved maintenance of Den business hours as they are now, with the reservation that they would be altered if loss were incurred as a result of slack business during evening hours.

ASC Men Take Part In Search Three Navy Pilots Lost In Superstition

Members of the ASC civil air patrol took part in the search last week for three Navy pilots lost while on a cross country flight from El Paso, Texas, to Litchfield Naval Air station. The group was commanded by Wendell M. B. Hass.

There are some memberships in the college air patrol still open. ASC students are invited to join the group. Meetings are held every Thursday night at 7:30 p.m. in the Industrial Arts building (West stadium). Club flight instruction will be offered. All those interested in aeronautics will greatly benefit by being a member of the Civil Air Patrol, an auxiliary to the USAF.

The Naval fliers, whose bodies were brought down from the rugged Superstition mountain area Tuesday, took off from El Paso and were blown off their course by severe weather conditions. Civil air patrol squadrons throughout the state were called to duty to assist the Air Force air-sea rescue unit in the search.

The ASC squadron members who volunteered in this mission were Paul S. Bailey, pilot of a twin engine Cessna, with Barney Shimanowsky as co-pilot, and Raymond G. Johnson and Jack Trimmer, observers.

Welfare Fraternity Meets Last Night

At the first meeting of Phi Beta Tau, social welfare fraternity, held Thursday evening at 7:30 in Main 202, two students discussed choosing social work as a profession.

Dick L. Hart presented the problems of an undergraduate considering entering the field of social work and Sailes Hunt told how he came to choose social welfare as his major area of concentration at this college.

Students whose major study is social welfare attended the meeting. A business and social program for the 1949-50 calendar was planned and a nominating committee was appointed to choose new officers.

Dr. Bernadette Turner, associate professor of sociology, is adviser to the group.

Traditions Group Calls For Songs For Arizona State

Any student, member of the alumni or person interested in the college who can write lyrics, is invited to submit verses, appropriate for musical setting, for possible use as a school song or chant.

The Traditions committee is especially interested in an original Alma Mater to be included in the traditional ASC song group.

Lyrics may be submitted to Dik Worthen, chairman of the Traditions committee. Worthen's address is: Phi Sigma Kappa house, 827 Normal avenue, Tempe.

Start Preparations For Library Work

The removal of old periodicals which will be stored at Thunderbird field, has begun at Matthews library in anticipation of the remodeling and additions to be made in the near future.

The necessity for the removal is due to the extensive remodeling operations to be undertaken in converting both floors of the present structure into library space, as well as the addition of a new addition and stack to the rear of the existing structure.

Present plans call for the second floor to be divided into three reading rooms serving the social studies, the natural and applied sciences, and the humanities. A Best Books room for general browsing and loan facilities will be included where students will have access to the shelves. Library and staff lounge will also be on the second floor of which the kitchen will be available for various functions possible in the Best Books room. The ground floor will house the library administrative offices, the technical processing rooms for acquisitions and cataloging, the loan desk, a public lounge and toilets, a library science classroom, and three general service rooms for education materials, general reference, and current periodicals.

Staff photographer Dick Weston has taken many campus shots suitable for carrying out the Progress theme.

Gene Cottrell, assistant editor, has made and posted signs publicizing the annual. Bill Collins, business manager, is making arrangements for sales within the houses and halls.

Council Approves Awards For Sports Classified As Minor

Approval of awards for all minor sports entered in competition or the Intercollegiate Border conference, was made in the student council meeting held Wednesday at 4 p.m.

This recommendation will be sent to the Board of Athletic control to enable them to set standards for all minor sports.

The issue was brought to the council by Marlow Keith, tennis instructor, who felt the men in minor sports deserved some recognition for their efforts.

Tickets For Follies Are Now Available

Tickets are now on sale for the Gamma Phi Beta follies which will be presented next Thursday and Friday nights in the Lyceum building.

The gay atmosphere of the "Naughty Nineties" will prevail. Acts, however, will not be confined to that era, but will revolve favorite songs of the last fifty years. Numbers popular in each decade will be featured, from "Heaven Will Protect the Working Girl" to "Stardust." The program will include such nostalgic old favorites as "Three Little Fiddies," "How Ya' Gonna Keep 'em Down on the Farm," "Poor Butterfly" and a Charleston act.

