Schulze Family Donates Painting To Arizona State

A large oil painting has been donated to the Arizona State collection of American art by Victor H. Schulze, of Phoenix, Paul Schulze Jr., Chicago, and Helen Schulze Burch, Fort Lauderdale, Florida.

The painting depicts, on canvas, "Harvest Time In Holland," by artist John Rettig.

...PAULA R. KLOSTER, Arizona State professor of Art and curator of the collection, said the eight by sixteen-foot painting depicts a Dutch scene showing wheat fields at harvest time with peasants harvesting the grain, a city in the distance and a canal in the foreground with a barge loaded with grain being pulled along the canal.

According to Victor Schulze, the painting "for many years belonged to our father, Paul, and hung in the offices of the Schulze Baking Company in Chicago." It was originally painted by John Rettig for the original owner of the company and has remained there until its recent shipment to Arizona.

COMPUTER TOURS . . . Started last Monday was a series of conducted tours of the Arizona State Computer Center. Pictured is Mrs. Monty Perkins, visitor relations co-ordinator, who will conduct the tours.

Music Furnished By Clam Bakers

The Clam Bakers Orchestra will play at a dance in the Memorial Union Ballroom immediately following the movie at 8 p.m., Monday evening, June 24. Theme for the dance is "Summer" and it is sponsored by the summer session Social Committee of the Memorial Union.

Rodeo Awards Won By Pair

Two Arizona State students, members of the Rodeo Club, walked off with awards at the recent National Inter-collegiate Rodeo Association meeting in Colorado Springs, Colorado.

Jon Nickerson was runner-up All Around Cowboy at the meeting.

KENNETH ADAMS won first place in the bull riding event.

Competition was against national entrants and represents some of the best rodeo talent in the world.

Dancing will be on the Starlight Terrace of the ballroom and will last from 9:30 till about 11 p.m.

A LATE night has been obtained for all girls residing in the dorms, according to Mrs. Cecelia Scoular, director of the Memorial Union.

Appropriate dress for the dance will be informal wear.

All summer session students and faculty are invited to attend the dance. Admission is free and free punch will be served to all.

THE ORCHESTRA for the occasion is the Clam Bakers. They have played in many nice spots throughout the Valley, including such places as the Concho Room of the Westward Ho Hotel.

The name of the movie preceding the dance has not been named as yet. Everyone is invited to attend the movie first and then go to the dance.

When asked if there would be more of these dances during the summer session, Mrs. Scoular answered, "We will have more of them if we get requests for them. We are going to wait to see how this first one turns out."

"WE ARE hoping to provide a program in the Memorial Union which will be of interest to all groups," says Mrs. Scoular. "It is the plan of the summer session Social Committee that the dance will serve as a get-acquainted meeting for summer session students."

Quartet Set For Concert

The Gateway Singers, a quartet known for their unique treatment of old and traditional folk songs, will appear in the Memorial Union Ballroom, Thursday, June 27 at 8 p.m.

Their music has been described as "an old song in a modern musical setting, with the drive and beat of present day jazz added to it."

THE SINGERS, whose concert includes everything from a Texas prison song to a dance song from Mexico, accompany themselves with a bass, guitar and banjo.

Variety magazine said of them, "The Gateways articulate every word and it's impossible to miss them. Their woman singer has a full, deep throated voice that makes the mike superfluous and they are obviously perfectionists."

HERE THURSDAY . . . The Gateway Singers, a San Francisco based quartet known for their unique and original handling of old folk songs, are scheduled to appear at Memorial Union Ballroom on Thursday, June 27. The concert is part of the summer concert series and is free to all students.