Thursday night shows will be presented at 7, 8, and 9 p.m. for off-campus audiences. Tickets may be reserved by contacting Maxine West, Room 2, West hall.

Four shows are scheduled Friday night at 7:30, 8:45, 10:00, and 11:00 p.m. Tickets for that evening may be obtained from Miss West or from members of Gamma Phi Beta.

Progress Selected As Theme Work Underway For Mid-Century Book

Reports of progress made in publishing the 1950 Sahuaro, ASC annual, were made at a staff meeting held in the publications office Tuesday afternoon.

The Sahuaro photographers, McLaughlin and Company, Phoenix, are offering a radio-phonograph to some lucky student who has his picture taken for the yearbook. Pictures can be made in the lower lobby of the auditorium Monday through Saturday from ten to five.

Janie Massey, Sahuaro office manager, has contacted all heads and advisors of campus organizations to arrange for group photographs. If groups fail to select a date for picture-taking, the Sahuaro staff will choose a date for them. Miss Massey stated that very little time can be taken for shooting organization pictures this year and calls for cooperation from all groups concerned.

Editors Dik Worthen and Ben Pedrick announced that the theme of the annual will be Progress. The book will be a pictorial presentation of ASC progress in curriculum, enrollment, physical plant, etc.

Staff photographer Dick Weston has taken many campus shots suitable for carrying out the Progress theme.

Gene Cottrell, assistant editor, has made and posted signs publicizing the annual. Bill Collins, business manager, is making arrangements for sales within the houses and halls.

Men Outnumber In ASC Enrollment Veterans Notice

Women at ASC can still say no. According to the college's final tabulation of fall enrollment, men students outnumber women students two to one.

Last year this ratio was even greater.

Also to be noted was an increase of non-veterans, contrasting with the large number of GI students enrolled in the past four years.

Compared with 3,658 students of the 1948 fall term, the enrollment is not 4,417, according to Alfred Thomas, Jr., registrar.

Largest single class is the freshman with 1,312 students. There are 851 sophomores, 818 juniors, 754 seniors, and 360 graduate students on the campus this fall.

Enrolled in evening college classes in Phoenix are 112 undergraduates and 209 graduate students.

Beta Fraternity Recognized By IFC

An invitation to join the western region of the national Interfraternity council has been extended the local IFC, according to report made by IFC Secretary Harry Mehrens, Teke, at the monthly IFC meeting, held in Dean Trovillo's office, Tuesday afternoon.

The local IFC decided to invite correspondence relative to affiliation with the regional group. Application of Beta fraternity, local organization, was approved by the IFC to probationary status. Hal Pearl, Beta president, presented the petition.

A scholarship trophy to be kept in the house which ranks highest in index each year will be awarded this spring. Bob Stump, Tau Sig, and Bill Weipert, Delta Sig, were appointed to the awards committee.

Presiding at the meeting was Gene Burton, Lambdie, president of IFC. Dean Paul V. Trovillo is adviser to the group.

Miss Phyllis Brock and Jack Petersen, above, were victorious in the run-off election for Homecoming King and Queen Wednesday. They will reign over Homecoming festivities next week, and will be presented to the student body at the Wednesday night dance next week. (Staff Photo by Geo. Brown, Jr.)

ASC Magazine On Sale December 1 Changed Name, Price, Size

A new magazine, offspring of HELIOS, and, according to Bob Gay, editor, "too young for baptism," will appear on the campus Dec. 1. The publication will be lower in price, pocket size and consist of three issues for '49-'50, to be on the stands Dec. 1, March 1, and May 1.

"We believe a college magazine to be as necessary a part of the campus scene as a football team, a newspaper, and a place to go for cokes or coffee," says Gay, "and we intend to work very hard to meet college level tastes on one hand and provide an outlet for deserving and qualified literary talent not only of Arizona State college but also of other higher level institutions in the state and nation."

"Campus literary magazine history here, starting in 1941 under the banner HELIOS, has been persistent, outliving the mimeograph room to gain last year under the guidance of Larry Martin, '49, a dignified printed format and sponsorship by the Associated Students. Dropped last spring as an ASC publication, the new magazine will be an official project of the English department—a brand-new start."

Gay will be assisted editorially by Bob Reynolds and a staff to be announced later this week. He invites those interested editorially or as contributors to visit him in the magazine office in the Journalism division, new English hours to be posted.

JACK AND PHYLLIS TOP FIGURES IN WEEK'S ACTIVITIES

Wilson and Hall Win In Soph, Frosh Races

Final results of the election Wednesday places Phyllis Brock and Jack Petersen on the throne to reign over Homecoming activities next week.

Freshmen representative will be Bob Hall, who received 382 votes, while Norman Wilson received 249 votes to win the sophomore representative position.

Phyllis was born in Fairfield, Illinois, 20 years ago. She graduated from North Phoenix high in 1946 with high distinction. Attending Phoenix college for two years, she received many honors and held school positions. She was Homecoming queen in 1948 and queen of the National track meet in 1948, also holding the offices of secretary of the student body and secretary of AWS. When she graduated, Phyllis received the honor of becoming a member of Iota Sigma Alpha national honorary scholastic group.

She is a member of Beta Kappa chapter, Gamma Phi Beta, and a senior under the elementary curriculum. Phyllis is five feet four and one-half inches tall, weighs 118 pounds, has blue eyes and brown hair. Last year she was named Delta Sigma Phi sweetheart.

Jack Petersen was born in the Bronx, New York, 24 years ago but has lived in Phoenix for the past 12 years. He belongs to Tau Kappa Epsilon, Blue Key and is a letterman in track.

Majoring in P.E., his main interest is coaching, especially field and track.

Jack is six feet two inches tall, has blue eyes, weighs 190 pounds and likes to play the harmonica and sing harmony.

A very poor showing of people participating in the election was revealed by the fact that only 965 votes were cast for king and 952 for queen.

Mrs. Althea Krumboltz, wife of Dr. Krumboltz of the Science department, has been added to the staff of Mathews library as acquisitions librarian.

Mrs. Krumboltz is a graduate of the University of Chicago, where she received her degree of Ph. D. She received her degree of Bachelor of library science from the University of Chicago in 1948, and spent one year doing graduate study in English.

Mrs. Krumboltz was on the staff of the Oakland public library, Oakland, Calif., for one year and prior to coming to ASC was employed at the Phoenix Public library.

Frankie And Johnnie Were Doubles

Frank R. Rooney, 18, room 1, East hall, had a visitor the other day—but no one else in the hall knew about it.

Here is what happened according to Rooney:

He left the hall early one Saturday morning wearing a blue plaid shirt and levis. A few minutes later Rooney was seen wandering through the hall wearing a tan plaid shirt and levis.

Other occupants kidded him about changing clothes so often. They also talked about things for which Rooney professed ignorance.

"I don't know what you're talking about," he said.

Just then Rooney came walking in the front door. Everyone stared again, speechless. They were amazed at the sight before them.

There were two Rooneys, identical twins, one named Frank R., who is now a freshman at Arizona State, the other named John F. of the U. S. Navy.

John said concerning the occurrence: "Everyone was sure puzzled for a while but no more than I was trying to figure out what the boys were talking about. They talked about things familiar to Frank."

John has just completed training in boot camp at San Diego, Calif., and was on ten-day leave. He returned to camp last Tuesday evening. Arriving on campus a couple of weeks ago, John entered East hall to visit his brother and while Frank was out changed from his uniform to civilian clothes.

That is when the mix-up occurred.

The Rooneys are from Inspiration and graduated from Miami high school last spring. John plans to enroll at Arizona State next fall under a business administration course.

Frank is now a business administration student at the college, enrolling as a freshman this fall.

When John enlisted in the Navy last June he was the last one in the U. S. to sign up under the now discontinued one year enlistment plan for 18 year olds.

The identical twins are sons of Mr. and Mrs. V. L. Rooney of Inspiration. They were born in that town and have lived all their lives there prior to leaving for Arizona State and the Navy.

Asked what hobbies they enjoy, Frank replied he liked golf and tennis and intends trying out for the team at ASC while John said he likes boxing. John also was on the Miami football team for the four years in high school.

Lookin' Around

By ALAN EFROS.
 Open your eyes,
 Raise thy brow,
 And gaze upon the view;
 For you shall see,
 Before thy scope,
 A few things that are new.
 Five o'clock shadows in the form of fuzz and whiskers seem to be overhanging the campus. Mister "ASC" is making progress on that beard for the Homecoming celebration Nov. 5. It's getting so Tempe collegians are no longer just bewildered but "bewhiskered" as well.

Have you noticed that it is now possible to cross College avenue enroute to the library without fear of getting ditched. It seems the hazardous diggings have been covered over and except for a few obstructive road signs the pedestrian can cross the campus without detour.

Practice what you preach! A perplexed exasperated student drove (?) his auto through the circle drive in front of the English and Main buildings — pulled over toward the curb — parked (?) — grabbed his books and took off on the double in the direction of the auditorium. This individual in no uncertain terms had just finished an array of "cussin'" about narrow driveways, cars parked away from the curb, and etc. Yet, he had carelessly parked his automobile a good two feet from the curb; and on the wrong side of the street to boot. And undoubtedly some other drivers were using a little "back stage French" on him.

Consideration for the other driver may afford you a like consideration. Practice what you preach.

Students in the rejuvenated English building are no longer being kept in the dark! In fact, they are "beginning to see the light." The contractors have finally gotten around to wiring up the place.

Make Safety a habit.

Men Are Not Polar Bears

By DICK CHARNOCK
 Those scantily-clad men you saw running and playing on our springy athletic fields last week were not members of a "polar bear" club, but men becoming sturdy and strong under the guidance for our P. E. department.

As the mid-morning sun fluttered about with the rain-bows, many ASC men were doing calisthenics, running the track, playing football, and doing other things which help to build healthy bodies. Although the weather seemed for such activity, it was really very sensible. By braving the rigors of nature these men were becoming hardy individuals. The cool breezes which caressed their slightly shivering bodies helped strengthen their resistance to cold weather in addition to giving them color and pep (you noticed that nobody stood still). The occasional showers washed the dirt from their bodies and thus kept their pores clear to function properly. Some of the rain was a bit chilly, but that point has its merits too, since they were unable to become overheated and thus catch cold.

Along College Avenue Kings, Queens And Things

By BOB GAY

Jack Petersen is a Blue Key fraternity brother of ours, so it wouldn't be polite to show undue pride in his ascension to the Homecoming King throne, except to say it couldn't happen to a nicer guy, and he won against some very tough competition.

Homecoming Queen Phyllis Brock is NOT a fraternity brother of ours, although we have found ourselves wishing—well, no matter. Anyway, we knew she would win all along, even while aware Mary Beth is a mighty sweet gal with plenty backing. We were so sure Phyllis would win that one day after the primaries we walked right up to her in the CI (She was having a solo coffee, can you imagine?) introduced ourself, and started asking questions just as if we were getting material for the stint.

Found out she has had some experience being elected and chosen for things. Phyllis came to ASC from PC, where she was Homecoming Queen and Queen of the National Junior College Track Meet in '48. Last spring the Delta Sigs chose her their Sweetheart in the annual ceremony. One, probably, of the few things beyond reproach in their late lamented Follies.

Well, Phyllis, up close, besides having great big blue eyes and chestnut hair, checks out in Homecoming Queen type statistics at five feet four inches; 118 pounds. She's a Gamma Phi Beta, was born in Fairfield, Ill.; is a senior in elementary education, and went to North High and Phoenix College.

When we asked her about the rock she wears on the conventional finger, she told us his name is Jim Ellis. Jim was so-chairman of the Rodeo last year and a rider in that first ASC-sponsored intercollegiate show.

Yes sir, the P.E. department deserves a good hardy slap on the back for the fine work it is doing in instituting better health here at ASC. The vigorous Calisthenics program already shows remarkable results. Many men who thought themselves to be in good physical condition passed out after only 20 push-ups. Others developed sore leg muscles and respiration difficulties after running only eight laps around the track at top speed upon completing 15 minutes of other muscle exercises.

Naturally some of the chronic grippers complained of being worked a little too hard (solely because they couldn't walk after exercising), but that condition is found in every department.

We suggest the P.E. department furnish penicillin with its pneumonia in the future.

ASC has institutional membership in the American Council of Education.

Not Just a Dance, We Had a Party

And Whizzer White had the next dance with "Billie" Gosse-lin.

Imagine, if you can, Gil Trejo (and his neatly trimmed moustache) attired in earrings, a soft blue sweater, a yellow skirt, and a yellow bandana draped over his head. If this illusion proves difficult, then think of Joe Tassinari in a tight-fitting blue dress.

These, and many other oddities are not figments of a reporter's imagination, but actualities. Yesterday, in the gym, a Halloween party began with a rousing chorus of "A-hunting We Will Go." It was the annual affair of Coach Bill Kajikawa's playground leadership class.

The men of this class were dressed as elementary school boys and girls and played and sang the appropriate games and songs. The first song was followed by renditions of "Farmer in the Dell," and "London Bridges." After the singing, the men formed small groups and played such games as: musical chair, jump the shot, New York, and follow the leader.

Much enthusiasm was shown for the game called "New York." In this game the men formed two teams, facing each other. The point of the game is for the members of one team to guess what the members of the other team are pantomiming. Then the guessers try to catch the others before they can reach the boundary line. The game begins with this dialogue: "What's your trade? Lemonade."

Many chic costumes were seen at the party. Sam Duca wore a white, fuzzy sweater, a blue and white plaid skirt, and (as a crowning glory) a yellow handkerchief tied about his head. Hank Colona, not to be outdone, wore a red and yellow striped skirt with matching halter.

After the games, there was a short session of jitterbugging followed by bobbing for apples. Lollypops were given to all and enjoyed very much. (Sam Duca constantly had one in his mouth).

One of the highlights of the party was when "Miss Sammie Duca" took off "her" sweater displaying a hairy chest partially covered by feminine apparel. Naturally, everyone was shocked.

Lavik is Grandfather; Passes Out Nickels

Passing out nickels instead of cigars is a unique method of celebrating arrival of a new-born babe. Rudy Lavik, PE department head, who incidentally, is not the baby's father but is its grandfather, has distributed a considerable sum of nickels to the many students who come inbers to congratulate him.

Major Ed Wall, Harvard '40 - Flying Executive, U.S. Air Force!

Born in Newark, N. J., he moved to Boston at an early age, graduated from the public Latin high school in 1936, entered Harvard the same year, where he majored in economics and government.

"Active on the campus" — he played football, earned his letter on the boxing team. He worked part-time in a variety of jobs from bouncer to baby sitter, received his AB degree in 1940.

He enrolled in Harvard Law School, left at the beginning of the war to become an Aviation Cadet. In December, 1942, he won his pilot's wings, received a Reserve commission as Second Lieutenant.

Assigned to anti-sub patrol duty, he flew B-25's and B-17's before going overseas in 1944, where he flew 30 missions as a B-24 pilot. Shot down over Germany, he was a prisoner of war for 3 months.

Back in the States with his English wife, he earned his Regular commission. Then he returned to Harvard under the Air Force college training program, receiving his LLB degree in 1949.

Now, he is confident about his future and security. As a pilot and legal officer of Bolling Air Force Base, D. C., Major Ed Wall is a typical U. S. Air Force flying executive . . . with a challenging career.

If you are single, between the ages of 20 and 26½, with at least two years of college, consider a flying career as an officer in the U. S. Air Force. You may be able to meet the high physical and moral requirements and be selected for training as an Aviation Cadet. If you do not complete Aviation Cadet training, you may return to civilian life or have opportunity to train at Officer Candidate School for an important officer assignment in non-flying fields.

Air Force officer procurement teams are visiting many colleges and universities to explain these career opportunities. Watch for their arrival—or get full details at your nearest Air Force Base, local recruiting station, or by writing to the Chief of Staff, U. S. Air Force, Attention: Aviation Cadet Branch, Washington 25, D. C.

They were assigned to the upper Verde Valley and the mountain range to the right of the valley, where they spent more than two hours flying over extremely dangerous and rugged terrain in search of the ill-fated fliers. The ASC fliers had to fly at very low levels to enable them to see into the canyon's crevices, and leave no spot visually unchecked. Part of their flight carried them into areas where snow made it difficult to see.

SUN DEVIL, UNM BATTLE LOOMS AS TOSS-UP

Staters Seek Second Conference Win Against Lobos Saturday Afternoon

The Sun Devils left by train last night for Albuquerque, where they will clash with the University of New Mexico Lobos, Saturday afternoon.

The offensive minded Demons, led by their touchdown twins, Whizzer White and Hank Rich, expect a busy afternoon as the Lobos will be up for their homecoming. Also the Lobos will be out to avenge losses to the Sun Devils the last two years.

The victory starved New Mexico eleven will provide a tough obstacle for Coach Ed Doherty's high scoring crew, as they have become hardened by playing some tough teams, including Rice.

By comparison of scores with Hardin-Simmons, the Devils will rule as a one touchdown favorite. The Cowboys licked the Devils 34-13 and the Lobos 34-7.

UNM has some good backs in Co-Captain Joe Stell, Jerry McKown, Manny Morales and Chuck Hill. These will be the boys Tempe will have to stop if they expect to come home with a victory.

With Charlie Beall nearly recovered from injuries, the only casualty in the Devils' camp is John Zucco, offensive guard. Zucco was hobbling around on crutches early this week and it is doubtful if he will see action Saturday.

Coach Doherty has been experimenting with his defensive teams and has decided to start sophomore Keith Cunville, a transplanted end, at one of the defensive tackle posts.

The Devils' starting offensive team will have Ripple and Hugoboom at the wings; Schmidt and Treguboff at tackles; Zucco and Tassinari at guards; Gosselin at center; Coleman at quarterback; White and Aja at the halves; and either Rich or Markichevich at fullback.

WAA Plans Hayrack Ride For Next Month

The Women's Athletic association invites all women students to a Hayrack-Marshmallow roast at Papago park on Thursday, November 17. The hayrack will leave from the Activity building at 7 p. m. and return to the campus by 9 p. m. Entertainment will be provided and the outing is free of charge. Women are requested to sign up either at their residence halls or the Activity building.

Side Lites

By BILL LANDIS

The Sun Devils trek to Albuquerque this weekend to tackle the New Mexico Lobos in a battle that appears to be a toss up. The Lobos have an unimpressive worst record this season but they have been stepping out of their class. Last week they held the vaunted Texas Western Miners to a 7-0 victory.

Albuquerque fans will certainly remember Whizzer White. In 1947 when the Demons defeated the Lobos 25-12, White ran up and down Zimmerman field as if he owned the place. If our memory serves us right, the jet propelled Whizzer made touchdown runs of 85, 77, and 25 yards.

There were few that figured the Sun Imps had much chance of upsetting the Wildkittens, but no one dreamed the university yearlings could nearly break 100 points. All we can say is that this spring, the responsible parties should get on the ball and get some of the top high school talent before our friends from the south grab all the prep prizes.

Intramural basketball wound up its third week of play yesterday and from all indications, the team to beat for the championship is the Orphans of the National league. They have won all their games by top heavy scores. They are led by several high school stars of last year, namely: Roy Coninger and Lester Dean of Tempe; Lionel Goar, Ajo; and Melvin O'Dell of Duncan.

WEEKLY SPORTS FEATURE
Several of this week's top college football games are renewals of old time rivalries, which should result in hard fought games.

Sun Devils vs. New Mexico . . . Lobos showed vast improvement, last week, but Demons' offensive power should turn the tide in their favor . . . The Devils by seven points.

Texas Western vs. Hardin-Simmons . . . This one should be a corker with the conference title hanging in the balance. We're taking . . . Texas Western by six.

South-west: Texas vs. Southern Methodist . . . This one could very well be decided by a fumble or the bounce of the football.

We're stringing with the fighting Mustangs . . . S. M. U. by 6.
